ROME, May 15.—Reconstruction of the entire economic system by "bringing it back to the requirements of social justice so as to insure more equitable distribution of the united proceeds of capital and labor" is urged in an encyclical letter issued today by Pope Pius XI.

Only a resume of the text was made public. The text will be given out in 10 days. The Pope in his radio address to workmen today referred to the resume, but did not read it as he had intended.

The letter bears the title "Quadragesimo Anno" (In the 40th Year), and carries still further the encyclical return promulgated 40 years ago by Pope Leo XIII. Pope Pius gives as his reason for the encyclical that he "will trace for the church and the world at large an ample program which will enable the supreme liberalism of the church and the world to be brought into the foreground and to be made effective before the eyes of the world."

TOSCANINI PUMMELED, DRIVEN FROM BOLOGNAOrchestra Leader Attacked by Fascists for Refusing to Play Their Anthem.

By the Associated Press.

BOLOGNA, Italy, May 15.—Arturo Toscanini, conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, at the order of Fascist authorities left Bologna today for Milan.

He was attacked, struck in the face and badly pummeled last night when he refused to open a concert with the Fascist anthem, "Gloria.".

When Toscanini arrived at the stage door of the theater a group of Fascists requested that he play the anthem because Count Ciano, Under-secretary in the Ministry of the Interior and father-in-law of Premier Mussolini's daughter, was in the audience.

Toscanini refused, as he had done before, on the ground that the composition is not "good music." The delegation demanded that he reconsider his refusal and when he would not one of them struck him and forced him to return to his hotel. The concert was canceled.

A large group of Fascists marched through the streets to the hotel where they made a demonstration of protest and Commendatore Mario Ghiselli, Federal Fascist Secretary of the Province, talked with Mrs. Toscanini, then ordered the conductor to leave the city.

It is neither obligatory nor customary in Italy to play the Fascist anthem or the Royal March at a concert or opera unless a member of the royal family is present. It is recalled, however, that when the Queen and Princess Giovanna Maria attended the first concert in Rome by the New York orchestra, Toscanini aroused much comment by not playing the Royal March.

Among those demanding that the anthem be played was Leandro Arpinati, an under secretary in the Cabinet, and it was reported that the man who struck the conductor wore a Fascist button.

Toscanini Sailed From New York for Italy April 24.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Toscanini sailed for a visit to his home in Italy April 24, a week after the close of the New York concert season.

His voyage caused a postponement of the Pacific Coast trip of his New York orchestra.

He is said to have been the highest paid conductor in this country, receiving $50,000 for 40 concerts.

They were in an upright position, indicating that he left them on purpose because they were of no further use to him.

MISS VAN ALLEN WEDS
PRINCE ALEXIS MDIVANIU. S. Heiress' Husband, on Marriage License, Lists His Occupation as 'Gentleman.'

By the Associated Press.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 15.—Miss Louise Astor Van Allen of Newport and Prince Alexis Z. Mdivani of Georgia were married at Wakehurst, the bride's Newport home, today.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stanley Carnahan, rector of Old Trinity Church. It was one of the simplest society weddings held in Newport in many months. Neither the bride nor the bridegroom was attended. Fewer than a dozen persons, all members of the bride's immediate family, witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a brown traveling costume. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and bridegroom went to New York, to board the steamship Ile de France. They will make their home in Paris.

The bride, a direct descendant of John Jacob Astor, is the daughter of Mrs. James Laurens Van Allen and granddaughter of the late James J. Van Allen, once United States Ambassador to Italy.

Prince Mdivani, who is 23 years old, is the son of Zakhar Mdivani, who was an aid at the court of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia. The prince is the brother-in-law of Miss Murray, screen actress, whose husband is David Mdivani. A second brother, Prince Sergei Mdivani, is the divorced husband of Pola Negri and is now married to Mary McCormick, the Chicago opera star.

In applying for a marriage license, Prince Alexis listed his occupation as "Gentleman."

SENATOR REED WANTS ARMY

Scott Field "About Most Useless Thing I Can Think of."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Chairman Reed of the Senate Military Affairs Committee said at the White House today that in his opinion President Hoover will receive the full support of the country in affecting economies in the War Department.

The Pennsylvania Republican said his call on the President did not deal with the conference held at the President's Rapidan camp last week-end with War Department officials. After that conference it was announced that plans had been made to effect "real economies" in the department.

Reed said concentration of troops in a few Army posts and the abandonment of a large number of obsolete and useless posts was the backbone of the economy program.

"I would add to it," he said, "the taking of the Army out of the balloon business. We are spending about $2,000,000 a year at Scott Field, Ill., making balloons—the most useless thing I can think of."

'HARVARD'S AIM

cusses Purpose of Education and Calls Culture
"Attitude of Mind."COSTIGAN LINKS

A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, defined the university's aim in his talk before the Associated Harvard Clubs, at their dinner last night at Hotel Statler.

"We are trying to give men the power of thinking clearly for themselves," President Lowell said.

"That doesn't mean that they all think the same. If I found that we were turning out men, all thinking right, I would regret it, for that would mean that they were thinking what we thought was right."

All think for themselves, he will differ, and some will approximate the truth. The important thing is to turn out men trained to grapple with all matters, and they will be correct in those matters which do not involve the emotions."

President Lowell was the last of four speakers at the dinner. Two Harvard deans, Dean H. E. Clifford of the Engineering School and acting Dean Calvin Magruder of the Law School, spoke on their branches of graduate study. Edward P. Costigan United States Senator-elect from Colorado, in a one-hour address, carried on the political-economic discussion in which another newly elected Senator, Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, took part at the luncheon a few hours before.

The "Historian's Tale," President Lowell related, "studied human society in the attempt to arrive at some principle of government. At the end of 20 years' study, he said, he had found only one principle, namely, that human society is a vast and complicated thing."

"The university is a vast and complicated thing. Nobody can hold all knowledge, but we need technical education. Our people formerly tended to be jack-of-all-trades, and when we became industrialized we felt acutely the need for technical education. I think I can see that this has been carried too far. We need integrating experience, and men who can see more than their own jobs. Up to the end of the nineteenth century, the world went on subdividing knowledge into small compartments. Now we are beginning to see all the special subjects, such as chemistry, sociology, botany, as parts of the great study of physiology, dealing with the functions of all living tissue."

"Everything is running into everything else. Nobody can hold all knowledge, but we need a broad training that will enable a man to see what the specialist means, and to know how to use what the specialist brings him."

"Culture is not a body of knowledge; it is an attitude of mind."

Dr. Lowell then told of the endeavor to train men to think, and as an example of practical thinking, on a subject not involving emotion, he spoke of the work done jointly by the Harvard Medical School and Business School in the study of fatigue. This work of research, he said, is reaching some remarkable results.

"Any result which is rapidly reached and universally applied is likely to be worthless, or merely superficial," Dr. Lowell said.

"When President Eliot got Dean Langdell to head the Law School, he adopted methods not accepted elsewhere, and it was about 20 years before the school showed much growth. I hope that the changes which Dean Clifford plans in the Engineering School will not produce great visible results for 20 years, or they will not be worth doing."

"What difference does it make whether we reach a result in 20 years? How long is Harvard going to exist? Tell me that, and I'll tell you what difference 20 years make."

As if in answer to the last question, the audience rose and sang "Fair Harvard," which gives assurance that the institution will continue "till the stock of the Puritans die."

Johnnie Paladin, 17-year-old amateur boxer, winner of the first preliminary in a benefit program at Battery A Armory last night, died early today at his home, 2340 Hickory street, of hemorrhage of the brain, caused apparently by a blow in the ring.

The program was run for the family of Bill Kardinski, Belleville amateur, who died under similar circumstances following a blow on the chin in a training bout, April 21. Paladin's death leaves his mother and five younger children in straitened circumstances, his father being an invalid.

The cause of death was determined at a Coroner's autopsy today. In the case of Kardinski, who died at Belleville, after being unconscious two days, death was attributed to hemorrhage resulting from concussion of the brain.

Third Appearance in Ring.

The bout was Paladin's third appearance in the ring and his first victory. Representing the Croatan Athletic Club, he was matched against Jack Richards, a Belleville youth, representing the Lowell Athletic Club, both 135 pounds.

Before an audience of about 300 men, the two youths hammered each other through the customary three rounds. Undetermined as to which was the victor, the judges permitted a fourth round and conceded the bout to Paladin.

His prize was a certificate for $10 worth of merchandise.

In the dressing room, Paladin became ill, a condition which was dismissed with the usual explanation, "too much dinner."

At 10:50 p. m., he left the Armory, 1221 South Grand boulevard, with his friend, Paul Hughes, 2223 Hickory street, and walked home.

PUT ON 400 PLAYS

Mrs. Leslie Carter, Reconciled After 20-Year Estrangement, Says She Is Heartbroken.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Notables of the theater today paid tribute to the late Elasco, noted producer, stage director and developer of stars, who died here yesterday of heart disease in his seventy-seventy-seventh year.

"I shall retire when I am carried," he had said on his seventy-fifth birthday. He never retired.

"I am fighting for my life," he said as his daughter Reina, who was his only child, went to his bedroom in Hotel Gladstone a moment before the end yesterday, but true to stage tradition, his latest play, "Tonight or Never," went on as usual last night.

Only a Few Hours.

Elasco was stricken only a few hours before his death. He had apparently recovered from pneumonia which had kept him abed

several months last winter. Earlier in the year he had reserved eight tickets for the fights tonight in Madison Square Garden. Sunday

he went motoring. Tuesday night he fell ill, but refused to let his doctor call. At 3 a. m. yesterday the doctor was called

Walker Tells Mayors He

ENVIES THEIR TRIP TO PARIS

Jokingly Reminds Them He May

Spend Summer in Witness

Chair.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Mayor

James J. Walker told 21 other

American Mayors today that he envied their forthcoming trip to attend the French Colonial Exposition as guests of the City of Paris. Jokingly, he declared someone had mentioned the possibility of his spending the summer in the witness chair in connection with the legislative investigation of New York City.

"I hope it isn't so," he said, "because it would make me think of you over there where you will not have to swear where you have been or what you have done, while

I here, in obedience to my oath, which I respect, will have to tell the truth."

The Mayor extended the city's official welcome to the visitors, including Mayor Miller of St. Louis, who said tonight on the Ile de

France. Mayor George L. Baker

of Portland, Ore., acting as spokesman, asked and obtained Walker's permission to call him "Jimmy."

"We appreciate your problems and are for you," said Mayor Baker. "The American people like you, Jimmy, very much and wish you well at all times."

POPE BROADCASTS
RESUME OF LETTER
ON ECONOMIC ILLS

It is not possible to be at once a good Catholic and a true Socialist."

He concludes that the root of the present economic situation lies in the fact that men "fix their eyes on earthly goods without heed for God and eternal things."

The encyclical closes in a note of rejoicing that so many of the clergy and laity, filled with the spirit of Catholic action, are laboring in the various countries. "The church does not fear for herself," he writes, "but for so many of her sons, so many souls, who would be lost."

Speaks in Three Languages.

Speaking in Italian, French and German, the Pope addressed 10,000 workmen in the courtyard of San Damasco, exhorting them to industrial concord and union. The address was broadcast throughout the world.

Three words, he said, constituted his theme. They were, prayer, action and sacrifice.

These three, he said, before an initiative of good, individual or collective, can bear fruit.

This was the Pope's first important radio speech in the vernacular. His address on the occasion of the inauguration of the Vatican City station last February was delivered in Latin.

The Pope exalted work saying that the happy habit of work multiplied the power for work and the noble and holy satisfaction accompanying work made it more desirable.

The Pontiff said the spirit of sacrifice was needed also as especially discipline embodying submission to legitimate authority.

Many Faint in Crowd.

As the Pontiff continued his talk which lasted more than an hour, a number of persons in the closely packed square fainted.

The address, translated by the Associated Press as the Pontiff spoke, was in part, as follows:

"You are welcome beloved children, to whom the powerful voice of our immortal predecessor, Leo XIII almost re-echoing in eternal splendor has called together in the house of the common Father. You are twice and thrice welcome while from so many countries far and near you bring us so worthy a representation of the workers of the whole world. You bring us a representative actuated by that happy concord and union of workers and givers of work, of directors and workmen which is necessary for the advantage of everyone."

"Having been able to speak in three languages, we would like to be able to speak in others also, especially to our dear Father, but since we have already spoken in Italian, French and German, largely understood also by the other national groups, and having said the same thing in them we will continue in this manner."

"Moreover, while some are listening, the others can read what we are saying in the booklets published for this purpose. The booklets, as you have been able to see, announce our encyclical, quadragesimo anno, which will appear shortly as a comment on the rerum novarum of Leo XIII."

"It is already in the press and will be published within a few days."

To Strike Medals.

"We have thought to make this a memorial and a reminder of the encyclical of Leo XIII. This we have done in our new encyclical, and in memory of this we shall give to each a small medal depicting the subject of our two encyclicals and their author."

"We have promised to give you something very short and which can be put into three words all the eloquence of the Rerum Novarum and of the Quadragesimo Anno, for whatever the Catholic program or Catholic direction, individual or social."

"Here are the three words—prayer, action, sacrifice."

"They are few words, but full of significance."

"These are the spiritual words of the Catholic activities—words which also shine forth on so many of your beautiful banners—glorious, reverent words; words which we have judged righteous and honorable for people of great kind; words which signify on these flags your faith, your ardor and your action, and are emblems of your sacrifice, you who are the successors of past people; you, my beloved children."

"Prayer, Action, Sacrifice."

"Prayer, action and sacrifice. Prayer, in the first place—prayer—the most essential condition of all because without me you are able to do nothing! Prayer is the expression of the greatest faith which helps us to make easy the apostolate. But above all it is that which Jesus calls the one most necessary thing for the Kingdom of God is within you. Prayer, the first and essential condition of all truthful apostolate prayer which arms and prepares us with Divine aid."

"Action is the next thing both in the domestic circle and in social circles—action both private and public; both in foundation and organization; action of charity and of justice and of the peace of Christ among the classes, the people, and the apostolate, of edification, of prayer, of the written word, and of the spoken word."

"The individual apostolate, above all social, has a greater field in which to work, so great are the needs of the present day that call for help."

"The Church of Christ through divine command always well doing has given the example everywhere and through all ages. Everywhere has it preached holiness and the morality of almighty God, and it has always besought the co-operation of all its sons."

"What is even more necessary than action is sacrifice, perseverance."

ence, method, and discipline in your work, which demand the submission of your personal ideas, and also demand your co-ordination and your subordination as workers.

"These imply struggles, difficult, dangerous struggles which require intelligence and perseverance and obedience, and these will lead you to a final divine victory.

Two Encyclicals.
"Prayer, action and sacrifice. This is what we recommend, what the encyclical Reform Novarum has laid down, and what our encyclical now promulgates anew in order to continue and follow in the path of our predecessor's encyclical.

"Prayer, action and sacrifice. There is the need of this forthright year to continue and to enlarge the plan laid down by the encyclical Reform Novarum.

"Prayer, action and sacrifice, there is what Holy Mother Church demands of those who labor with her in the vineyard of the gospel and in the divine work of the apostolate.

"Prayer, individual, domestic, public and social, particularly social.

"Prayer, action and sacrifice, there is what is necessary for you, the children of our predestination. That is what you need, you, the workers; you, the financiers; you who finance all industry, labor in justice and charity, in fraternity and in peaceful co-operation; in the practice of all virtues, in the respect of all rights and values, and particularly moral values, toward the weak and the humble, above all toward the weak.

"May the Holy Spirit descend upon you and upon your brothers and sisters in labor and also upon those who give you employment, and upon those who lead to you work the responsibility and intelligence of their management.

"May my blessing descend upon all of you!"

The Pontiff imparted his apostolic blessing.

Thousands of Pilgrims.

An hour and a half before Pope Pius was to make his address, St. Peter's Square and the avenues leading to San Damaso courtyard within the Vatican, were filled with thousands of pilgrims from all corners of the world.

Gaily colored flags bearing names printed in 20 languages as well as picturesque national costumes testified to the diversity of the gathering. Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops mingled with workmen's delegations.

At one end of the courtyard stood a high platform hung with red velvet and damask and holding a canopy under which was a gilded throne chair. Shortly after 4 o'clock the throng began to be admitted. They were able to approach within a few yards of the Pontiff's and Bishops' chairs where a cloth-hung railing stopped them. The deep Italian blue sky roofed over the courtyard. The sun was out in full but within the court it was shady.

John J. Raskob Present.

The band began to play at 5 o'clock and in the intervals between its numbers the pilgrims made the old Vatican palace ring with cries of "Viva il papa." Twenty-five Cardinals were present half an hour before the Pontiff was due.

Americans at posts of honor included John J. Raskob and his daughter, Elizabeth; Dr. Raymond Sullivan of New York; Father Fortier of Fordham University; Father Husslein, an editor, and Monsignors Kiley and Breslin of the American College in Rome. The charge d'affaires of the Spanish Embassy was present.

The Pontiff arrived a little before 5:30 and was acclaimed by a fanfare of trumpets. The Cardinals escorted him to the throne chair, then took seats in a large semicircle on both sides. Bishop Edwin V. O'Hara of Great Falls, Mont., sat in front.

The Pope celebrated mass in the morning at St. Peter's in the presence of nearly 20,000 persons, half of whom were Catholic worker pilgrims. They shouted and cheered, "Long live Pius XI!" as he was borne on the papal throne on the shoulders of red costumed footmen up an aisle to the high altar where he said mass. (The textual resume will be found on page 1, part three.)

Man Had List in Hotel Room: Says He Wanted Employees for Amusement Park.

Investigating a complaint that a man registered at the Missouri Hotel was demanding a $10 deposit of young women who applied for jobs as entertainers at a St. Joseph (Mo.) amusement park in response to an advertisement, police yesterday arrested him for investigation. A list of applicants was found in his room and they will be questioned to determine if it is true he paid the money, represented as an evidence of good faith.

The man arrested said he met an acquaintance who asked him to obtain the services of several young women for the park. He said the man he had agreed to help had left St. Louis.

Order on New Texas Railroad.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Authorization for the Fort Worth & Denver Northern Railway to proceed alone with construction of a line from Shamrock, Tex., to a point near Wellington, was given today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf Railway would have an option, however, to acquire a half interest in the newly constructed line for four months from the date of completion.

Barbers Want Razor Blades Taxed. FRANKFORT—ON THE ODE, Germany, May 15.—A tax on razor blades, to check the increasing number of those who do their own shaving and to add to Government income, was suggested at the annual meeting of barbers here. It was figured a tax of about 1 1/2 cents on every razor blade sold in Germany would give the treasury $7,400,000 a year.

BAPTISTS FAVOR WORLD PEACE
Convention Indorses Hoover's Efforts to Reduce Armaments.
By the Associated Press.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 15.—The Southern Baptist convention went on record yesterday as endorsing a world peace program and adopted resolutions commending President Hoover's efforts for law observance and enforcement and reduction of naval and land armaments.

The convention's attitude was expressed in a resolution introduced by Dr. J. A. Barton, Wilmington, N. C., chairman of the Social Service Board, which was unanimously adopted.

Tells of Eight-Hour Fight With Two-Ton Devil Fish

T. M. Pierce Jr., Back Home From Florida and Bermuda With Wahoo Added to Piscatorial Conquests.

Thomas M. Pierce Jr., 21 Vandeventer place, is back from four months in Florida and the Bahamas with some fish stories that have his friends clutching the edge of their chairs.
Take that two-ton devil fish, for example. Or better, take that 59-pound wahoo.
"Wahoo?" shout his friends incredulously, and nearly fall off the chairs. But one of them consulted the dictionary to find that there really was such a fish as a wahoo no less a personage, in fact, than the scaphocoryphus solandri!

"That's no joke," says Pierce. "A wahoo is one of the gamest fish there is. The biggest ever caught in the Bahamas was 62 pounds, and mine, the next biggest, weighed 59 pounds dry. It had probably lost four or five pounds."

That wasn't his first fishing exploit. Two years ago, as published then in the Post-Dispatch, he caught three sailfin in one day in the Gulf Stream, a year's record. It was an all-time record, at Miami Beach. This despite the handicap of paralysis of the legs caused by the lodging of a bullet in his spine in a hunting accident 17 years ago. Since then he has set an extraordinary scholastic record at Washington University, and, as an industrial chemist, patented a process and a formula which were sold to internationally known concerns.

And he returned from the Bahamas with his mind busy on another innovation—a sort of explosive hook for killing big sharks.

"Fishing With Run Runners," "Bimini is a great place for run runners," he remarked. "Last January, when I went down to Miami, I used to fly over there for a day's fishing with them. Hardest lot of men in the world, but interesting. Nice to me, too. Lifted me around like brothers."

At Miami he met Bruce Bethel, English owner of Deep Sea Cay in the Bahamas, and went for a fishing cruise on Bethel's yacht, from which he did not return to St. Louis until last week.

"We were trolling fast for the wahoo, with about an 18-inch bait cut from barracuda, on about 150 feet of line," he related. "The fish started from about 100 feet to one side, struck and kept right on going for a good 400 feet. We turned and ran with him. I had a 150-foot line, and tightened the drag on my reel, but then he took out fully two-thirds of it."

"It took about 45 minutes to land him. I've caught black marlin—a ringed swordfish—six times that weight, but pound for pound, the wahoo put up a better fight."

"A two-ton octopus sounds like another fight," suggested a listener. "That wasn't an octopus," said Pierce. "It was a devil fish—a big ray with fins like bat wings. The captain handling the boat for me said it was the biggest seen around the Florida keys. It looked 20 feet across the back. Further recourse to the dictionary confirmed that devil fish were known to reach dimensions of 20 by 12."

"He was lying at the surface, sunning himself in clear water not more than 100 feet deep. We eased up close to him. The captain sank one of our harpoons, and at the same time I cut loose with an automatic high-powered rifle. The devil fish took out with the harpoon, which was attached to a wooden bucket float on 500 feet of strong rope, and we followed at about 20 miles an hour."

"The big ray stopped right on a reef, and we got close enough for the Captain to throw the other harpoon. Then he threw a spear. And I kept right on shooting. That fish got right up at the top of the water and shook himself like a dog. One harpoon bent like a lady's hairpin."

"It took out for deep water, and we thought we'd lost it. At length, however, we saw the bucket bob up again, and we struggled for hours to get the devil fish out where we could make a photograph, but it was too big, and we had to leave it there in shallow water for the sharks. It fed them for days."

"As we pulled away from it we remembered the time. It was 11 o'clock. We had sighted the devil fish at 3 in the afternoon."

FOREIGN TRADE COUNCIL TO TAKE UP THE TARIFF
Will Discuss Politically Controversial Question for the First Time.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 15.—For the first time in its history the National Foreign Trade Council, hitherto definitely opposed to discussion of questions that might be politically controversial, has made tariff the subject of one entire afternoon of formal discussion at its convention here on May 27, 28 and 29.

O. K. Davis, secretary of the council, says that while the volume of American exports has fallen off by only about 15 per cent since the beginning of 1930, manufacturing production has diminished in that period by more than 25 per cent. This means, Davis says, that the proportion of United States sales abroad is now close to 12 per cent of production, compared with the average of about 8 per cent for the three years previous.

Foreign traders hold that the maintenance and development of export and import business forms the "back log of American progress," that its stimulation provides the quickest and most satisfactory outlet for the potential production of America's factories.

PROHIBITION AS SCREEN

State Senator Titus Warns Associated Industries Against Letting It Dominate.

Disaster will result if the moral issue of prohibition becomes dominant in the next presidential campaign to the exclusion of purely economic problems. State Senator Cliff Titus, pastor of the Community Church of Joplin, Mo., predicted last night at the twelfth annual dinner of the Associated Industries of Missouri at Hotel Jefferson.

"There is a tendency to raise so-called moral issues as smoke-screens whenever attempts are made to reduce State and Federal expenditures," Titus said, in urging consolidation of Governmental bureaus and departments for the sake of economy. "Whilst I believe in prohibition personally, I am perfectly willing to have the question submitted to popular vote and I do believe that the sooner we realize that there are more important issues the better it will be for all of us."

Attributing the depression, in part at least, to the World War, Titus urged the business men and Legislators present to consider Government in terms of business and to engage in "creative thinking" to prevent its recurrence. Conrad Mann of Kansas City was re-elected president for his fifth term. He declared that the Associated Industries, which he said was organized not solely in the interests of industrialists but to promote the general welfare, had never opposed reasonable increases in taxes but did disapprove collection of sums greater than were necessary to carry out the recommendations of the State Survey Commission.

It is the duty of large cities to aid rural communities in providing adequate educational facilities, he asserted, in commending the tax measures passed by the Legislature.

Other officers were elected as follows: E. J. Miller, St. Louis, and George E. McIntosh, St. Joseph, vice presidents; R. H. Switzer, St. Louis, treasurer; Elmer Donnell, St. Louis, executive vice president. Thirteen new directors were elected, including seven from St. Louis. The meeting was attended by about 500 persons, including a

OPTIONAL MILITARY TRAINING

Ohio State U. Faculty for Abandoning Compulsory Drill.
By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., May 15.—Ohio State University faculty went on record yesterday in favor of abandoning compulsory military training. The teachers voted, 23 to 19, to recommend that the training be made optional.

The recommendation now goes to the trustees, who meet Wednesday. The faculty vote was on a petition of the Optional Drill League and was an outgrowth of the recent anti-compulsory training demonstration by students.

"MAIL ORDER" CHURCH PUT UP IN ESSEN, GERMANY

Building Is One That Was on Display at Press Exhibition in Cologne.

By the Associated Press. ESSEN, Germany, May 15.—The first "mail order" church in history has been put up here. The secular ready-made bungalow has found its ecclesiastical counterpart.

The church in question is the "steel church," which visitors to the international press exhibition in Cologne two years ago abhorred or adored, according to their response to modernistic architecture. Now it is in Essen, having been dismantled and transported piece by piece.

Prof. Otto Bartning, the designer, has been attempting to carry the idea embodied in the steel church to a logical conclusion, and the most recent step in the experiment is his "circular church," dedicated in Essen recently.

Its peculiarity is the central location of the altar. To the front, seats range round the altar in semi-circular rows. The usual back-side of the altar is the front to a segmental section of seats marked off from the rest of the auditorium by an open row of columns which support the organ loft. This section the architect designates as the sacramental chapel.

The advantages of modern materials alone justify their use, Bartning declares, pointing out that the steel and glass church was built in the dead of winter, and construction took only four months. The cost was less than that of a masonry building, and the steel structure requires a minimum of fuel for heating.

Can't Expel for Low Grades. HAMILTON, O., May 14.—State-supported universities were denied the right to expel students who fail to attain specified scholastic qualifications, in an opinion handed down here by Common Pleas Judge J. D. Barnes. The ruling was in the case of Miss Jean West, Portsmouth, against Miami University, Oxford, O. Recently she was dismissed from classes because she failed in some studies and her father brought suit. Judge Barnes ruled that the institution could compel the student to remain in the same grade until she mastered her work.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY'S POSITION MUCH IMPROVED

'Peers Against People' Will Be Its Battle-Cry Should a General Election Be Forced.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, May 15.—The Labor Party isn't begging for a general election—but it certainly is sitting pretty for one now.

That wasn't true a month ago when the Conservatives sought to turn the Government out.

For months on end Ramsay MacDonald's Government had been shivering in this shadow, and the Prime Minister has been forced to play his cards with all the adroitness he could command.

Lacking a working majority in the House of Commons, he was compelled to maintain a somewhat irksome liaison with the Liberals to retain power.

It wasn't much fun and displeased both Laborites and Liberals. But if MacDonald temporized, at least he stood revealed as a master politician, a match for any.

General elections in England roughly correspond to American presidential elections.

The technique calls for issues and accusations that can be flung hard enough to arouse mass response and, above all, a first rate slogan.

"Peers Against People."

If the Labor Party is forced to face a general election its battle-cry undoubtedly will be "peers against the people."

Generally considered a vestigial appendage, the Lords for the first time in years have challenged the power of the Commons.

First, they dismantled the Government's education bill, raising the school age limit, a beloved social reform of the Labor party. That was resented as meddling, but nothing was done.

But more recently the upper house turned the agricultural land bill into a meaningless thing and demanded guarantees that the Commons would not attempt to get it through again.

This bill was aimed at improving agriculture and lessening unemployment and, regardless of whether it would have done so, labor at least has been placed in a position to say that the peers blocked its efforts to set sorry matters right.

Indeed, the peers moved with such a rude hand that even the Tory papers felt constrained to point out the dynamite they had manufactured free.

Land Tax Bill.

MacDonald himself declared it meant a bare-fisted finish bout.

Again, Philip Snowden's new budget, which calls for land taxes—land in England is untaxed—is aimed at the peers.

Still again, the Socialist party seems to have the greatest confidence of Indians, especially since the demands for harsh action in Mahatma Gandhi's land have come only from Conservatives.

The Labor Government's record in foreign affairs has been almost brilliant, but in home affairs it has found heavier going.

Unemployment, England's most staggering problem, steadily mounted. Now it seems to have taken a slight turn for the better.

Nothing promises a general election soon, however, unless it be a feeling in the air—and that could be spring.

Holdup Across Street from Mint.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—A robber held up the American Trust Co. branch in the Chronicle Building, across the street from the United States mint, yesterday. Jack Kessler, a paroled convict, arrested a block away, was identified as the robber. All of the $1200 loot was recovered.

RENEWALS ATTACK ON WALKER

Chairman of New York Republican Group Publishes Charges.

NEW YORK, May 15. — Alan Fox, chairman of the City Affairs Committee of the National Republican Club, whose attack on Mayor Walker's private life was censured by club members, today issued a pamphlet repeating the charges.

The committee's report was submitted April 21 at a meeting of the club. It met severe criticism in debate and references to the Mayor's private life were expunged. Mr. Fox has sent to the club officers a pamphlet containing the original committee report.

"In the final pages of this report are three sentences deleted by vote of the club," Fox told newspapers. The pamphlet was printed at his expense.

The three sentences, which the club ordered deleted, said of Walker: "He has joked, junketed to race tracks, sat up all night at wild parties, entertained Hollywood and ignored the city's problems. Every man, of course, has a right to live his private life as he sees fit, so far as consistent with his obligations to others, and we have no concern with Mayor Walker's private escapades except insofar as they interfere with his public duties. The Mayor of New York has no right to allow the vagaries of his private life to interfere with reasonable attention to the responsibilities of his great office."

Schafer, a Wisconsin anti-prohibitionist, was a Republican member of the last House Expenditure Committee. He said today he would offer a motion to that committee at its first meeting "providing for a thorough investigation of the Embassy and Legation liquor question."

In the letter, Schafer requested a report on statutes under which diplomatic liquor is admitted. Schafer told the Secretary of State he could see no reason to allow diplomats "to transport prohibited liquor by truck loads and at the same time send a taxpaying American citizen to jail for five years and brand him a felon for transporting one pint of beverage liquor or 4 per cent good wholesome beer."

He added: "No wonder the people of America are showing disrespect for law and order when these conditions are permitted to exist."

FRISCO TO ABANDON TWO-CENT COACH FARE

Notifies Alabama Commission That It Has Resulted in Substantial Loss.

The experiment of attempting to increase railroad passenger traffic in the face of business depression by reducing coach rates is to be abandoned for the present, it was announced at the Frisco offices here today, following notice by Vice President J. B. Koonits to the Alabama Public Service Commission that the experimental 2-cent rate would be withdrawn July 1.

Passenger traffic officials said the road would seek to restore the 3.5-cent rate over the entire system. The 2-cent rate, which affected only day coach travel, was put into effect Feb. 1 in an effort to win back passenger traffic which had been lost to bus competition.

"Possibilities are that the period of depression is not conducive to a true test," Koonits wired the Alabama Commission, "but our experiment has not served to increase travel and has resulted in substantial monthly loss in our passenger revenue."

Seven other lines that met the coach reduction to points in competition with the Frisco are the Missouri Pacific, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Cotton Belt, Rock Island, Santa Fe, Kansas City Southern and Illinois Central. None had taken definite action today, but passenger traffic officers assumed that their lines also would withdraw the reduced rates, which had depended solely on Frisco competition.

Frisco and other passenger executives said that while the reduction had been followed by a slight increase in passenger traffic, it had not approached an amount sufficient to offset the reduced revenue per passenger.

The fare reduction amounted to 45 per cent. As pointed out last January by the Cotton Belt, Katy and Missouri Pacific in a protest to the Interstate Commerce Commission against the reduction, an 80 per cent increase in coach traffic would be required to offset it in gross revenue, without considering the effect on net revenue of additional expenses incident to handling additional passengers.

A belief seemed common that the experiment might be more successful under other general business conditions. It was stated that few persons were traveling now, except of necessity, and that the rate reduction might be a more effective inducement when general conditions enabled more of the public to consider travel from the pleasure point of view.

Dr. J. M. Withrow Dies.

CINCINNATI, O., May 15.—Dr. J. M. Withrow, 77 years old, noted surgeon and educator, is dead here of a heart attack. He was recognized nationally as an authority on women's illnesses and was a founder of the American College of Surgeons.

Col. C. D. Parkhurst, 81, Dies.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 15.—Col. Charles D. Parkhurst, 81 years old, West Point graduate in the class of 1872, who saw Indian fighting in the West, died today at the home of his son, Capt. George C. Parkhurst.

MAN WHO SOUGHT DAMAGES

IN 14 "ACCIDENTS" ARRESTED

Negro Says He Collected $205 by "Letting Himself Get Hit" by Trucks.

Louis Moore, a Negro, 14 South

Theresa avenue, who has sought damages for injuries received in 14

"accidents," was charged in warrants issued today by Prosecuting

Attorney Rosecan with obtaining money by false pretenses.

Moore has admitted, police report, obtaining $205 since 1927 in settlements for alleged injuries suffered in three "accidents" of his own making. The prisoner contended that he was really injured in the accidents, but just "let himself get hit" by trucks, after "picking out a soft place to light."

An attempt last month to jump

from a People's motor bus proved his undoing when the conductor caught him before he fell. Moore, however, asserted his back was injured and an investigation resulted in his arrest today.

Austrian Loan Authorized.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, May 15.—The National Assembly yesterday passed a bill authorizing the Government to borrow approximately $22,500,000

of which approximately $15,000,000

will go to restore the capital of the Creditanstalt, large Austrian bank. The remainder will be set aside to serve as a Government reserve to parry any further blow to Austria's economic situation.

The Austrian National Bank was also authorized, by a change in its statute, to devote about $4,500,000 to the relief of the Creditanstalt, accepting in return approximately $2,650,000 in Creditanstalt shares.

POLICE CLUBS USED ON REDS

Meeting Protesting Deportation of Chinese Rallied in New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Police clubs today broke up a demonstration by 200 Communists protesting against the deportation of Tso

Hsuan Li, Chinese student accused of preaching the overthrow of the Government by violence. The student was cheered at the Battery

by the shouting Reds. As he was started for Ellis Island, leader of crowd shouted: "Here they come, ready to smash us down because we are protesting against the brutal exploitation of the workers."

The police began swinging clubs, and after 15 minutes the crowd was forced back. Several radicals were bruised.

Gov. Caulfield Signs Highway Bill.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 15.—

The State highway appropriation bill, providing for a total of $92,-

750,123 for all State road purposes during the 1931-32 biennium,

one of the large appropriation measures, has been signed by Gov.

Caulfield. The bill carries an appropriation for $355,000 for the new State highway police patrol, to be established probably next September.

FREED OF DOCTORING MEAT

Jacob Maurer Not Proprietor of Shop, Brother John Fined.

Jacob Maurer, 1402 Market street, charged with having sold hamburger meat in which there was a chemical preservative, was freed by Judge Butler in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday

when it was shown that Maurer was not proprietor of the shop in which the meat was sold.

Maurer's case was one of 33 in which warrants were issued by the Prosecuting Attorney's office on complaint of State Food and Drug inspectors. Several of those charged have already pleaded guilty.

Today, Maurer's brother, John

Maurer, proprietor of a butcher shop at 1525 Market street, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Butler after State inspectors testified they found hamburger containing sodium sulphite, a cleaning compound, in his shop. Maurer testified that he was unaware of the chemical's presence. The Judge said to Maurer: "I've known you a long time but I can't help you;

the evidence is against you."

Pipes Gas Into Room; Ends Two

Lives.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Mrs.

NATURALISTS TAKE POISONING OF COYOTES BY U. S. BUREAU

Mammalogists Report Biological Survey "Most Destructive Agency Threatening Fauna."

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—A report denouncing the United States Bureau of Biological Survey as the "most destructive organized agency which ever threatened the native fauna of the United States," has been adopted by the American Society of Mammalogists in annual convention here.

The report was read yesterday by Dr. H. E. Anthony of the American Museum of Natural History, as chairman of a committee of five scientists appointed last year to investigate the work of the survey.

Investigations were made in Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Idaho and Wyoming.

The report urged drastic curtailment and eventual suspension of the poisoning of certain predatory animals, including coyotes, wolves and mountain lions in the Western stock-raising states; deplored the "propaganda program" of the Biological Survey, which was declared to be "blackening the reputation of certain species of predatory mammals," and asserted the nature-loving public should have a voice in the program of predatory mammal control, "and not leave to the stock-raisers sole voice in determining the policy of the survey."

The survey was urged to use traps, instead of poison, if it found killing of predatory animals necessary "in order to protect other valuable species from extinction."

RED CROSS CHECKING EXPENSE

Seeks to Determine If Any Money Is Being Wasted.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The business administration of the American Red Cross is under scrutiny of efficiency engineers with a view to ascertaining whether it is possible to cut expenses.

Chairman John Barton Payne, describing the study yesterday, said it was being done under Red Cross Central Committee direction, at his request, and with his co-operation.

A firm of efficiency experts, such as conduct similar studies for business firms, was called in by the disaster relief organization to look for loopholes through which money and effort might possibly be wasting away. The study has been in progress since the middle of April.

FOR LAW TO PUT CURB ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Chicago U. Economists Say Employers and Workers Should Provide Benefit Fund.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 15.—A plan whereby American employers would be required by law to set apart a reserve to be used for unemployment is proposed, following a comprehensive survey of the unemployment situation conducted at Swarthmore College by two economists of the University of Chicago, in the book, "The Problem of Unemployment," by Prof. Paul H. Douglas and Aaron Director, published today.

The authors conclude that slightly more than 150,000 workers are protected today from the risks of unemployment by trade union, employer and joint employment benefit plans—representing approximately one-half of 1 per cent of the gainfully employed wage earners and salaried workers in the United States.

"Since it has taken a decade for even this number to be covered," say the authors, "it would seem that, while such ventures are extremely valuable, both as experiment stations and to get the public mind interested in the subject, we cannot rely upon voluntary efforts for substantial progress to be made in furnishing adequate protection to the workers."

Prof. Douglas and director were invited to Swarthmore after a group of Philadelphia and New York business men suggested that comprehensive and continuing study of the problem of unemployment should be undertaken. The project was financed by an anonymous philanthropist. The authors' plan proposes, in brief:

It should include all manual workers in industries other than agriculture employed by employers who have three or more workmen on their payrolls, and all clerical workers whose full time salary is less than $2000 a year.

There should be joint contributions by workers and employers—this is the plan now followed by the General Electric Co.

The fund should be administered by a joint body of workers and employers, with a chairman representing the state.

Benefits should be paid primarily only to those laid off because of lack of work.

A jobless person, registered in a proposed system of national unemployment bureau, should decline work at his trade in his locality at the going rate of wages (if there is no strike) and continue to draw benefits.

FACIAL SURGERY PRACTITIONER DEPRIVED OF OHIO LICENSE

Dr. Shireson of Cleveland Accused of Malpractice in Damage Suits

Totalling $107,000.

CLEVELAND, O., May 15.—Dr. Henry J. Shireson, who has used surgery on scores of patients to reshape their faces or figures, and has been sued for damages by several of them, was deprived of his Ohio medical license here by the State Medical Board yesterday.

Three years ago, Dr. Shireson was the subject of wide discussion when Miss Sadie Holland of Detroit lost her legs after an operation he performed in an effort to straighten them. The Ohio Medical Board said his license has been revoked in Illinois and Michigan.

Charges against Dr. Shireson, on which the Ohio board acted, after a hearing here, included gross immorality, unprofessional and dishonest practice. He did not appear at the hearing, but promised through his attorney to surrender his certificate.

Members of the board said evidence had been given that the doctor paid commissions as high as 25 per cent to beauty shop operators to obtain patients for the American Institute for Facial Rejuvenation, Inc., which he operated with headquarters in Cleveland.

"While some of the work done by the institute was satisfactory, Dr. Shireson would promise anything," said Dr. H. M. Platter of Columbus, secretary of the board. "One has no idea of the suffering which has resulted from facial operations which never should have been performed."

Seven damage suits for a total of $107,500 are on file in court here, charging Dr. Shireson with malpractice. The equipment of his institute has been attached and a suit for receivership is pending.

BECOMES SUDDENLY ILL, DIES

Lloyd T. Little Became Unconscious After Complaining to Wife.

Lloyd T. Little, 29 years old, an insurance agent, died last night at Maryland Hotel after becoming suddenly ill several hours earlier.

He returned to his room at 3:20 p. m. and complained of illness to his wife, Jewell. A physician was called and later, when Little lapsed into unconsciousness, an inhalator was used. Little and his wife and son came to St. Louis last week from Mountain Grove, Mo., after he had accepted a position with an insurance concern here. An autopsy will be held.

Titled Russians Wed in New York. NEW YORK, May 15.—Princess Anna Alexia Obolensky, daughter of Prince and Princess Alexis Obolensky, was married yesterday to Prince Serge Gregory Troubetzkoy by Justice of the Peace Joseph W. Keller. They will be married in a religious ceremony in August in the Orthodox Church near Paris. The Prince is the son of the late Prince Gregory Troubetzkoy of Moscow. The Troubetzkoy and Obolensky families have intermarried for several generations.

AUTO OWNERSHIP REPORTED TO ASSESSOR IS NOT LISTED

Gehner Says Failure to Enter William Nowotny Jr.'s Name Probably Oversight.

Although District Assessor Chas. L. Bradley reported an automobile in making an assessment of the personal property of William Nowotny Jr., 3432A Grace avenue, the Assessor's books do not show Nowotny's name.

Bradley's duplicate stub appears in his assessment book and records show a city license was issued to Nowotny. Assessor Gehner said the failure to enter Nowotny's name on the tax books probably was due to inadvertent omission by a clerk, since about 100,000 such returns are handled by the office.

LIQUOR RING HEAD SENTENCED

TOLEDO, O., May 15.—James F. Courtney, indicted here as the head of a huge liquor ring which smuggled large quantities of liquor into Toledo and vicinity, pleaded guilty yesterday before Federal Judge George P. Hahn and was sentenced to two years in Atlanta penitentiary and fined $5000.

The sentence is to be served concurrently with a like sentence imposed yesterday in Cleveland where he pleaded guilty to an indictment based on shipment of a carload of liquor from Florida to Pennsylvania. Nine others were named in that indictment. The indictment here, Federal officials said, was based on smuggling activities on Lake Erie.

PRESIDENT OF JANITORS' UNION RELEASED AFTER QUESTIONING

Robert Osterberg Declares His Organization Does Not Sanction Violence.

Robert Osterberg, president of Janitors' Local Union No. 4, who was arrested Wednesday for questioning, was released by police yesterday for lack of evidence.

Osterberg was questioned concerning damage to boilers in West End apartment houses, which had been attributed to labor troubles. He declared the union does not sanction violence.

Osterberg's arrest followed a complaint by W. O. McMahon, Negro secretary-treasurer of the union, that he had been threatened by Osterberg during an altercation over possession of the union books.

BROKER WHO KILLED SELF LEFT $200,000

J. F. Betts Thought to Have Ended Life Supposing He Had Lost All in Stock Crash.

The estate of John F. Betts, St. Louis investment broker, who ended his life Nov. 23, 1929, after the stock market crash, will have a balance of approximately $200,000 after payment of claims and other debts, it was announced yesterday. It is expected this will be shown in a final settlement to be filed in Probate Court next month by the executors, who are Betts' daughter, Mrs. Mary Hubbell, and the Bontmen's National Bank. Their attorney, Charles M. Folk, who has been legal adviser during the process of administration, reported the principal assets remaining consist of approximately $80,000 in United States Government bonds and 5000 shares of stock of the Laclede-Christy Clay Products Co., selling around $15 a share, in addition to small blocks of stock in a considerable number of other companies.

It was stated that a ruling by Probate Judge Holtcamp which permitted the executors to handle the assets of Betts' investment firm, in conjunction with assets of his individual estate effected a large saving. Had it been necessary to liquidate the firm separately a special master would have been appointed and all the expenses resulting from a receivership would have been incurred, it was explained.

At the time of Betts' death the theory was advanced he was depressed because he believed his fortune, which he had once before recuperated, had been again wiped out as a result of sweeping market declines. The gross value of his estate, as shown in the report of an inheritance tax appraiser, was $1,390,281, with debts totaling $1,128,801. Among the holdings was a seat on the New York Stock Exchange, which was inventoried at $400,000.

Betts will left his estate in trust for the benefit of his widow, who was recently married to Norman McCloud, a Canadian banker. Mrs. Hubbell, her sister, Miss Audrey Betts, and John P. Betts Jr., were named as ultimate beneficiaries if they survive their mother. The net balance in the estate does not include a $100,000 separate insurance trust established for the widow, which makes the total net fortune left by Betts around $300,000.

Auto Dealer Made College Head.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok. — Removal of Dr. John G. Mitchell as president of Central State Teachers College at Edmond was voted by the State Board of Education, four to three. By unanimous vote, the board then elected M. A. Benson, former dean of agriculture at Oklahoma A. & M. College, and now a Stillwater automobile dealer, to succeed Dr. Mitchell.

COL. BENNETT CLARK DECLARES CANDIDACY

To Seek Democratic Nomination for U. S. Senator, Hawes Having Withdrawn.

Col. Bennett C. Clark, who several weeks ago announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator next year contingent on Senator Hawes' adherence to an expressed intention not to seek renomination, today said he definitely was in the race.

Clark's statement followed reiteration by Senator Hawes in Washington yesterday of his intention to retire from office.

Clark is now the only avowed candidate, though there have been reports that Charles M. Howell of Kansas City, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, is considering entering the contest. Howell's candidacy, however, is regarded as doubtful in view of the fact that Francis M. Wilson, so far the leading candidate for the nomination for Governor, is a resident of Kansas City. There is opposition to having the candidates for the principal offices from the same city.

Clark said today that "at the proper time" he would announce his views on matters of national importance, but that he doubted his statement would be issued much in advance of the beginning of active campaigning, which will not be until early next year.

Clark is a lawyer, with offices in the Mississippi Valley Building, and is a son of the late Speaker Champ Clark. He was parliamentarian in Congress during his father's term as speaker. He served overseas in the World War and rose to the rank of Colonel.

He has been active in Missouri politics for the past 10 years, and in several campaigns was mentioned for the Democratic nomination for Senator and for Governor, but never before has sought office. He resides on Warsaw road in St. Louis County.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Missouri is no longer a predominantly rural state. The 1930 census returns, some of which were announced today, show that the urban population April 1, 1930, was 2,260,118, or 64.6 per cent of the total population. The urban percentage in 1920 was 46.6.

The rural population in 1930 was 1,233,937, comprising 35.4 per cent of the total population. The rural population in 1920 was 1,864,162, or 48.3 per cent of the total population.

The census also shows that the percentage of illiterates among the native white population decreased from 47.06 in 1920 to 39.25 in 1930, or 8.81 per cent, while the rural non-farm population showed an increase of 52,056, or 8.5 per cent.

The Census Bureau classifies as urban all persons living in cities and villages of 2500 or more. The rural non-farm population includes persons living in villages of fewer than 2500 persons.

The reports also disclose that illiteracy in Missouri decreased from 3.2 per cent in 1920 to 2.3 per cent in 1930. The number of persons 10 years old and over, reported as unable to read and write in 1920, was 87,905, as compared with 63,403 in 1930.

The percentage of illiterates decreased for all classes. The number of illiterates among the native white population decreased from 47,066 in 1920 to 39,252 in 1930, or 8.81 per cent.

SAYS LIQUOR THEFT IS NOW AN 'INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR'

Charge d'Affaires in Report to Salvador, S. Legation Is Not Adequately Protected.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Dr. Don Carlos Leiva, Charge d'Affaires of the Salvadoran Legation, said today he had made a formal report to his Government of the raid upon the Legation by liquor thieves. Leiva, who was injured in a fight by the intruders, said the Legation had been visited by burglars four times during the last four months and that he believed his life was in danger because of inadequate police protection.

The State Department, after an investigation, announced yesterday that it was satisfied that the present protection of diplomatic officers and their property in Washington was adequate. Leiva said he did not care whether the State Department replaced the 17 cases of liquor taken by the thieves. "The liquor and other stuff stolen is purely incidental," he said. "I am concerned about my wife's and my own safety. It was only the mere chance that one of the bullets the burglar fired did not hit me."

He added that under existing conditions he would be unwilling to let his wife stay in the Legation overnight. "This matter as much as I regret it has now become an international situation," he said. "I trust it will be satisfactorily adjusted between my Government and this."

LEGION REQUESTS HOOVER TO CALL JOBS CONFERENCE

Asks Him to Summon Leaders of Labor, Industry, Capital and Agriculture to Consider Depression.

By the Associated Press,
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 15.— President Hoover will be asked by the American Legion to call together in a non-political way rep-representatives of labor, industry, capital, agriculture "and other elements of our national life" to ascertain the causes of economic depression.

The National Executive Committee of the legion, meeting here yesterday, directed Ralph T. O'Neill, national commander, to petition the President for such a conference
"to find if possible the causes and the cure for conditions which caused 20 per cent of our entire population to endure sufferings by lack of a well-regulated program which would cause regular and consistent means of employment."

The plan was suggested in the report of the legion's National Unemployment Commission, which was adopted unanimously.

The report urged that such a conference be requested "analyze the charges that have been freely made in the press that the financial and business leaders failed to recognize the warning signs fully one year ahead of the depression."

and failed to sound the warning that may have, in some measure, minimized the depression that followed."

A national survey of the 10,000 pages of the legion, the report indicated more than $600,000 persons out of employment, among them 750,000 former service men.

It added that through the agency in this country, will ultimately 170,000 men were placed in employment.

"Drives for relief, spasmodic efforts in behalf of the unemployed," the report says, "serve well their purpose temporarily, but the unisolution of the causes of depre-sions and panics is arrived at, advancement of the nation must necessarily be retarded."

"We believe a continuance of the growing unrest, caused by the unemployment of willing hands and by the lack of proper necessities to live up to the standards established in this country, will ultimately lead to dire results of something constructive is not accomplished in the near future."

The report urged that such a conference be requested "analyze the charges that our legislative bodies have in some way erected barriers which have caused a limitation in the sales of the products of the American workman."

NEGRO WOMAN MURDERED
Police Seeking Estranged Husband of Mrs. V. D. Miller.

Police summoned to 234 South
Beaumont street last night found Mrs. Virginia D. Miller, 15-year-old Negro, dead with her throat slashed and cuts on her hands and arms. She apparently had been killed with a razor.

Mrs. Ada Buckingham, a relative, told officers that Mrs. Miller's husband, Joseph, from whom she was separated, smashed a window and climbed into his wife's room after twice being denied admittance. Mrs.
Buckingham ran to her own room, locking herself in, and heard screams and sounds of a struggle.
Police are searching for Miller.

14th Lingle Trial Continuance.
CHICAGO, May 15. — Judge
Harry M. Fisher warned the State he would not continue the matter much longer, but agreed today to grant a fourteenth continuance in the trial of Frank Foster for the murder of Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter. The prosecutors asked the delay because Charles F.
Rathbun, special prosecutor, was out of the city. Foster's lawyers agreed to the postponement. Foster was linked with the murder, for which Leo Brothers has been convicted, because he once owned the weapon found beside the reporter's body.

Quebec Murderer Hanged.

TO RETURN THREE ACCUSED OF NEBRASKA BANK ROBBERY
Illinois Governor Signs Extradition Papers for Men Held in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.— Gov. Emmerson today honored the requisition of the Governor of Nebraska for the return of Jack Britt, Thomas O'Connor and Howard Lee to Lincoln, Neb., where they are wanted for bank robbery.

Sheriff Hensel of Lincoln left here immediately after the Gov.
error had signed the extradition papers for Chicago, where the three men are held.

"My complexion was very poor because of pimples and blackheads which covered my face and neck.
I had been advised to try Resinol Soap and Ointment, but had tried so many other things without success I was disgusted with everything. However, a friend urged me to try a sample anyway. In three days' time the improvement was so great I could hardly believe it. I will always have a word of praise for Resinol." (Signed)

A LOVELY COMPLEXION THAT NOTHING WILL REMOVE

Would you like a lovely skin? A complexion that won't come off—a radiant color all your own? If constitution is the cause of your troubles give your system the little calcium that it needs—and note the immediate improvement.
Stuart's Calcium Wafers help Nature to quickly rid the system of impurities and promote water that cause pimples, blotches and other skin blemishes. A week-end's use will frequently work a wonderful change.
From the very first day you should see and feel the difference.
Bright, sparkling eyes! Clear, satin-smooth skin free from freckles! Nails and hair alive and glossy with sound growth! And a warm flush of natural color radiating from within —truly lovely color that no rouge can imitate, and nothing can remove. Try them this week-end.

SHIRT SHOP HELD UP
3RD TIME IN 8 MONTHS

Robbers Frightened Away by Broken Light Globe After Getting $38.

The National Shirt Shop, 718
Washington avenue, was held up last night for the third time in eight months but the robber, a hatted youth with long hair, obtained only $38, the contents of one cash register, before he fled.
Max Weinstein, 5560 Pershing avenue, in charge of the store, and Fred Sarg Jr., 4115 McPherson avenue, a window trimmer, were herded into a back room as the robber threatened them with a pistol. Unable to open the cash register, the holdup man called Weinstein.

The ring of the cash register was followed by the sound of a loud report from the rear room. Weinstein jumped back, shouting,
"That's good, give it to him again."
The robber fired at it in fear of a bullet from the back room where Sarg had remained.
Weinstein returned to the rear room to find Sarg, hammer in hand, standing over a shattered electric light bulb.

Answering a radio call that burglars were attempting to enter Burke's market, 1711 Tower Grove avenue, police arrested two 16-year-old boys. A padlock had been broken from the door. One boy, who was armed with an automatic pistol which he said he had stolen, admitted he had escaped from the Bellevue Farm a month ago and since then had committed several small burglaries.

LEVIATHAN OUTRUNS MAJESTIC
Crossing Almost 4 Hours Faster Than That of Other Liner.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 15.—The United States liner Leviathan completed a trans-Atlantic voyage to Cherbourg today in three hours and 45 minutes less time than it took the White Star liner Majestic.
Officers of both lines denied that the two liners, the largest in the world, which were originally planned as sister ships, had raced across the ocean. It was the first time since the vessels have been in the North Atlantic service that they have left closely enough together to provide a fair test of their speeds, shipping men said.
The Leviathan left at 12:30 p. m.
Saturday and the Majestic drew away from its pier an hour later.
The Leviathan arrived at Cherbourg at 5 a. m. today, Greenwich time, and the Majestic reached that port at 9:15.

SWIMMING POOL IN CAVERNS
St. Louis Scout in Party Finding It in New Mexico.
By the Associated Press.
CARLSBAD, N. M., May 15.—A swimming pool with water at 70 degrees has been discovered 1250 feet under ground in the Carlsbad caverns. The pool, which is fed from the drippings of stalactites and other sources, contains water pure enough to drink and is 20 feet deep by 100 feet wide and probably 200 feet long.
A party of six explorers, including Dixon Stauffer, an Eagle Scout of St. Louis, went swimming.

Labor Organizers Driven Out.
By the Associated Press.
MANSFIELD, O., May 15.— Twenty men, said to be labor organizers, were forcibly removed from Mansfield today by a delegation of 15 steel workers among 1600 employees on strike at the Empire Steel Corporation against a wage reduction. The ejected men were accused of preaching doctrines contrary to the well-being of the city. Mayor C. S. Moore accompanied the delegation which conducted them to the city limits.

JIM BOTTOMLEY'S ABSENCE DELAYS HEARING OF SUIT

Judge in Postponing Case Draws Distinction Between First Baseman on Diamond and in Court. A $25,000 damage suit in which Jim Bottomley, first baseman of the Cardinal baseball team, is an essential witness was continued until fall in Federal Court today because of the absence of Bottomley, who is with the team in the East, but not before Federal Judge Fagis emphasized the distinction between Bottomley on the diamond and in the courtroom. "I have a very high regard for Mr. Bottomley at first base," Judge Fagis said, in announcing the case would be reset at the September docket, "but Mr. Bottomley must not be allowed to stop the progress of this court." The suit is brought by Curtis W. Wood against the McDavid Motor Car Co. of Nokomis and Hillsboro, Ill., because of injuries suffered Dec. 11, 1928, in an automobile accident when Bottomley was a salesman for the motor company.

WATCHMAN, 60, DIES FROM AUTO INJURY

He Suffered Skull Fracture When Hit by Truck on Grand Blvd.

Daniel Mahen, 60 years old, 1864 South Grand boulevard, died at City Hospital last night of a fractured skull suffered Wednesday evening when struck by a motor truck at Grand boulevard and Hickory street.

William J. J. Negro, 2947 Atlantic avenue, was the driver. Mahen was employed as watchman at the city material yard. His death is the sixty-fourth motor vehicle fatality in the city since Jan. 1, compared with 56 on the corresponding date last year.

Ralph Day, 13 years old, 308 Clara avenue, was injured yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by a woman while crossing Waterman avenue at Clara avenue. The driver stopped and assisted the boy to the sidewalk, then drove away without giving her name. Ralph suffered cuts of the head and bruises.

RELEASE OF $35,000 TO PAVE PART OF N. TWELFTH O'K'D Citizens' Bond Issue Group Takes Step in Connection With Building of Terminal.

An appropriation of $35,000 from bond funds to pave a section of the new N. Twelfth boulevard, between Washington avenue and O'Fallon street, was approved by the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday.

In connection with the construction of the new subway and terminal of the Illinois Terminal System, old High street, which will become a part of the new boulevard, has been widened between Lucas avenue and O'Fallon. The block between Lucas and Washington avenues remains to be widened by taking a slice from the Carleton Building, which building will form the passenger station for the Illinois Terminal System.

The railroad will pay for the sidewalks and curbs in the Washington-O'Fallon stretch of the new street, and the concrete roof of the subway will be the base of the asphalt street paving. The city expects to do the paving this summer or autumn, as soon as the subway is done.

FORMER BANK EMPLOYEE ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT
Assistant U. S. Attorney Says Accused Man Has Paid Back $900 Involved.

Walter Moss, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank of West Frankfort, Ill., was arrested at his home yesterday under a Federal indictment, returned at East St. Louis, charging the embezzlement of $900.

According to Assistant United States Attorney Ingram, Moss, who is 37 years old and the father of six children, has paid back the money. He will be arraigned in East St. Louis Monday. Moss was released without bond on the assurance of John W. Smith, president of the bank, that he would appear.

THREE EAST SIDE ROBBERS GET ONE YEAR TO LIFE
Two of Them Negroes; Third Man Obtained Nothing in Holdup.

William Mason, East St. Louis Negro, was sentenced to the Chester, Ill., penitentiary from one year to life by Circuit Judge Bernreuter at Belleville today on his plea of guilty of stealing a rifle and rug from Winfield Hunter, also of East St. Louis.

Zack Jamerson, Negro, East St. Louis, received a similar sentence when he was found guilty of holding up Henry Carter, a street car conductor, obtaining $52.

Arnold Hayden, East St. Louis, was sentenced to from a year to life also for holding up Raymond Price last January. He obtained nothing.

FARM REALTY VALUES DROP
Depression Carries Them to Lowest Figure Since the War.
CHICAGO, May 15.—A slump in farm real estate values in virtually all states has carried average values to new lows since the post-war agricultural depression. The Government Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today that for the year ending March 1, 1931, the average is nine points on the index below last year.

MOVE IN OKLAHOMA TO OUST GAS FIRMS

Gov. Murray Orders Suit Against 9 Companies Under Anti-Trust Law.

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., May 15.—Nine Oklahoma public utility companies face ouster suits and possible confiscation of their properties for alleged violation of the state anti-trust laws.

Gov. W. H. Murray, in announcing plans for state action against the companies, predicted the result would be a fair gas rate and that it would be obtained "several years quicker" than under present proceedings before the State Corporation Commission.

Leon S. Hirsch, attorney who appeared against the Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, one of the nine concerns named by Murray in a rate hearing this week, was appointed by the Governor to file the suits in state courts. He said at least 10 days would be required for preparation.

The companies against which Murray directed Hirsch to file suit are the Oklahoma Natural, Quinton Natural Gas Corporation, Southwestern Natural Gas Corporation, Muskogee Natural Gas, Inc., Tex-Okan Oil Corporation, Oklahoma Natural Building Co., Tri-Utility Corporation, American Natural Gas Corporation and the Ozark Holding Co., otherwise known as the Muskogee Utility Co., and "any other corporations associated or affiliated with them."

Murray asserted "certain corporations" had violated state laws by creation of a monopoly by the maintenance of unlawful rates and charges, and otherwise, "which acts have subjected such corporations to the cancellation and forfeiture of their licenses and charters and right to do business in the State and further subjected them to certain penalties, charges and forfeitures to the State."

The Governor said a receivership would be sought for the Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, which, he charged, had violated the constitution by "taking their records out of the State and carrying them to New York." Company rates in 53 cities have been under investigation by the corporation commission.

The Governor's action was termed "unfair and not deserved" by E. C. Deal, president of the Oklahoma Natural, who said he welcomed an impartial investigation, but feared politics would enter into the matter.

The Governor contends that forfeiture of charters would escheat, or forfeit, properties to the State.

EVEN GYPSIES PUT TO WORK ON FARMS BY THE SOVIET

Noted for Centuries as "Horse Thieves" and "Love Lyric" Composers, Now They Are Collectivized.

By the Associated Press.
ROSTOV-ON-THE-DON, U. S. S. R.—Russian gypsies, noted for centuries as "horse thieves" and originators of crooning love lyrics, are being "collectivized."

The Soviet Government is after them. So much so that a gypsy collective farm has been organized in the North Caucasus at "Mineral Waters," where those wandering nomads, who are somewhat complacent, have agreed to pool their efforts at tilling the soil.

Getting any gypsy on a farm is considered victory for the soviet. There are several hundred at "Mineral Waters," and they seem content.

Recently there was a scandal when a gypsy "kukla" was uncovered. He was a sort of a chief and, refusing to work, traded horses and employed others to work for him.

The Marxian enthusiasts, however, got together and voted the "kukla" out of his easy berth. Presumably he now is in some timber district or similar place where the unsympathizers with communism may "eat only if they work."

WARNS FREIGHT TRUCK DRIVERS AGAINST SPEEDING IN ILLINOIS

State Police Sergeant Assers Careless Night Driving Endangers Passenger Traffic.

MARION, Ill., May 15.—A warning to drivers of freight trucks, especially those handling interstate freight, was issued here today by Sgt. E. J. Gibbons of the State Highway Police, who said the highways were being abused by truck drivers.

"Kentucky drivers have a habit of speeding over Illinois highways at night," he said. "With their heavy loads of freight, they hog the roads and provide a menace to passenger traffic. Drivers from other states must obey the traffic rules of our roads or stay off of them."

Gov. Bilbo Ordered to Bed.

By the Associated Press.
JACKSON, Miss., May 15.—Gov. Theodore Bilbo, injured in an automobile accident, was forced to remain in bed today. He was not permitted to receive visitors, or even use the telephone. He suffered a fractured rib and abdominal injuries when his automobile turned over in a ditch several days ago. He continued to keep appointments at his office but yesterday a slight fever developed and his physician told him pneumonia threatened if he did not take a rest.

Lima (Peru) Strike Ended.

By the Associated Press.
LIMA, Peru, May 15.—The general strike ended today and members of all trade unions returned to work except taxicab drivers, whose claims are being considered by an arbitration tribunal.

POSTAL INSPECTION CLERK BECOMES FATALLY ILL ON CAR

Ernest R. Adams Pronounced Dead on Being Taken Into Drug Store.

Ernest R. Adams, 54 years old, 1818 South Compton avenue, for 25 years a clerk in the Postal Inspection service at St. Louis, died suddenly at 8:30 a. m. today a few minutes after he was taken ill on his way to the Federal Building on a northbound Compton avenue street car.

Adams, who collapsed as the car neared Fourteenth and Olive streets, was taken into a drug store where a physician pronounced him dead. According to Chief Postoffice Inspector Reuter, Adams' father was a delegate from Montgomery City, Mo., to the first Missouri Constitutional Convention, and later became a member of the State Legislature.

BOATS IN DISTRESS NOW SAFE

One Pacific Coaster After; Another Aground, Report.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The lumber carrier Ipswich, with fire in its hold under control, and the freighter Helen Whittier, which struck an uncharted reef off Cape San Martin, 144 miles south of here, are on the way to San Francisco today for repairs. Fire broke out in the Ipswich while the vessel was on the way here from Columbia River ports with a cargo of lumber. A radio message last night from the captain, A. W. Upson, said the crew of 50 men had controlled the blaze and were pouring steam into the hold.

CAN'T FIND $40,000 SHORTAGE

Grand Jury Reports on Inquiry of Chicago Treasurer.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 15.—The special grand jury reported yesterday through Assistant State's Attorney Mueller that it had found concrete evidence to support reports that a $40,000 shortage existed in the City Treasurer's office.

The jury heard the money was missing because various city hall employees had drawn on the Treasurer for ready cash, leaving unpaid I. O. U.'s. "Until it has been proven there is a shortage, the investigation is at a standstill," Mueller said. Subpoenas against nine city officials will not be served.

$100 FINE FOR GIGGING FISH

Penalty Imposed by East St. Louis Justice of Peace.

Howard Bullard, 1806A Division avenue, East St. Louis, was fined $100 and costs for gigging fish, and Mack Cooper, 1922 East Broadway, $25 and costs for fishing with a net out of season, by Justice of the Peace A. J. Stocker of East St. Louis yesterday.

The men were arrested by a deputy game warden on Cahokia Creek.

Vetoed Bill to Pay Freed Man.

By the Associated Press.
MADISON, Wis., May 15.—A bill to appropriate $5000 to John A. Johnson of Madison to compensate him for serving a 10-year term in the State prison for a crime he did not commit, has been vetoed by Gov. La Follette. Johnson was pardoned in 1921 after evidence was introduced purporting to show he had not committed the murder to which he pleaded guilty in 1911.

In his veto message, Gov. La Follette approves the principle of compensating wrongly convicted persons who have served terms in prison, but urges that such claims be given a thorough investigation.

15 HORSE Washington

BILL KILLEFER SHAKES UP CLUB; BURNS PLAYS FIRST

By James M. Gould.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
—The Browns lost to the Washington Senators this afternoon in the first game of a series of four.

The score was 5 to 2.
It was Ladies' day and, including them, about 4,500 persons saw the game.

Van Grafian, McGowan and Connolly were the umpires.

The game:

FIRST INNING—WASHINGTON—

Hayes grounded to Melillo. E. Rice popped to Levey. Manush flied to Jenkins.

BROWNS—Levey singled to left. Burns bunted, but forced Levey. Marberry to Cronin. Goslin hit into a double play. Hays to Cronin to Jordan.

SECOND—WASHINGTON—Cronin walked. West popped a single over third. Cronin stopping at second.

Bluege singled past third, scoring Cronin. West stopping at second. Jordan struck out. Spencer singled to center, scoring West and putting Bluege on third. Marberry hit into a double play. Melillo to Levey to Burns. TWO RUNS.

BROWNS—Kress fouled to Spencer. Jenkins tripled between Manush and West. Melillo hit to Marberry and Jenkins was caught off third. Marberry to Cronin. McNeely forced Melillo. Bluege to Hayes.

THIRD—WASHINGTON—Levey speared Hayes' line drive with his glove hand. Levey threw out E. Rice. Manush flied to McNeely.

BROWNS—Cronin threw out Ferrell. Stewart was called out on strikes. Levey singled to left for his second hit. Burns singled to right, sending Levey to third. Zachary for Douthit Trade Is Off; Cards Idle for Fourth Day

By J. Roy Stockton.

OF THE POST-DISPATCH SPORT STAFF.

BOSTON, May 15.—The prospective trade between the Cardinals and Braves, which was to send Taylor Douthit to Boston in exchange for Pitcher Tom Zachary apparently was just something the St. Louis office had considered but failed to take up with Bill McKechnie, manager, and Judge Emil Fuchs, owner, of the Boston Braves.

At any rate inquiries here have disclosed the fact that the Braves are well satisfied with their outfield and need pitchers so badly that they wouldn't think of parting with any unless they could get two or three for one.

It seems that the Cardinals wanted Zachary and had decided that they would part with Taylor Douthit, a high-salaried center fielder, who is likely to spend much of his 1931 time on the bench, in case Pepper Martin continues to shine as a batter, base runner and fielder.

But the Braves, if they parted with Zachary, would insist on obtaining a third baseman and even then it would have to be a fine

Cards Again Rained Out At Boston

BOSTON, May 15.

THE Cardinals' game with the Boston Braves here this afternoon was rained out, and the team left this afternoon for New York to open a series with the Giants without playing a game, or the scheduled three-game series here.

It was the Cardinals' eleventh postponement of the season. They have only played 18 games of their schedule, which started April 14.

Looking Up.

CHEER UP, BO. That Stribling-Schmeling fight may not be such a bad "schmel" after all. Believe it or not, Young Stribling has agreed to fight 15 rounds for the title at Cleveland, July 3, accepting the amazingly low cut of 12½ per cent for his share, win, lose or draw.

Naturally fans will take this to mean that "W. L." has the utmost confidence in himself. It is usually the case that when a fighter accepts a low percentage for a title fight, he has a high regard for his own chances. Stribling's attitude puts a very much better face on the match and seems to guarantee that Stribling was the best of all our heavyweight timber. But each time he has tossed the scratch in a big fight he has flattered. Next July it will be "last call" for Willie. If he fails then he will pass out of the picture. And so, it is reasonable to believe that this time Stribling has made up his mind to throw caution to the wind and a lot of hard socks at the German champion.

If Willie does this, look out, Maxie! Our Mr. Stribling has the goods!

Another Black Gold?
THE pedal extremities of Tom Kearney and Tom Shaw, the two leading Derby future book darsdevils of the country, may be excused for being a trifle chilled, this morning.

The reason for the drop in temperature is the heavy financial lead they are carrying on two long shots in tomorrow's big race: Pittsburgh and Spanish Play. If either of these horses wins or if they should run one, two, future books would suffer a knockout such as they have not experienced since 1925, when Black Gold won after having been backed from 40 to 1 to favoritism.

On that occasion it was published that Kearney had to put up more than $15,000 in Liberty bonds to complete a payoff of $25,000 on this event. Chicago future books were either badly bent or forced to default payment, that year.

Today only a few sally vet-

COTTON, WITH 287, WINNER IN BRITISH GOLF

By the Associated Press.

SOUTHPORT, Eng., May 15.—Henry Cotton, the 24-year-old English professional, today won the $1500 Southport professional golf tournament with a total of 287. Cotton added a part 72 to his sensational 68 of the morning round to gain his first major golf victory.

Last year he was runner-up in the event which he won this year.

Cotton has been such in the golfing eye this spring by his refusal to accept the terms laid down for candidates by the selection committee, entrusted with picking a team for the Ryder Cup matches. His main object was that if he went over with the team and won the United States open he wanted to stay over here and cash in on it instead of coming back with the team. He may go over on his own to try for the major golf prizes on the other side.

Archie Compston, the tall British pro, who once beat Walter Hagen 13 up and 17 to play in a 73-hole match, was second with 289, and Horton Smith, the American, 291.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15.—Fifteen three-year-olds were nominated today for the fifty-seventh running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs tomorrow. They are: Don Leon, Up, Pittsburgher, Mate, Twenty Grand, Boys Howdy, Anchors Aweigh, Surf Board, Prince d'Amour, Equipoise, The Mongol, Spanish Play, Sweep All, Ladder and Insko.

Twenty Grand, ace of the Greentree Stables and co-favorite with Mate, drew eighth post position. Mate, A. C. Bostwick's colt, drew thirteenth position, while Equipoise was given second place from the rail. Pittsburgher, hope of the West, will start from twelfth position. The rail position was drawn by Sweep All, with Insko on the outside.

Of the 14 colts and the gelding, Prince d'Amour, entered Mate and the Greentree Stable entry, Twenty Grand, Anchors Aweigh and Surf Board, were made co-favorites at approximately 2 to 1 about the time the entries were made.

Equipoise and Ladder were held at 8 to 1 and Pittsburgher and Sweep All at 15 to 1. Odds on the rest were scattered.

The track was fast at Churchill Downs today, and prospects were for good weather at post time, approximately 5:15 p. m., St. Louis time, tomorrow.

They like their horse races down here in the blue grass, under any conditions, so even the old line of Kentucky turfmen today accepted the prospect that, barring an upset, it will be an all-Eastern battle for three-year-old honors in the classic Derby.

East or West, good times or bad, tomorrow's blue ribbon event of the American turf figured to be the best of the season.

There wouldn't be a horse race if C. V. Whitney's one-time Derby favorite, Equipoise, may stage comeback after several disappointments. Somehow the West may realize its fondest hopes and crash through with such a contender as Thomas E. Mueller's Pittsburgher, the "big train," Griffin Watkins' Insko or Charles T. Fisher's Sweep All.

Ever say to yourself "why can't I look as though my clothes were made for me"? Well, we know of two sure answers. Be one of the extravagant few, and go to a custom-tailor. Or, join the thousands of thrifty men who are enjoying the luxury of that "made for me look", fitted by Bond.

We are really "cranks" on this much neglected matter of well-fitted clothes. We insist that all Bond fitters be graduates of our own factory. They know how our clothes are made. They know exactly what to do to shape a collar, so that it hugs your neck. They know how to give you a smooth pair of shoulders; and comfortable, faultlessly-hung sleeves. Chasing "back-wrinkles" is their hobby. And when a pair of trousers leave their hands they have that "made for me look", from wasteband to cuff.

We believe the skilled hands of our tailors are winning equally as many friends as are our London-designed fashions, our thoroughbred woollens (that take a sharp crease, and hold it) and our delightfully low prices — $25, $30, $35, two trousers included.

SKETCH OF APPOINTEE TO UTILITY COMMISSION

Col. George W. English, Kansas City Democrat, Won Post Without Party Support.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 15.—Col. George W. English, attorney, appointed by Gov. Caulfield to succeed S. M. Hutchinson as a member of the Missouri Public Service Commission, is preparing to assume his office within a few days. Hutchinson's term expired April 15.

The appointment was a disappointment to some Democratic leaders here, who supported either Joseph McQueen or J. C. Collet of Salisbury, the latter of whom was backed by former Senator J. A. Reed and Charles M. Howell, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. Even by his opponents he is considered well fitted for service on the commission.

Col. English had the nonpartisan support of many members of the Bar Association. A Democrat, Col. English has never been a factionalist. The factional support here was divided between McQueen and Collet. If any Kansas City faction can claim his adherence, it is the one headed by Representative Joseph E. Shannon, head of the "rabbits" wing of the Democratic organization.

Veteran of Two Wars.
The new commissioner has practiced law here since he was mustered out of the army, following the Spanish-American War, except for an interval during the World War. He has held only one political office, that of Assistant United States District Attorney, to which he was appointed in 1929.

His only campaign for an elective office was 25 years ago when he was an unsuccessful candidate for City Attorney.

Col. English was a cadet-major of the cadet battalion at the University of Missouri when the Spanish-American War was declared. He and others organized a company of infantry which later became a part of the Fifth Missouri Volunteers. He was mustered out of service with the rank of Captain at the close of the war. Charles M. Howell, Democratic state chairman, also was a Captain in the Fifth Missouri Volunteers.

When the United States entered the World War, Col. English entered the service as a Captain in the 55th Infantry. He later was made a Major.

A Golf Enthusiast.
Overseas he served as Brigade Adjutant of the 177th Infantry, Eighty-ninth Division, which participated in the St. Mihiel and Argonne engagements. After the armistice he was assigned to the Army of Occupation in Germany as officer in charge of civil affairs in a German district. He was mustered out with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel in 1919.

He is a member of the University Club and the Milburn Golf Club and formerly was president of the Kansas City Golf Association and at one time was editor of the Western Golfer.

He is married and has three sons, one married and living in Seattle, another working for the Standard Oil and a third a student in the State University.

101 RANCH WILD WEST SHOW PARADE DOWNTOWN TOMORROW

Company Will Fill Three-Day Engagement at Grand Boulevard and Laclede Avenue.

The 101 Ranch Wild West Show will open a three-day engagement at Grand boulevard and Laclede avenue tomorrow, preceded by a parade scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock and proceed through the downtown section. Performances will be given in the afternoon and at night.

The parade will start from the show grounds, go east on Lawton boulevard to Jefferson avenue, north on Jefferson avenue to Washington avenue and thence east to Twelfth boulevard. It will move south on Twelfth boulevard to Chestnut street, turning west on Jefferson avenue to Market street, west to Beaumont avenue and west on Laclede avenue to the show grounds.

APPOINTMENTS AT ILLINOIS U.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Dr. Thomas Elliot Benner of Columbia University will succeed the late Dr. C. E. Chadsey as dean of the College of Education at the University of Illinois. The appointment is effective Sept. 1. Dr. Benner is 37 years old, a graduate of Harvard and former acting dean of education at Alabama Polytechnic Institute and chancellor of the University of Porto Rico.

Dr. M. B. Vischer of the University of Southern California has been appointed head of the Department of Physiology in the College of Medicine, succeeding the late Dr. George F. Dreyer.

Harry Langdon and Wife Sue.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 15.—Harry Langdon, movie comedian, and his wife, Helen Walton Langdon, filed suits yesterday against James F. Dickason, wealthy property owner, for $502,500 for alleged false arrest. The Langdons say they were arrested last Feb. 2 on complaint that they had removed awnings and other fixtures valued at $175 from a house belonging to Dickason. They were acquitted the following day.

KIDNAPER FAILS, SHOTS SELF

GLASSBORO, N. J., May 15.—Unsuccessful in an attempt to kidnap a 7-year-old boy, after taking the child from his father, George Miller, 40 years old, shot himself near Monroeville today. He is not expected to live. The father, Paul F. Kramme of Monroeville, was shot through the elbow as he pursued the kidnaper's automobile in his own. He continued the chase, which ended near Wright's Mill, three miles from Monroeville, where the man stopped his car and apparently prepared to surrender. As Kramme ran to get his son, Miller shot him.

Paul Jr., the man placed a pistol to his head and fired. Miller's father have been engaged in excavating work for Kramme in building a home on the outskirts of Monroeville.

BRAND DECLARES DEPRESSION BARS EUROPEAN ACCORD

Says Strain Is Especially Severe in Farming Countries of Southeastern Europe.

FAVORS PREFERENCE IN GRAIN TARIFFS

Will Submit Triple Project to Federation 'Commission, Including Plan for Market Organization.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, May 15.—Economic depression is the most serious threat to European peace, Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, declared today at the opening session of the commission to study his project for a Pan-European Federation.

The situation is especially serious in the agricultural countries of southeastern Europe, he said, and to those countries the commission will try to give prompt relief both by preferential rates on cereal and long-term agricultural credits. The commission will discuss the "urgently important" Austro-German proposals for a customs union, he said, when the matter is presented by Julius Curtius, Germany's Foreign Minister.

Henderson's Tribute.
The Foreign Ministers of 20 nations applauded as Arthur Henderson, the British representative, described Briand as the "embodiment of all that is best in the League of Nations and for the peace of the world." The commission expressed entire confidence in the French Minister, adding a hope that he would continue to guide the movement for unity in Europe.

Henderson acknowledged that Briand's status inevitably would be modified by his defeat for the French presidency, and even predicted his possible retirement from the French Cabinet. Such a change, he said, would be contrary to the desires of his European colleagues. Briand said he was deeply touched by the tribute and promised to continue his fight for the welfare of Europe, "though perhaps with hands not so strong as once they were."

The commission adjourned until tomorrow after adopting a plan of organization. It is thought in informed quarters that Briand would continue as the chairman of the present session, but would return to Paris before the end of the League council session next week.

Three-Fold Project.
Briand is expected to present to each national delegation of the commission a copy of plans for a new project for economic betterment.

Dispatches from Paris say that the plan is in three parts: the first dealing with European agricultural problems, the second with industrial problems, and the third with financial questions.

The feature of the first part the dispatches say, is European preference for wheat of Central and Eastern nations with a central sales office for grain from those countries and abandonment of the most favored nations' clauses.

The second part proposes organization for production and marketing, through existing industrial groups or the creation of new ones, for steel, heavy electric equipment, coal and chemical products, automobiles, textile wool, lumber. A close understanding between these various industrial branches is described as necessary.

Financial Aid From France.
In the third part the French Government offers to co-operate financially in the execution of the program, on condition that the Finance Committee of the League of Nations be the controlling organ for state loans for public works and for creation of foreign securities on the Paris Bourse. On the initiative of the Bank of France a number of French banks would be grouped to study conditions under which they would participate in investment operations abroad.

Austria gets special attention in the Briand project, which asks that European States that are customers of Austria give that nation special facilities to increase its exports abroad. Austria's commercial balance deficit is nearly $140,000,000.

Briand Expected to Retire From Foreign Ministry.
PARIS, May 15.—Aristide Briand, long in Geneva, has left in the minds of his friends here the conviction that he will insist on resigning as Foreign Minister when he returns.

After his defeat in the presidential election Wednesday, some of his intimates say, Briand expressed a belief that he had been betrayed by certain members of the Government who promised to support his candidacy but worked against him under cover. Briand offered his resignation yesterday but his Cabinet colleagues persuaded him to retain the post at least until his immediate tasks at Geneva were concluded.

Encyclical Letter on Social And Labor Problems of DayIssued on Fortieth Anniversary of Pronouncement by Leo XIII, Whose Program Pontiff Follows Out.By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, May 15.—A resumé of an encyclical to be issued by Pope Pius XI on the social and labor question was given out here today. It is entitled, "An encyclical letter of Pope Pius XI on the social and labor question, on the fortieth anniversary of the encyclical 'Re-rum Novarum,' May 15, 1931."
The text follows:
"Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, who has inherited from his great predecessor, Leo XIII, a sincere tenderness for the laboring classes, has not only encouraged the solemn commemoration which we are actually celebrating of the encyclical rerum novarum, published 40 years ago, he has moreover decided to make this commemoration a point of departure for the development of further projects."Seizing the present occasion, His Holiness is in fact on the point of publishing a new encyclical in which he will trace for the church and for the world at large the ample program which still remains to be realized before the bourgeois and splendid initiative of Leo XIII can be said completely to have attained its purpose.Together with the social on which the name of the new encyclical is engraved beside that of rerum novarum, the Holy Father desires to communicate in anticipation an outline of this important document to his beloved sons who have gathered from all parts of the world around the common father.Tribute to Leo XIII.
"They are a living representation of the whole world of labor and testifies to the reality of the social sentiments of profound gratitude, as well of the directors and captains of industry as of all Catholic working men."The encyclical derives its title, Quadragesimo Anno, from its first two words, appropriate chosen to indicate at a glance the anniversary which provides the occasion of its composition.It begins by recalling how necessary and how opportune was the publication of Rerum Novarum 40 years ago, a fact clearly revealed by the universal recognition which the letter then received, and by the happy place which it has deservedly held and still holds in the memory of successive generations, being universally regarded as a signal favor bestowed by God not only upon His church but upon all mankind.Three Ideas Developed.
The encyclical undertakes to develop three leading ideas. In the first place the Holy Father enumerates the foremost among the many principles which have resulted from Rerum Novarum."These are, for example, the giving of a solid foundation and an efficacious impulse to the development of sociology and economics
according to Catholic principles; the promoting of an ever more thorough and profound information of workmen in religious, moral and social subjects, thus rendering them more conscious of their dignity as men and as Christians, fitting them to protect the moral and economic interests of their class and to exercise prudence, and to become in this movement the leaders of their fellows, thus compelling the politically supreme liberalism of the time to yield little by little to new social policy more favorable to justice; the resolute and firm assertion of the right possessed even by workmen to form associations for mutual aid and legitimate defense of their common interests; a right which liberalism was endeavoring to impede by unjust abuse of power.Labor Organizations.
"In actual fact numerous associations, either of laboring men by themselves or of tradesmen, farmers or similar workers, grew up on all sides. These associations by putting into practice in so far as circumstances permitted the principles laid down by Leo XIII and confirmed by his successors, have merited well and still merit well of civilization and true social progress."With good reason therefore the Holy Father ends this first part of his encyclical by affirming that the experience of the past 40 years forces the conclusion that Rerum Novarum is the magna charta of all Catholic activity in the social sphere."In the second part His Holiness goes on to examine the points which lend themselves most to discussion or about which in view of the changed conditions of modern times, he deems it particularly necessary to speak in clear and authoritative language.
Part of Church in Social Problems.
"First the encyclical indicates once more, as Leo XIII had done, the full right and even the solemn duty of the church and of its head to intervene in social problems, not indeed in technical matters, nor for temporal ends, but insofar asLLOYD GEORGE SAYS PARTY IS CO-OPERATING, NOT TIEDAnnounces Liberals Will Meet to Start Campaign Against
'Bondage of Tariffs.'By the Associated Press.
BUXTON, Derbyshire, England,
May 15.—Former Prime Minister David Lloyd George in an address before the National Liberal Federation today affirmed the independence of the Liberal party despite its support of the Labor Government.
"I want to get rid of the idea that whatever we decide is the result of orders from anybody," he said, "certainly not from outside the party nor from the inside. We asserted that even in co-operation we should be an independent party but we interpreted it sanely, reasonably and practically. Independence isn't present when you are beaten huddled in a corner working with nobody and snarling at everybody."In reference to unemployment, the Liberal leader said his party had put forward a practical housing scheme as one remedial measure and that after numerous conferences with members of the Labor Ministry the Liberal delegate had said he was convinced that a really bold move would be made in that direction without delay. He announced there would be a campaign to save the nation from a "bondage of tariffs," to be initiated in a convention of Liberal and free trade delegates in London near the end of the month.BALDWIN READY TO FIGHT FOR AN EMERGENCY TARIFFSays It Will Be Adopted As Soon
As Conservatives Return to Power.LONDON, May 15.—Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party, told an audience of more than 5000 women in Albert Hall today that his party intended to adopt an emergency tariff as soon as it returned to power.
In an address to delegates from many parts of the country attending the conference of the Unionist Party Women's Organizations, he declared: "The time is good when we can leave our country open and free for the dumping of goods, produced under inferior conditions, from foreign countries or as a surplus of mass production from any country in the world."Such a tariff, he said, is the "only measure by which our people can enjoy equal conditions of competition with the world."PUNJABIS AND POLICE RAID

Is Impractical.PROPOSAL HAD HOOVER'S APPROVALHope Expressed That Pro-

Substantial Reduction in Acreage.By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.WASHINGTON, May 15.—The new marketing plan favored by President Hoover was formally rejected today by the Federal Farm Board, whose members are appointed by the President. In a letter to State Senator F. J. Wilmer of Washington, author of the plan, President James C. Stone of the Farm Board pronounced the plan inadequate and impractical. The letter, dated Wednesday, was made public today at the board's offices.The Wilmer proposal, as has been explained, is a modified version of the old McNary-Haugen plan, and like the latter, it aimed at the disposal of the surplus wheat crop in a manner that would not affect the price of the wheat sold and consumed in this country. Under present conditions that part of the crop which is sold abroad virtually fixes the price in this country.Under the Wilmer project it was proposed that farmers growing 75 percent of the crop be induced to sign contracts binding themselves either to hold on their farms or to deliver to an agency of the Farm Board, all the wheat not needed for domestic consumption, this surplus ultimately to be dumped abroad. It also proposed that they contract to limit their acreage in 1932 and 1933 to the area designated by the board.Hoover Converted to Plan.
In other words, the plan proposed to accomplish, by voluntary co-operation, what the McNary-Haugen plan proposed to accomplish by compulsion. President Hoover recently became converted to it, although he opposed the Mc-Nary-Haugen bill vigorously when it was before Congress.Experience has shown, Stone wrote Wilmer, that it is impossible to induce wheat growers voluntarily to limit themselves in this production and marketing of their crops on the scale proposed in the plan.
The history of all such efforts, he stated, has been "extremely disastrous."

A Question, Not of Morals, But of Taste.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I THOUGHT with regard to such plays as "Sappho," "Little Accident," "Apron Strings," etc., in my April 29 letter to the Post-Dispatch would at least entitle me to sit on the doorstep of ultra-moderns, but it seems that I am to be denied even this, or at least I rather as much from "Another Theater Goer's" letter in which I find myself classified as a Victorian in morals. Just as anyone who has followed that dispassionate, disinterested, coldly scientific inquiry of Westernmark into morals must realize that what we regard as moral today was at one time so many tribal customs which, arising originally in response to utility, have arrived at their present form due to the modifying influences of religion, industry, economics, etc. Due to association of ideas, these customs have come to be regarded as ends instead of means, which was their original status.

This means, of course, that there really exists no sacredness for the outside of utility and that, therefore, considering the fluctuations of history, it would be an exceedingly difficult matter to designate any one period as being morally superior to another. Thus, if narrow the subject to sex morality, the natural attitude of the ancient Greeks toward sex may have been equal or superior to our more puritanical one, for all anyone can say. Each system undoubtedly had and has its compensations and drawbacks.

I make the above point to show that my criticism of "Lysistrata" was not on moral grounds and that "A. T. G." erred in assuming so. I have no objection to the basic idea upon which Aristophanes built up his comedy. My objection is to his treatment of the subject matter. It is true that "Lysistrata" is a burlesque, but that does not excuse it. It is a burlesque comedy, which sends at times to obscenity, and its humor is often on a par with smoking-car stories. When these come to be told in polite company, it will be time for plays like "Lysistrata." Whether it is immoral, I, of course, will not venture to say, but I will emphatically declare that it is offensive to good taste.

THEATER GOER.

Thomas Dunn's Faith in St. Louis.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THOMAS DUNN, who left $1,400,000 in St. Louis real estate to be held until 1950, showed a confidence in real estate and in St. Louis, both of which were well founded. Real estate is a reservoir into which surplus values inevitably flow. Buildings depreciate with age, machinery wears out or becomes obsolete, merchandise usually shrinks in value if held over a long period, and gold so rapidly loses its purchasing power that a gold dollar that costs only four days' labor in colonial times, or one day's labor in the "dollar-a-day" times of 1896, buys only two hours of labor today and in some occupations less than one. Real estate values, however, go up steadily from decade to decade as long as population increases and prosperity continues.

Most of the real estate to be held intact by the Dunn estate is in downtown St. Louis. Its value will increase. By 1950 it may be worth many times what it is worth today.

H. G.

1190-1931.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE rich depth of England's historical background was dramatically emphasized the other day when the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, visited Jerusalem. The average layman could have little comprehension of the religious-political significance of the visit, but he could scarcely miss the historic implications in the record of the unbroken existence of the accepted site, Shalshale's precious stone set in a silver sea. Dr. Lang, thanking the Orthodox communion in Jerusalem for its welcome to him, remarks that he was the second prelate to visit the Holy Sepulcher as Archbishop of Canterbury, the other having been Archbishop Baldwin, who died while in Palestine during the Crusades in 1190.

From 1190 to 1931, from the Crusades to George V, a long time in man's reckoning, and the mere existence of England as a going concern through 10 centuries is impressive in a world of which, according to one of the most beautiful rituals in Dr. Lang's own church, impermanence is the chief quality. Those who are interested in historical parallels may see some further significance in the fact that Archbishop Baldwin in 1190 came with the Crusader and Archbishop Lang in 1931 as a guest on the yacht of J. P. Morgan.

M. C.

THE PARTY SYSTEM.

It is quite true, as Prof. Taussig of the Harvard department of economics has just told the Associated Harvard Clubs in St. Louis, that we have developed a party system in the United States as opposed to simple party government.

Prof. Taussig says a friend in Switzerland at the time of the latest tariff fight was puzzled to know how such a law could be enacted with an obvious preponderance of sentiment in the country against it. "The question took me about a moment," Prof. Taussig says, "but as I considered what had been going on in this country for the last 40 or 50 years, I found myself able to say something in explanation. This curious phenomenon, I answered, is the result not of accident or perverseness or pure demagoguery; it is a natural consequence of party government and the party system. I will not say 'party politics,' because that would imply there was something scheming or underhand in the influences that have led to it. No, it results from the nature or essence of party contest and maneuver. Not all of that is bad. Still less does it all rest on bad spirit or motive. But party contests do crystallize and accentuate differences of opinion and policy."

Ultimately all such systems, which differ from mere parties in that they at last put greed in the saddle, fall by their own weight. The history of the Republican party, which Prof. Taussig reviews, illustrates perfectly the evolution of party into a system. The Republicans did not mean to take the Government away from the people and then turn their backs upon popular clamor, as they did in the latest tariff fight. Their purpose was to win the elections, and they found a way to do it. It was to grant favors to privilege and then enjoy the immense support of privilege at the polls. Mr. Hoover gave a perfect exhibition in the tariff fight of the President's eventual obligation under such a system to his political makers. He knew perfectly the state of public opinion. His apology when he signed the bill revealed clearly the anomalous position in which the system had placed him. He apologized to the people, but he served the system.

Prof. Taussig is not the only voice to be lifted against this abuse of party. Senator Borah recently did the same thing. He said it accounted for the political phenomena which attended the oil scandal. The party was embarrassed, but the system escaped unscathed. Mr. Coolidge said when he was in the White House that "the business of the Government is business," which was to elevate the system to the dignity of statesmanship. The business of the Government is the well-being of the people. The schism in the Republican party is a natural cleavage between the party and the system. The insurgent Republicans represent constituents who are not among the beneficiaries of the system. Senator Moses says they are the sons of wild jackasses, but the eminent Harvard scientist knows better. He has given the Democratic party a perfect cue for the forthcoming national election. He observes that the Democrats also are nibbling at the system as a device for capturing the Government. Opposed by tradition to the protective policy which Prof. Taussig says has carried the Republicans much farther than they dreamed of going, the Democrats presented in 1925 the spectacle of themselves moving toward the flesh pots of government vouchsafed by those whose servant it is.

Prof. Taussig did not tell the Associated Harvard Clubs whether or not the man in Switzerland understood when the puzzling matter of the tariff law was explained to him. If not, we will venture that almost anybody in Spain understands it.

NOT A CHANCE.

Women are to blame. It is all their fault and they might just as well admit it. That's what Henry Stude, president of the American Bakers' Association, says. According to his explanation, "the foibles of Uncle Sam's daughters are costing our farmers at least $500,000,000 a year." They have quit wearing cotton, and they have abandoned wheat for dangerous diets. One is the cheapest clothing, the other the cheapest food. An increased use of both, argues Mr. Stude, would help our pocketbooks, our health and our Government.

Perhaps so. It is not for us to debate with a baker about the staples; but we may be permitted to suggest that there is nothing new about blaming it on the women. That alibi is as old as Adam. If it did not work in the masculine economy of the Garden, how does Mr. Stude hope to get it accepted today, with women sitting in the jury box?

WASHINGTON'S "PATRIOTISM" PSYCHOSIS.

A new form of professional Americanism has appeared in the State of Washington. It is a State law requiring university professors to swear allegiance to the Federal and State constitutions. Prof. Woolston, head of the State University's sociology department, characterizes it as follows:

The law violates the fundamental right of free speech, questions the freedom of teachers, and therefore is degrading to the profession.

Since when have the loyalty and patriotism of American citizens engaged in the lofty work of education become suspect? If teachers must take an oath of allegiance, the inference is that the Washington Legislature considers them a tribe of Benedict Arnolds intent on selling out the country.

What next? Will teachers in Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee be compelled to attend their anti-Darwinism in bloody vows? Will men seeking professorships be required to satisfy the tests of membership in the Ku Klux Klan? If it is such claptrap as the Washington Legislature has perpetrated that makes one wonder when the United States is going to grow up.

A NOTABLE NEWSPAPER DUEL.

The Manchester (England) Guardian, which last week received one of the two awards of the Missouri School of Journalism for conspicuous public service (The other going to the Baltimore Sun) has thrown down the editorial gauntlet on behalf of the land tax by which Chancellor Snowden proposes to save England from depression or possibly worse. The London Times has taken it up, accusing the Liberals of having political rather than fiscal aims.

Snowden, who represents the Labor party, and Lloyd George, who represents the Liberal party, may well welcome the support of so powerful a paper as the Manchester Guardian, with its long record of championship of the cause of the people. The Conservative press will array itself behind the banner of the London Times with equal enthusiasm. The battle will be a royal one, for it will decide whether England will proceed in the direction of land nationalization, for which the common people have been fighting for a quarter of a century, or throw that somewhat moderate proposal aside.

MISSOURI'S POPULATION TREND.

Figures released yesterday by the Census Bureau indicate that Missouri, in common with the nation, is near the era of stationary population that statisticians have predicted. True, the State showed an increase of 6 1/2 per cent in the decade ending 1920, as compared with a 3 1/2 per cent increase between 1910 and 1920. The day of large population gains has ended, however. The percentages of increase by decades for Missouri run in steady diminishing, as follows: 1870, 46 per cent; 1880, 28 per cent; 1890, 24 per cent; 1900, 16 per cent; 1910, 6 per cent. Immigration is no longer an important factor, and the birth rate has declined.

It is not from gross totals, however, but from figures on age groups that statisticians draw their conclusions. J. J. Spengler wrote recently in Scribner's Magazine of the national trend toward a population with increasingly fewer younger and steadily more older persons. Part of his article was reprinted on this page. The figures for Missouri show that in the last decade children under 5 years of age decreased from 9.6 to 8.4 per cent of the State's population. We have 7 per cent fewer infants of 1 year or younger than in 1920. On the other hand, persons between 55 and 64 years increased from 7 to 8 per cent of the population in the same period. In fact, all age groups from 1 to 34 showed losses, and all above 35 had gains. This means fewer persons in the reproductive period of life, and continues the trend toward fewer babies and smaller families.

Spengler expects the nation's population to become stationary by about 1950, and Missouri's figures bear out the country-wide trend he has observed. Its effects will be felt in every field, and with varying advantages. The business man and the investor are urged by this writer to prepare for an epoch of more uniform demand, without the stimulus of booms. Older men, he says, will find it easier to obtain work, and unemployment will become a smaller problem if employers, forewarned, adapt themselves to the new conditions. The population figures affect Missouri politically in the less of three Congressmen, but their social effects in a few decades will be more important. These statistics will be highly useful, in thus indicating our probable future, if they enable the State to prepare for the new era.

AS CUNNING AS EVER.

The place was the center span of the Ambassador Bridge which connects Detroit and Canada. The groom stood on the American side and the bride on the Canadian side, while a Judge pronounced them man and wife. She was a native of Scotland, denied entry into the United States on account of quota limitations. He could not get a marriage license in Canada because of a legal technicality. Which simply goes to show that although Cupid's business has fallen off these days, the little fellow is as cunning as ever.

COLUMBIA'S FRANCHISE DISCUSSION.

As the price of natural gas, Columbia is being asked by the Missouri Utilities Co. to extend for 10 years its present franchise, which still has 11 years to run. The proposal is discussed in a thoughtful editorial in the Columbia Daily Tribune, which comes to the conclusion that Columbia would be very unwise to let itself up for 21 years. The editorial proposes that Columbia should follow the example of Detroit "and grant nothing further than a permit to the Missouri Utilities Co."

The soundness of the Daily Tribune's position is unassailable. Under a permit, Columbia would retain home rule over the utility, assuring itself of fair rates and good service. Under a franchise it would forfeit its authority and leave the utility free to apply to the Public Service Commission for a valuation in accordance with the reproduction cost new theory, upheld in numerous decisions of the United States Supreme Court. Under such a valuation the public usually pays through the nose. Columbia has several important object lessons of the evils of franchises in the history of St. Louis and Kansas City utilities.

There is no need for the Missouri Utilities Co. to have a franchise extension prefatory to the introduction of natural gas. It can serve Columbia with this fuel with ample profit to itself without such an extension, and that is all any utility can properly ask. Columbia would do well to follow the advice of the Daily Tribune. That newspaper has learned the hard lesson of franchises, and if its readers do not profit by it, the loss is theirs.

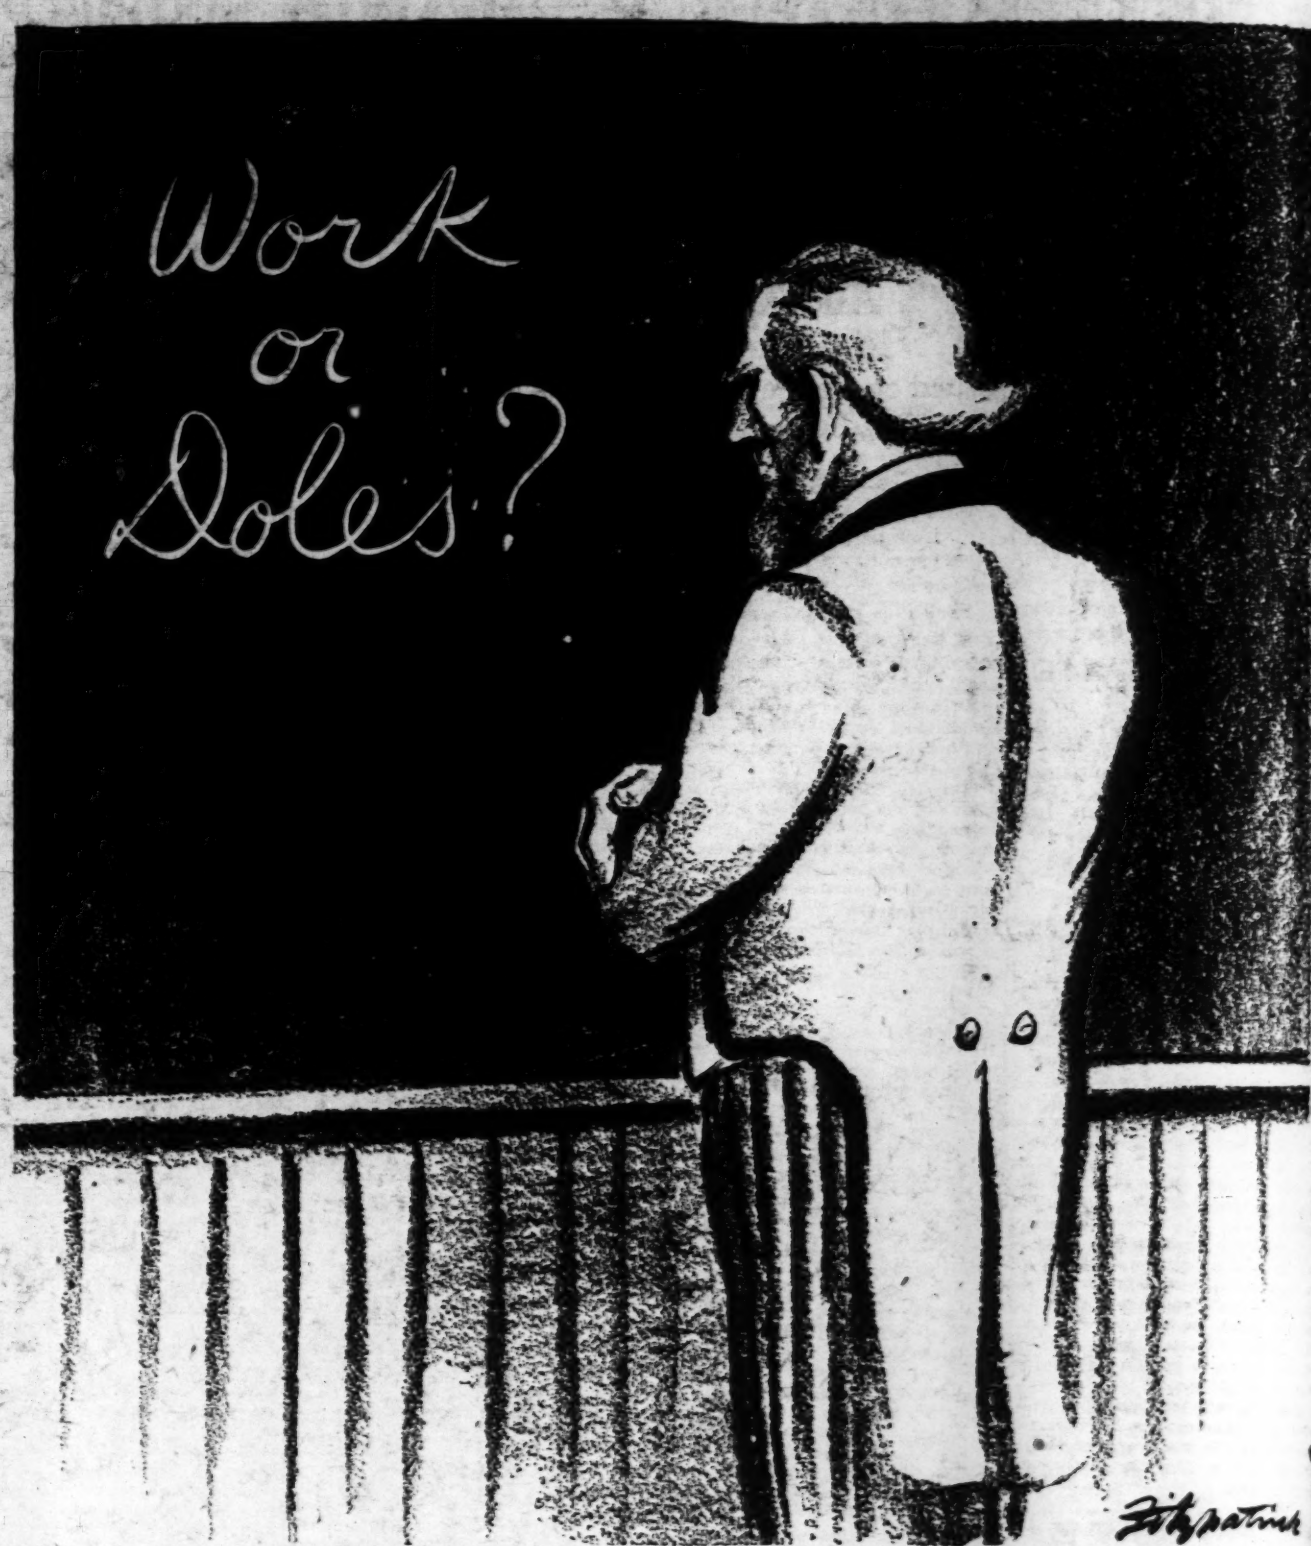

OUR FIRST GORILLA?

Yonnoh, the Zoo's new acquisition, is said to be the first gorilla to arrive in the Middle West. However, a collateral species not only exists but thrives here. We refer to that rudimentary form of animal life which may be found at any gang headquarters and which does the killing for the "mob." A gorilla, in other words, is a gangster of the less subtle type and, compared with him, Yonnoh is a perfect lady.

WELCOMING MISS OSTERBERG.

At the age of 18, Miss Louise Osterberg is reading her own book of verses under the shaded lamp, and St. Louis is happy to welcome the young lady to our company of poets. It is a distinguished company. This city has enriched American letters with the lyrics of Sara Teasdale and Orrick Johns, with Bert Loe's ballads, Zoe Akins' sprightly rhymes, the haunting cadences of Louise Dodge and the beauty of Virginia Moore's realistic muse. We have the heritage, too, of Eugene Field's tender genius, and we can never count our shining gold of poetry without a word of remembrance to that gentle, philosopher and patron of our talented sons and daughters, William Marcy Reed. Discerning readers of our Letters from the People will second our prophecy, we feel sure, that the comets occasionally contributed to attention and introduce the name of Cardinal Le Gros into the circle. There is something in our St. Louis atmosphere that brings our poets into lovely and accomplished bloom. We have no idea what it is, but whatever it is it is a rare possession. So, welcome, again, Miss Louise.

The Christian Herald is urging the construction of $200,000,000 worth of churches and parish houses to help the unemployment situation. That would be a convincing way to hammer home the gospel.

PROF. DONHAM PUTS UP A HARD PROBLEM.

Is Civilization Breaking Down?

Despite civilization's high material achievements, many observers think it has reached an impasse in social accomplishment; modern religion viewed as inadequate for mechanized society; science admits it is impotent in probing origins and finalities; abrupt check to economic prosperity, writes Dr. Otto Heller in a letter to the Post-Dispatch, arouses doubts as to stability of civilization.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A GOLDEN age of culture is not secure against the caviler, and for Horace it was "difficult not to write a satire." In the current period, in some ways more golden than the Julian era, in others decidedly pinchbeck, a host of observers seem to find it quite as difficult to suppress a Jeremiah. Much of well informed and earnestly uttered opinion arouses doubt whether our thoroughly materialistic civilization with its straying and short-sighted aims may not have reached an impasse. Humanity in the twentieth century is declared by many reflecting minds to be rapidly lapsing from its highest levels of attainment, because the tense pursuit of the "lower" end of the rainbow has led to the wind out of its sails for any farther ascent. The quick march of civilization is suspect of being a chase in which things are bagged and values trampled on. Or, perhaps, our fast tempo of living is only the final spurt of stragglers whose course is nearly run. The adult infanthism recognized by the sagacious Dr. Joseph Collins as a distinctive feature of the latest social phase may be merely an unmistakable symptom of senility.

The worst about such a gloomy appraisal of human affairs is that it is not easy to counter it with categorical denial of the facts on which it is based. In any unprejudiced survey of extant conditions, the breakdown of those institutions ordained for the useful restraint of the individual and the mass has to be considered, both as the possible sequel to past social errors and as the potential source of incalculable disaster. Anyway, the declining authority of time-hallowed controls will be readily conceded by all honest minds, however they may differ about remedies for the evil. Let us give a thought or two to some of the aspects of our plight.

We think, in the first place, of the waning power of religion over human conduct. It is in part through the inadequacy of its sanctions for a mechanized society like ours, and in part, to our greater shame, through the incapacity or insincerity of its professed believers, that its moral effect has been almost paralyzed. To an untold number of the faithful, Christianity is a creed, a ceremonial, a system—at the worst a lazy habit and at the best a church, but not a religion properly comprehended. The most potent function of religion in our public life today is to illustrate the vicious discrepancy between precept and practice. Lukewarm, merely formalistic religion is in a way a greater hindrance to the development of character than skepticism, agnosticism and other intellectualisms, for the reason that it conduces to moral inefficiency, whereas on the unbeliever it is incumbent to vindicate himself dynamically by worthy behavior.

Science, in its victorious progress, has lavished on humanity the boons of wealth, health and amazingly bettered conditions of living. It has increased man's material and mental resources, constantly opening up new opportunities of pleasure and contentment. But in spite of all we owe to science, it has proved a poor substitute for religion. The "common man" does not understand it, and for the "intellectual" it is insufficient, as it has completely failed to answer his paramount questions regarding the cause, cause of things and the sequel to this strange terrestrial interlude. In the region of origins and finalities, science today declares itself permanently ignorant, and between these deserted goals, too, the pretensions of scientific knowledge are shrinking. The explanation is not far to seek. In the words of an eminent physicist, all essays at a mechanistic accounting for the phenomena of life are baffled by the absence of common factors between the so-called vital actions and mechanical or physical forces. The two divisions of human nature are thus rendered incommensurable, though not necessarily irreconcilable.

In retreating from the impossible pursuit of finalities, both physicist and biologist modestly suggest that "the scientist should follow in his investigations the phenomena of the objective world only until their special forms of energy are absorbed by our nervous system." That is well enough if a man's reach does not exceed his grasp. But what if our ineffectiveness refuses to be arrested at the point "where objective stimuli have become subjectivized"—transmuted, that is, into emotion and thought? Must we then permit our tantalizing questions to be squelched, or let ourselves be blandly turned over to the mercies of the behaviorist and the psychoanalyst?

Significantly enough, many representative scientific thinkers, such as Whitehead, Jeans, Eddington, Haldane, Poincaré, Milikan, confessedly share the common predicament. So they leave the agnostic camp to become apologetes of religion, whether orthodox or heterodox does not matter. Within the brief stretch of a single week, the eminent discoverer of the "Compton effect" recently issued his formula for measuring interatomic space by means of light ray reactions and a tract arguing with scientific acumen the persistence of consciousness after death.

The sporadic spectacle of advanced spirits turning into the ancient religious paths in quest of metaphysical consolations is, however, of no perceptible consequence in a utilitarian society like ours. To give a new spur to constructive ethics, faith would have to be more intense and disciplined, and above all, more general than there is any probability of its soon becoming. A question of clearer bearing for the present generation is this: Whether the fundamental realities of our social structure are calculated to insure the continuance of civilization. Accustomed as we are to measure progress by outward show and to achieve our valuations by means of quantitative, not qualitative, analysis, we accept our fair-weather prosperity as a final evidence of all-wellness until sooner or later we are shocked out of our hearts' ease by the rumblings of thunder. To sensitive ears our valuations are audible at this very moment, and the critics are loudly wondering whether our pretensions are weather-proof. The state, the school, the home, the law, business, labor, pleasure—all are under scrutiny as to their public safety. There is much to say on these subjects, and I very much fear that I shall not long be able to repress my own Jeremiah.

OTTO HELLER.

Dean of the Graduate School, Washington University.

Alone at Hartford

From the New York Times.

WHEN Prof. Wilbur L. Cross, by a small but miraculous majority, was elected Governor of Connecticut in 1920, the voters failed to give him any aid with the Legislature. That remained strongly Republican. The result has been the usual one in such cases. Gov. Cross has been checked in his effort to carry out his election pledge that he would extend the powers of the Public Utilities Commission. Connecticut, which responded to his call for public service cooperation reform, omitted to furnish him with the means to achieve it. The Governor tried to help himself in his inaugural by interpreting the mixed result as a popular mandate that "partisanship shall give place to partnership." But it will require more than the election of an occasional Democratic Governor to convince the Republicans at Hartford that they are his partners.

Our Watch-Tower correspondent at Boston discusses the political effect of Gov. Cross's compromise in his appointments to the Public Utilities Commission. Should he have insisted upon naming Eros, Smith of Yale, who could never have been confirmed or should he have consented to reappoint Commissioner Alsop so that he might resign in return a confirmation of E. L. Taylor, one of his own engineering staff? The lost perhaps was a failure to strike a clear issue before the people between the Governor and the Republican boss, Mr. Roraback, who chances also to be president of the Connecticut Light & Power Co. The clear goal was to improve the commission by one member who presumably will not be subservient to the power companies. Gov. Cross will live to fight another day. While gerrymandering prevents the election of many Democrats to the General Assembly, the Governor may prove strong enough in another campaign to frighten the Republicans into co-operation.

Those who believe that the virtue of the two-party system is that one may always be held by the people as a threat over the other will wish increasing success to Gov. Cross. He has already made progress with road-building legislation and sanitation. His great objective is the Public Utilities Commission, and toward that he has a long way to go. Fortunately, though alone at Hartford, the Governor is not alone in all Connecticut. At Redding, Prof. Levitt plugs away at the commission. In the courts on May 26, the members must answer his outer suit, based on their failure to give grade-crossing eliminations. If the knights at Hartford and Redding can unite, with the commission caught between them, even the Legislature may not be able to play Bluecher's role.

RULE BY POPULAR VOTE.

WOMEN cannot serve as jurors in right to do so was passed by popular vote, not by the Legislature. That, according to the State Supreme Court, makes it unconstitutional.

Those who have been arguing that the eighteenth amendment was not properly adopted because the people were not allowed to vote on it in a majority of states should be interested in this decision. It should every one, for that matter, who believe that popular opinion is an important factor in lawmaking. From a technical standpoint the Illinois Legislature may have improperly delegated its power in asking the people to decide whether they wanted a law making women eligible as jurors. From the standpoint of common sense it did the right thing.

"MADAME BUTTERFLY" WAS FRIEND OF HERO

Missionary to China Tells How Her Brother Came to Write Opera.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, May 15.—"Madame Butterfly" in real life was as pretty as she is painted in the story and the stage doesn't flatter her," says Mrs. Marvin H. Correll, an American missionary to whom the little Japanese "housewife" girl told her troubles many years ago.

Mrs. Correll gave an account at a luncheon of the Pan-Pacific Club here of how the story happened to be written.

The name of the original was really "Butterfly" or "Cho-san" in Japanese, and it was by this name that she was known to Mrs. Correll and others of the mission. Her husband was, however, a Russian and not an American naval officer, as the opera has it.

Some years afterward, home on leave, Mrs. Correll related the story to her brother, John Luther Long, a Philadelphia attorney. She told her brother that she had met him next morning at breakfast showed her the completed manuscript. Long died seven years ago. He had not seen Japan when he wrote the story.

Mrs. Correll, now 80 years old, first landed in Yokohama in 1873. Afterward she and her husband moved to Nagasaki, and it was here that she became acquainted with little Cho-san, who lived on a hill where she could gaze out to sea day after day, hoping for the return of her lover. "Little Cho-san was as pretty as a picture, and every one liked her," Mrs. Correll said. "One day we heard that she had a lover, and after we heard of her expectant motherhood."

"The lover had gone, making promises that he would soon return. As we understood it there was to be a signal from the ship when he did come back, and we knew that little Cho-san was waiting by her window for the sign that he was never given."

Mrs. Correll was born in Hanover, Pa. She makes her home in Tokyo and for many years was in charge of the Christian Literature Society here.

HONORS PAID ADOLPHUS BUSCH

Bust Unveiled at School Named for Him.

A bronze bust of the late Adolphus Busch, brewer, was unveiled by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school named in his memory in a ceremony at the school, Hampton and Holly Hill avenues, last night.

August A. Busch, son of Adolphus Busch, and other members of the family gave the bust. The presentation speech was delivered by Harrison Will of the Parent-Teacher Association. Other speakers were Henry P. Schroeder, a member of the Board of Education, and William Hall Todd, principal of the school, and Arthur Stoehr, who has been in charge of the school since the newly developing Southwest part of the city.

Daily Article by Calvin Coolidge

(Copyright, 1931.)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 15.

AS THE returns are published from many concerns employing a large number of wage earners it becomes apparent that the policy announced by leading managers of industry that they would take care of their employees in preference to their stockholders is being observed. When the operations for three months show no profit it is apparent that the receipts have gone to pay the two great items of labor and taxes. The remarkable feature of this result is that there have been so few decreases in the rate of wages in extensive industries.

We have had unemployment on a total and partial scale, but this is the first acute depression of such duration where there has not been a radical reduction of wages. To a greater extent than ever before people have been taken care of and the property of the country has borne the expense and loss. We are not yet organized so that this system works to perfection. That will take time, but the principle has been recognized and become more effective than in any past experience that the wage earners hold a preferred position in time of depression. Those who have made this possible are entitled to a great deal of credit.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MRS. WALKER HILL of the Forest Park Hotel and Mrs. Bernice Morrison Fuller of the Senate Apartments, will spend the summer together in Europe. They will sail from New York June 5 for Cherbourg, and will tour Brittany before going to Paris. They will be abroad three months. Mrs. Morrison-Fuller's daughter, Mrs. Fuller Connell, who has been in San Francisco, Cal., for the winter, will go to New York to bid her mother bon voyage. She will return to San Francisco to live.

Mrs. William Maffitt, 4315 Westminster place, departed today for Hot Springs, Va., to spend the summer. She will occupy the summer home of her brother, the late Julius S. Walsh. Mrs. Maffitt will be accompanied East by Mrs. Maffitt, daughter of the St. Louis Country Club grounds, who will remain with her a short time.

Phyllis Kraeuter, cellist and Ruth Posselt, violinist, who will be the artists in the Schubert Memorial Concert next season, will appear in a joint recital this spring at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Faust, 1 Portland place. The date will be announced later.

Mrs. Edward F. Goltz, 4487 Lindell boulevard, is spending a month in Citronelle, Ala.

Mrs. Sheila Burlingame, 7669 Carrswood drive, Clayton, is expected home about May 20 from the East, where she has spent the winter in the interest of her art work. Mrs. Burlingame, a sculptor of note, has just completed heads of several prominent men and women in national politics. Mrs. Burlingame will visit Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gilbert in Reading, Pa., before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lambert Hobson of Boston have taken a house at Rye Beach, N. H., for the summer and will leave for the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Miss Geraldine Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard B. Allen, 4632 Maryland avenue.

Mrs. Charles E. Bascom, 52 Portland place, and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth Bascom, will sail Thursday on the Lafayette for Europe to remain until the middle of July, when they will return to Nantucket, Mass., where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

Mrs. John Barrett, 448 Carrswood drive, Clayton, will depart today for Washington to visit her sister, Mrs. Helen F. Tait, for several weeks. She will accompany Mrs. Tait on a trip to New York.

The chapel of the United States Military Academy at West Point will be the scene of at least eight annual graduation exercises following the commencement exercises, Thursday, June 11. The marriage of Miss Loretta Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Jenkins, 4155 Botanical avenue, and Roy K. Kauffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kauffman, 3564 West Pine boulevard, will take place there at 8 o'clock Friday, June 12. Mr. Kauffman is a member of the senior class.

Miss Jenkins will depart the last of May by motor with Mrs. Kauffman, and Miss Margaret Taylor, who will be a bridesmaid at the ceremony. The bride's best man, Philip Brown, Philadelphia, will be the roommaster's best man. The groomsmen will be a group of Mr. Kauffman's classmates, who will draw their sabers to form an arch over the bride's procession.

The bride will wear a summery gown of white lace, and Miss Taylor will be gowned in green lace. Lieut. Kauffman and his bride will be in a motorcade, followed by a dramatic recital of modern plays.

The Perry School Alumni luncheon will be given tomorrow at the Kings-Way Hotel. There will be an installation of officers, followed by a dramatic recital of modern plays.

The senior dance of Chamblaine High School will be given tomorrow night at Hotel Chase.

The Alumnae Association of St. Mark's School will give a card party tomorrow in the Knights of Columbus building.

"Vernissage" Held for 600 Invited Guests at the Old Courthouse.

The "vernissage" or pre-view and reception marking the opening of the second annual no-jury show of the Independent Artists of St. Louis, was held last night at the Old Courthouse, with more than 600 invited guests present. Formal opening of the show, which will run a month, occurred today.

Purchase size selections announced last night were: An oil painting by Mrs. Olive H. Chaffee, entitled "Deserted Mill," selected by the F. Weber Co.; an oil, "Peace Valley," by Mrs. Mary Eames, chosen by Albert Bader; "Ocher Glory," painted by Dr. E. A. Woelfel of Belleville, taken by Tanasok Milovich, "Evening Bells," chosen by Boyd-Richardson Men's Apparel Co., and a sculptural interpretation of "December," by Paul Carr, selected by W. O. Osterkamp and to be presented to the Froebel School.

Entertainment features last night were music by a 40-piece symphony orchestra directed by Noel Poepping, and by John Kessler, pianist; L. Ernst Walker Jr., violinist, and Benjamin Landau, vocal soloist, and dancing by Tamara Dariaeva and her students. The exhibition, composed of more than 300 works, will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily.

John McCormack in Irish Academy DUBLIN, May 15.—John McCormack, papal count and famous tenor, has accepted the vice presidency of the Royal Irish Academy of Music, vacated by the death of Lord Glenavy. THOUGHTS while strolling: Who remembers when cobwebs were applied to fresh cuts? Brock Pemberton's brother, Murdock, an art critic, Phil Baker's "stogie," Mr. Muldowney, who thinks "punch" is a small horse. Dance schools prosper during business depressions.

Henry Sell, a Whitewater, Wis., boy, who made good in the city. Nothing makes a man look so awkward as looking at his wrist watch. Gertrude Lawrence can never remember names, they say. The town's most highly educated head waiter—Engene of the St. Regis.

Walrus moustached whiff: wings who wear caps backward and smoke pipes upside down. Well-bred dogs named Rob Roy, Sign on a Seventh avenue quack lunch: "Cafe au lait and sinkers." A girl in a movie ticket cage sneaks a drag from a cigarette. Robert Reid, a Hickory (N. C.) boy, with a pink camellia bud in his lapel.

Whatever become of sleeve garters? Jack Lait, who can turn out a short story faster than any American writer, and is a grandpa. Nearly always a midjet along West Forty-seventh street. And I hear they are invariably able to make a good living despite their handicap.

Lads with drift to Times Square around dusk looking for a break. And the former burlesque comedienne who roams with a clouded mind talking to an imaginary dog. Wonder how a fellow happens to take up cracking whips as a career? I love to pronounce Helen Gahagan's last name.

Hurried dunkers in The Coffee Pots. Over-perfumed ladies who dabble in henna and call their boy friends "Sugar." Broadway in only sinister after-noon. By daylight it is as frank and open as a county fair. A police dog drags a giggling chorus girl along on tip toe. Futurist fellows with bloodless lips who are always perching. Any moment a narcotic officer may tap them on the shoulder. I'm getting the creeps. On a night like this I'd like to stretch out on the banks of the Ohio under a sky eyed with stars. Watching a gold-on moon shed petals about the lazy river. Or something.

STAR gazers who occupy the benches in Bryant Park these warmish nights are offered something by a strolling guitarist. He sings and thrums a short program without taking up a collection and moves on. To further the touch of romance to a crowded square he wears a black velvet tam. And looks like Wallace Beery.

WHEN weather and time permit, I walk the entire two-mile stretch of the Harlem Speedway out of the pedestrian jangle and offering a straightaway stroll without crossing intersections. Another regular promenade is an elderly man with whom I formed a bowing acquaintance. And now and then we exchange opinions of the weather. For several months I have missed him. Today he was there again to bestow a friendly smile and passing hand wave. And of such consequence is even a remote contact with cordiality in a big city's aloofness that I finished the walk in a sort of glow.

PERCY CROSBY gathers much material for his lovely cartoon character "Skippy" prowling about poorer districts of the East Side. Here childhood remains elemental. Kids are kids, an Elton collar, velvet coats and varnished hoops.

CROSBY a few years ago very generously asked me to express a preference for an original cartoon of his limning—which, incidentally, framed and photographed. My first choice was "Skippy" viewing a rural sunrise and exclaiming: "It is so beautiful I could bust somebody in the eye." But Mrs. Crosby had long before claimed LIFE once had a cover—I think by Crosby—showing the side yard of a village home with a tiny pair of pantofoles flopping on a clothes line. A tender sentimentalist of about six stood at the fence gazing at them. The caption was "Here." No other picture, and I've trotted through the Louvre, Luxembourg and Florentine galleries, remains so fixed in my memory.

MUNY PERA SEASON TICKETS MUST BE PAID FOR TOMORROW

Remittances Already Received for 75 Per Cent of Reservations; Delivery Starts Monday.

The Municipal Theater Association has set tomorrow as the final day for payment for season reservations to the 1931 Municipal Opera productions which begin Friday night, May 21, at the open-air theater in Forest Park.

This year's reservations are the largest in Municipal Opera's history. Nearly 75 per cent of the orders have been paid for by season subscribers and it is expected that today and tomorrow will bring in remittances for most of the unpaid subscriptions.

Delivery of tickets to season subscribers will begin Monday morning at the opera box office in the lobby of the Arcade Building. That office will also devote all of next week to the direct sale of season tickets, wherever, whenever. The single ticket sale for "Three Little Girls," the season's opening attraction, and for the other operas this summer, starts Monday morning.

May 25. Effective Monday, continuing throughout the opera season, the downtown box office will be open on weekdays from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The Sunday hours will be from noon to 5 o'clock.

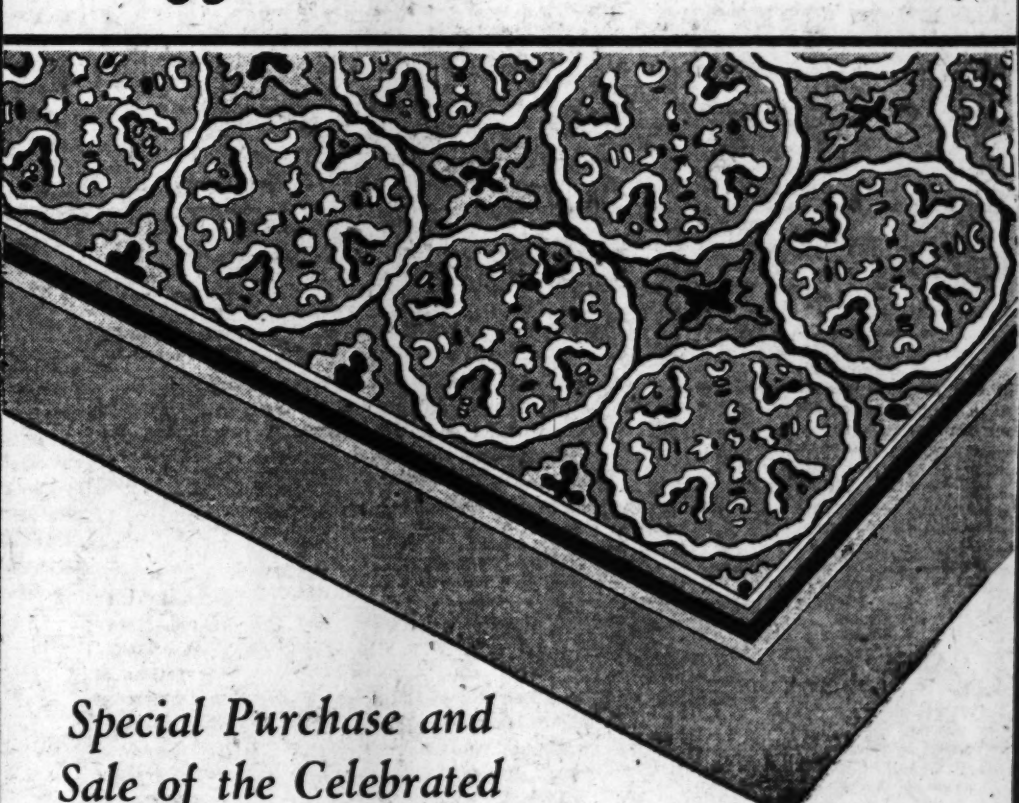

Choir at Graham Memorial.
Miss Jessica May Young, organist at Washington University and director of the University Choir, will give a recital Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Graham Memorial Chapel. The choir will sing also.

Every month the public has asked for more Pontiac cars

JANUARY FEBRUARY MARCH APRIL MAY JUNE

Last January we introduced the new Pontiac. The public took to it at once. In February sales jumped ahead. March beat February. Then April outdid March and now May is running ahead of April.

To make a record like that, a car must "have something." Pontiac isn't the cheapest car—hence price alone doesn't explain its popularity. We feel we must be right in calling Pontiac the "happy medium"—quality you won't do without, at a price you approve. In other words, a really outstanding General Motors value.

What, definitely, is offered in this car? Well, first, Pontiac's 60 h. p. motor is large, sturdy, smooth. It does all you ask without "laboring." Quick on the changing lights; nimble in traffic; fast in the open.

Pontiac's bodies by Fisher are insulated against heat, cold, rain. Seat springs have unusual depth—cushions are soft—seats adjustable for individual comfort. Upholstery is of genuine mohair or whipcord (fine leathers in open models).

Pontiac's chassis has four hydraulic shock absorbers and is also cushioned with live rubber at 43 points, so that road shocks are absorbed and riding is made easier.

Pontiac's brakes have the size and positive power to give you quick and smooth action.

The things you want in a motor car can be obtained in Pontiac at a moderate price. Better see it and drive it. Any Oakland-Pontiac dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration at your convenience.

PAPAL PROTEST MADE TO SPAIN ON CHURCH BURNING

In fields near the city and the situation generally was tranquil. Martial law still is in effect here and in Malaga, Seville, Cordova and other cities where incendiarism occurred.

Police Chief Dismissed.
Carlos Borero, Madrid Police Chief, has been removed, charged with laxity in putting down disorders resulting in the burning of church buildings. Ricardo Herrais succeeds him.

Minister of Interior, Miguel Maura, placed in charge of suppression of the disorders, stated that, after a protracted Cabinet meeting last night, the Government was "highly pleased" with the resumption of order throughout Spain, and the Cabinet did not consider it necessary to meet again to consider the situation until Monday.

The Government is particularly pleased with the loyal conduct of the army during the disorders and now feels confidence of military support. The Republic's orders have been obeyed implicitly by the troops.

Present Alcalá Zamora told the press that, although he had no proof, he was certain both the Monarchists and Extreme Lefts wanted to discredit the Republic and had taken advantage of the situation in recent days to do so.

Asked why the fires were not prevented by authorities, he said: "The principal reason was the surprise of the thing, complicated by the fact that there are so many convents. It would have required an entire army to watch every church building."

As to why the fires were not extinguished once they were started, he said: "That was not easy. Everything was a surprise. As soon as the mob started one fire, it went somewhere else and started another. Therefore, the fire department force was insufficient. There was some negligence by some authorities. They will be punished."

Many, if not most, of Spain's nearly 5000 convents and monasteries have been abandoned temporarily by monks and nuns, who have taken refuge in private homes. Most of these have refused to return even when local authorities have guaranteed their safety. In such cases, provincial officials have placed Government seals on the closed doors, established guards, and appealed to the people to respect the unoccupied property. It is thought the clerics will return soon.

Communist Group Arrested.
Meeting in an unauthorized assembly last night led to arrest of 14 Communists by police, who said they found a large quantity of arms and ammunition and many documents which indicated widespread activity by the organization. The group at first resisted arrest but yielded before drawn pistols.

A commission has been named to study the Spanish civil problem, including the cultivation of the large estates which now are untended. Hope is expressed that solution of this problem will cut down the possibility of further disorders by relieving the unemployment situation.

As an economy measure all Admirals and the Captain General have been eliminated from the pay list, and it is announced they probably will be retired or transferred to other posts.

Church Property Destroyed.
Damage to church property at eight of the principal riot centers outside Madrid is estimated at about $2,000,000. At Alicante, one of the places where the damage was heaviest, 15 churches and religious houses were looted or destroyed.

Three persons were arrested yesterday after a fire at a Catholic asylum for the poor at Malaga. It is understood the authorities are considering bringing the accused persons to trial before a court-martial.

When a crowd attempted to burn a convent at Molina de Segura, several days ago, a hundred Catholic orphans repelled it with sticks and stones, and surrounded the image of San Jeronimo and protected it from those who would have destroyed it. The mob was so moved by the children's zeal, it moved on. The riots of the past week were not the first in Spanish history directed against church houses by mobs. In 1835 several hundred persons were killed in similar riots and a number of religious houses burned. In 1893 about 18 persons were killed in a general strike at Barcelona and a number of convents destroyed.

WILLIAM LORIMER COMING BACK

Ex-Senator to Speak on "G. O. P. Crisis" on Illinois Tour.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 15.—Former United States Senator William Lorimer is going back on the stump. He is to make his first speech tonight at Carbondale, and then will go through each of the 25 congressional districts. In invitations to his meetings, Lorimer summoned Republicans to discuss "the crisis that now confronts" the party. His Chicago office said the former Senator was interested in the election of delegates to the Republican National Convention next year.

Lorimer was ousted from the United States Senate in 1912 on the ground that his election had been obtained by corruption. He faded from public view after that but remained quietly active behind the scenes in Illinois Republican politics.

TEXT OF RESUME OF ENCYCLICAL LETTER OF POPE

same principles of christian social philosophy, and their prudent application to capital, to labor, and to the relations between the two.
"Socialism, too, which has boasted of supplying a radical remedy for this same evil—a remedy which was worse than the disease itself—has undergone a profound modification since the days of Leo XIII.
Socialism and Communism.
"It has split into two divisions.
The first, which draws all the logical consequences, even the most extreme, from the principles of Socialism, has taken the name of communism and it is well known that its teachings can in no wise be reconciled with the doctrines of the church.
"The other, which continues to be known as Socialism, has frequently and notably mitigated its program. In many points it has approached, now more, now less, so close to Catholic socialist principles that some are asking themselves whether now the divergence is not one of name only.
"The Holy Father, however, does not hesitate to declare solemnly that this socialism (provided of course it really remains socialism) even in mitigated form and even though many points of its teachings are in themselves conformable to justice and admitted by the church, as nevertheless a fundamental concept of human society so different from the true concept given to us by the Gospel, that any agreement in doctrine remains always absolutely impossible.

"It is not possible to be at once a good Catholic and a true Socialist.
"At this point, the supreme pon-tiff, with fatherly affection, exhorts and entreats those erring sons who, deceived by false hopes, have gone to swell the ranks of socialism, to return without delay to the bosom of the church which they have done ill to abandon.
"He urges them to enroll themselves among those groups of generous men who, according to the principles given by Leo XIII, are striving with every nerve to establish on a sound basis justice and charity in human society.
Remedies for Present Ills.
"The holy father then passes on to indicate with greater precision the remedies for present evils.
"With keen insight he observes that the root of the disorder, both in the modern, economic world in general and in socialism, lies in a serious improvement of manners and to the establishment of the reign of justice by which the whole social and economic order should be inspired.
"Even then, however, a wide field will always remain open for charity which is and will ever be the only true and efficacious bond which can unite all men together and make them one single family.

"In this renovation of society on the basis of the gospel and of Christian charity all men of good will ought to concur.
"Peace Workers in Cause.
"On this account the Holy Father rejoices to see the initiative and zeal with which not only the clergy but also the laity in large numbers and even entire families, men filled with the spirit of Catholic action, are laboring in the various countries, and he stimulates them with fatherly encouragement to devote themselves untiringly to this noble end.
"For if a condition of affairs diametrically opposed to Christian principles were to prevail, as many times the disaster would be terrible. Strong as is in God's infallible promises, the church does not fear for herself, but she fears for so many of her sons, for so many souls who would be lost.
"All must work together, therefore, for the common good in complete harmony and discipline, each at his own post and in his own sphere seeking only the interests of good and the kingdom of Jesus Christ.
"With this paternal exhortation concludes the important document which the Holy Father offers as his dear sons, and through them to the whole world, wishing and imploring for all the blessings of heaven."
U. S. FARM BOARD REJECTS MODIFIED
MCNARY PROJECT

couraging" and the task of checking up on the performance of the contracts would be "enormous."
Forecasting that only 60 per cent of the 1931 wheat crop will be required for domestic needs, he pointed out that the success of such a plan would depend on the willingness of farmers to withhold 40 per cent of their crops from the market, and if only 75 per cent of the farmers signed such contracts it would be necessary for each signer to withhold about 50 per cent of his crop.
That any farmer would live up to such an arrangement while his neighbor was marketing an entire crop, increased the Farm Board as wholly improbable. It was the consensus of the board that 75 per cent of the growers could not be induced to sign contracts, and that if they were, they could not be induced to comply with them.
Neither did it believe that any substantial percentage of the growers would permit an outside agency to limit their acreage two years in advance.
"Importance of Reduction."
"The Federal Farm Board," the letter continued, "has emphasized the importance of a general reduction of wheat acreage in every region. Distressingly low wheat prices are bringing this argument home to the growers. Yet in some regions the reduction should be greater, and in others less, than the average. Every farmer who can find alternatives will do better to shift partly or wholly out of wheat raising. Some will have to quit, regardless of alternatives."
The Farm Board already has on hand more than 275,000,000 bushels of wheat, the result of its effort to stabilize the price of the 1930 crop by buying in the open market. No method has been advanced for disposing of this reserve without further depressing a price which already is below the cost of production. Pointing out that the winner plan proposed to withhold the surplus, but providing no concrete method of getting rid of it, Stone continued:
"The problem facing the country is not only one of control of the surplus after it has been produced, but of the sale of this surplus and the limitation of future production. The plan offers no help in solving the difficult problem of disposing of an existing surplus in a world market glutted with wheat. The Grain Stabilization Corporation has a heavy burden in carrying and disposing of the wheat that it will hold when the new crop begins to move. It would not be advantageous to add to this burden in the near future."
The board's conclusion is, therefore, that the plan does not afford a practical way of dealing with our wheat surplus problem.
We believe it would be impossible, even with intensive efforts, to get enough farmers to co-operate under the proposed contracts to save the plan a fair chance of success.
Whatever benefits the plan might yield would go most heavily to those farmers who did not share in its obligations. There is no assurance that it would actually yield the majority of signers better returns for their wheat than they will otherwise get.
"More important than any new comprehensive plan for national wide adoption is that wheat growers in all sections should know what the conditions really are, and be in position to take steps that are best suited to their individual circumstances and in their locality."
Among other things, the situation will encourage liberal feed use of wheat next summer by farmers who are in position to feed it on their farms. It will lead many farmers to store wheat on their farms in the hope of a better market. It will lead wheat growers generally to plan for substantial cullings of wheat acreage.
Both the substance and the tone of the letter tend to confirm the opinion held here that the Farm Board has determined to let the wheat growers take a dreadful whipping in the form of low prices on the 1931 crop, in the belief that they learn not to raise such surpluses. There will be a carry-over of July 1 of about 300,000,000 bushels from last year's crop, and this year's crop is expected to be 20,000,000 larger. Many experts forecast a price of 30 cents a bushel or lower.

NEW YORK LIFE HEAD HERE FOR CONFERENCE

Thomas A. Buckner Discusses Opportunities of Youth, Depression and Farmers.

Thomas A. Buckner, who rose from an office boy to the presidency of the New York Life Insurance Co. in St. Louis today to attend a two-day district meeting of his company, said the youth who starts at the bottom today has more opportunity for promotion than ever before.

"All this talk about huge corporations submerging the individual is a bluff," Buckner said at Hotel Jefferson, because they have widened, not hampered, the horizon of youth. There are more executive positions, greater opportunities for advancement than was the case even two decades ago.

"Too many young men want to start at the middle instead of learning every branch of the business from the ground up."

Buckner, who started with the company in 1899 as a 15-year-old office boy in Milwaukee and succeeded Darwin P. Kingsley as president three months ago, said he was "a great believer in business training."

Views on College Education. "I'm not belittling a college education," Buckner said, "but only about 50 per cent of the men who go to college have any business there. It is helpful only to those who have the capacity for that type of education. The others should get out."

"If a youth leaves college without a definite viewpoint of life he has failed, no matter how many degrees he may have. And by a viewpoint, I mean a realization that the world owes no man a living. On the contrary, every man has an obligation to humanity."

Business Increasing. Turning to general business conditions, Buckner, referring to the life insurance field as an accurate barometer of the economic situation, said that business of his company since March 1 has increased over that of preceding months and figures thus far this month indicate better business than in May a year ago. Demand for loans on policies is slackening, he said, regarding this tendency as a hopeful sign.

The stock market crash is a thing of the past," Buckner said, "but nothing can cure the human race of a propensity for some form of gambling. The speculative fever has been scotched for some time to come, but it will be up again."

There is no positive cure for unemployment, Buckner said, though it may be lessened by a realization that the right to work is an "economic and moral right." Distress in slack times may be alleviated, he thought, through the establishment of companies of reserve savings accounts for employees, constituting extra savings accounts for times of need.

Discusses Farm Problem. Buckner, who was born on a farm near Independence, Mo., 66 years ago, said it wouldn't do any good for people to go back to the land as long as there was an ill balanced market for farm products.

"The solution of the farm problem lies in the realization that there is an international market for food products," Buckner said, "and this market is constant. It is absurd in this age of efficiency to other lines to allow some nations to be confronted with famine while others have a surplus of food-stuffs."

The departmental meeting, participated in by 400 insurance men from Missouri, Southern Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico, opened at noon at Hotel Jefferson and will close with a dinner tomorrow night.

3 TOWN OFFICIALS, UNION LEADERS HELD IN MINE STRIKE Indicted as Result of Killing of Four, Military Patrol at Evans, Ky., Strengthened.

By the Associated Press.
HARLAN, Ky., May 15.—Two mine union officers and three officials of the town of Evans are in jail on murder charges as a result of recent strife between coal miners and operators. Col. Dan M. Carroll, in charge of Kentucky National Guardsmen brought to Harlan County to quell disorders, strengthened the military patrols at Evans last weekend after the arrests led to further trouble. This step was taken after the arrest of William H. Hightower, president of the local union at Evans.

Hightower and the other four were indicted in connection with the slaying of four men in a fight last week. The other Evans arrestees are W. R. Jones, secretary of the Evans union; Am. Cusick, Evans Police Chief; A. L. Benson, Assistant Chief, and Joseph C. Wood, Town Clerk. They are held without bond.

The union president had criticized Gov. Sappington, saying the agreement to send troops here provided that civilian mine guards be disbanded. Troops have replaced guards at several mines, but only when operators have so requested. Hightower said the military authorities sided with the coal operators.

ILLINOIS STATE POLICE HEAD CONFERES WITH GOV. CAULFIELD

Discusses Matters Relative to Highway Patrol to Be Formed in Missouri.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 15.—Walter L. Moody, Springfield, Ill., superintendent of the Illinois State Highway Patrol, visited Gov. Caulfield at the State house, conferring with the chief executive relative to the Missouri highway patrol to be created next fall under a bill passed by the recent Legislature.

Moody, en route to Springfield after the annual convention of Police Chiefs of Missouri, explained the workings of the Illinois road police in general.

Caulfield will appoint the head of the Missouri force when the new law becomes effective this fall. The Governor said the Missouri superintendent probably would be sent to Springfield to confer with the Illinois superintendent and study the system in that and other states.

The Governor has received numerous applications for the superintendency of the patrol, to eventually be made up of the superintendents of 10 district divisions and 114 patrolmen, under the new law, together with many requests for the patrolmen.

FAVORABLE REPORT TO LEAGUE ON BUDGETING ARMS LIMIT American Government, However, Prefers Method of Restricting by Categories.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, May 15.—A satisfactory working of the budgetary system of limiting armaments is possible, an international committee of financial experts has reported to the League of Nations.

The United States objects to the system of financial limitation for itself and prefers the method of direct limitation by enumeration, holding that "it is harder to conceal the existence of a rifle than to conceal the application of the dollar."

The budgetary experts were directed by the Preparatory Commission for Disarmament to study the methods of publicity and of limitation of expenditure provided for in the disarmament convention completed last December.

This draft, which will be the basis of discussion when the general disarmament conference meets next February, provides for budgetary limitation and for publicity on total expenditures on land, sea and air arms.

Although the German Government supported direct limitation rather than financial, the German member of the expert group concurred in the committee's finding that the budget method is practicable.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN ILLINOIS COAL PRODUCTION REPORTED

Mines 200,000 Tons a Week Behind Output for Same Period Last Year.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—Illinois joined other mining states in increasing total production of coal during the last week of April and the first week of May.

Production of soft coal showed a slight increase during the week ending May 2, with the output estimated at 6,447,000 net tons for the country, a gain of 133,000 net tons or 3 per cent as compared with the preceding week. Production during the corresponding week in 1930 was 6,314,000 net tons.

The total production of soft coal during the present calendar year to May 2, approximately 104 working days, amounted to 134,010,000 net tons, the lowest figure for corresponding periods in 10 years.

Illinois mines produced 675,000 tons during the week ending April 25 and 650,000 net tons during the previous week. These figures are 200,000 tons under those for corresponding weeks a year ago.

Because of business depression the tonnage mined mechanically decreased in certain states, but the majority there was a large increase. Illinois, with a 143 per cent increase, was fourth among the states that showed increased mechanical production.

In 1930 the total output in the state by mechanical mining was 18,252,000 net tons. Last year this output was increased by 4,551,000 net tons.

TEXAN MAKING
CACTUS GARDEN A THING OF BEAUTY Seeks to Assemble All of the 200 Varieties of Common Desert Plant.

By the Associated Press.
DEL RIO, Tex.—H. C. Crawford has 2000 cactus plants in his garden and expects to have around 20,000 within a short time.
"The cactus is beautiful although people are just beginning to realize it," Crawford said. "For ages they have been the ruling color of the desert. Their flaming colors, red, violet, pink, yellow, white and gold,
are as pretty as one could hope to see. A variety of cactus displays all the colors of the rainbow in the blossoming season.
Some cactus blooms at night and closes at dawn; others open at dawn and close when the sun rises; others bloom through the day and still others open and bloom

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1931 only during twilight, then close as soon as the moon rises.
Crawford has cactus from Mexico, Argentina, the West Indies, Arizona, Cuba, New Mexico and many parts of Texas.
As he builds up his garden, Crawford is experimenting with grafting.
There are more than 200 varieties of cactus, all of which Crawford hopes to have represented in his garden.

GETS 4-YEAR TERM FOR FRAUD Englishman Got $325,000 From Ford and Harvester Companies.
LONDON, May 15.—Convicted of defrauding the Ford Motor Co., Ltd., and the International Harvester Co. of Great Britain of approximately $325,000, Bryn-James Owen, 35 years old, was sentenced to four years in prison today in Old Bailey Court.
Owen pleaded guilty of forging letters which represented that the British Government would allot
the two companies large contracts to supply tractors for the Dominions. He obtained the money by persuading the companies that they must defray the initial cost of the enterprise.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES TO MEET
National Officers to Address Pension Plan Association.
A mass meeting of all railroad employees will be held at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock tonight by the Railroad Employees' Pension Plan Association. The organization plans to obtain passage by Congress of a measure to provide pensions for railroad workers in every department, supervised by the Interstate Commerce Commission.
John O'Sullivan, 1120 Louisville avenue, is chairman of the St.
Louis organization. Speakers will include officers W. W. Royster, Glenwood, Minn., national chairman; J. A. Filbert, Chicago, national secretary, and T. A. Oakes, Chicago, national treasurer. J. W.
Miller of Eldon is organizer for Missouri.

Two Arrested for Holdup.
Victor Bettin, 4607 Newberry terrace, reported to police this morning that two men beat and robbed him of $20 as he and a woman companion were leaving a saloon at 3909 Enright avenue. Two men were later arrested and identified by Bettin.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
U. S. HAS LONGEST LIGHTED AIR ROUTE
Radio Signals Guide Pilots—Night Flying Far Exceeds That of Europe.

By the Associated Press.
OAKLAND, Cal.—Twenty-one directive beacons guide the pilots of transport airplanes from the Golden Gate to the Statue of Liberty in the new 25-hour transcontinental service.
The Government has invested approximately $1,000,000 installing beacons and lighting emergency fields on the 2700-mile long route between the seaboard, making it the longest lighted airway in the world.
Other claims of "biggest" and "longest" are the number of weather reporting stations, radio-telephone equipment and the heavy mail carrier, transporting 50 per cent of the nation's air mail.
Night flying of Boeing and National Air Transport lines for the year will total 7,000,000 miles, more than the combined mileage of European nations.
Calculations of wind drift, air speed, compass variation and deviation, and determination of proper time intervals for course changing have been done away with on this artery, the pilot flying according to radio signals.
The radio-directional service and constant weather reports aids the pilot in flying the route under conditions of poor visibility, for if he is a little off his course to one side the radio signal "A" will predominate, while if he is to the other side the "N" is heard more distinctly.

JOBLESS WILLING TO TAKE ANY SORT OF EMPLOYMENT Citizens' Committee's Bureau Able to Supply Workers For Every Task.

Even the smallest sort of odd jobs, such as one to wash an automobile for $1 and carfare, are welcomed by unemployed men registered with the Citizens' Committee on Unemployment. Held at 2925 Washington avenue, the committee has announced. Some real estate agents have been taking some of these men to clear premises being rented after periods of vacancy.
Some of the odd jobs around homes for which capable men are available were listed as follows:
Repairing and refinishing furniture; fixing radios, electric refrigerators and washing machines;
upholstering, making slip covers, laying linoleum and carpets, cleaning rugs; putting in window cords, shelves, doors and closets; repairing fences, window screens, roofs and garage doors; replacing broken glass, building chests, fixing plumb-ing, painting inside and out, washing walls, cleaning paper, washing woodwork and windows, white-washing basements, tuck pointing, hauling away ashes, hand painting automobiles, seeding and spading gardens and planting grass seed.
The committee's employment bureau may be telephoned at Central 0431.

High School Instructor Dies.
Miss H. Arma Thompson, instructor of English at the Sumner High School, died yesterday of complications, following an operation for appendicitis. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Central Baptist

MAKE Strawberry Jam IN 12 MINUTES!

Follow this amazing short-boil way that reduces actual boiling time to one minute. Saves 2½¢ on every glass you make. Gives better tasting jam. Plenty of good fruit now on the market.

STRAWBERRY JAM . . . delicious tasting, S flavorful strawberry jam . . . made in less than 12 minutes! This is the season to make it. Impossible as it seems, any woman can accomplish this now—no matter how limited her jam-making experience may have been. Certo and the Certo recipes make this magic possible!

With Certo, you see, only one minute's boiling is required. A few minutes to bring to a boil, add Certo, boil one minute . . . and your jam is done. In 12 minutes it is child's play to have it cooling in the window.

Because of the one-minute boil no fruit juice boils away! As a result you usually get half again more glasses from the same amount of fruit. Often you save 2½¢ on every glass. And Certo eliminates the chance of costly failures. If you follow directions, your jam will have a fuller flavor and a daintier texture than you've ever known before.

Put up strawberry jam. Put up strawberry jelly, too. With Certo it is easy. Certo is a pure fruit product—a concentrated fruit pectin. And pectin, you know, is the substance in fruits which makes jelly "jelly." Certo is a product of General Foods Corporation. At all grocers.

Under the Certo label you will find 93 recipes. Each has been carefully worked out for use with Certo. Please remember that in making jam and jelly every fruit is different. No one recipe can be made to fit them all. That is why we developed definite scientific recipes for each fruit. These 93 recipes are your absolute guarantee of perfect jams and jellies with any fruit you care to use.

BOTH NEW AND OLD POTATOES IN MARKET

A Successful Cook Must Needs Know How to Cook Potatoes Perfectly.

Potatoes are unusually plentiful in the market right now, both old potatoes and new ones. The housewife may take her choice. As potatoes are served at least once a day all year round in most American households, they are undoubtedly one of the most popular vegetables we have.

Potato cookery is simple, yet in many instances this vegetable is served either mushy or soggy or else only half-cooked and unpalatable.

Even so common a dish as plain boiled potatoes, to say nothing of fluffy rice or mashed potatoes and meaty baked ones, can be made into the most interesting dish at a meal if well cooked and served.

Potatoes are more often boiled than cooked by any other method. A properly boiled potato is white and mealy, not soggy and dark, and a delicious dish when seasoned with salt and pepper and served with butter or pan gravy, made from the meat drippings.

How to Boil Potatoes. Potatoes for boiling, may be cooked, pared or unpared. But since some of the valuable mineral salts and starches are lost in the water during cooking when the potatoes are pared it is better to leave the skins on when they are boiled. As a great deal of the mineral salts lie so close to the skin when the paring is removed a world of good elements are lost.

Whether pared or not they should be dropped into just enough boiling, salted water to partly cover, and the boiling potatoes should be covered with a tightly fitted cover and cook until tender. As soon as they have finished cooking drain thoroughly. Then uncover and shake them over a low flame to dry. Then peel and serve at once. A few sprinkles of paprika or finely chopped parsley and a bit of melted butter will give them the necessary finishing touch.

Mashed Potatoes. Pare and boil the potatoes and mash them while hot, to get good results. Drain the water from the potatoes or as soon as they are taken from the stove, retain the water, as it contains valuable food elements. Part of it can be used with the milk and cream to add to the potatoes after they are thoroughly mashed or used as the liquid in gravy or soup. Only add enough moisture to the mashed potatoes to make them creamy, yet not too wet. Add melted butter and seasonings and beat the potatoes vigorously. It will help make them light and fluffy and white. To be at their best, serve at once.

Baked Potatoes. At this time of the year baked potatoes are greatly favored. Many home managers complain that they are not able to bake potatoes so they are dry, mealy and short. First of all select potatoes that are the best kind for baking. Clean them well and grease lightly. If potatoes are of uniform size they will all finish cooking at the same time. Medium sized potatoes should be baked in a hot oven for about 45 minutes while large potatoes will require about one hour. When they are done they should be soft enough to dent easily if pressed with the fingers. As soon as they are removed from the oven pierce them with a fork to allow the steam to escape so they will not be soggy. Serve at once.

New Potatoes. New potatoes when young and tender need not be peeled. Scrubbing them with a brush will suffice in most cases. New potatoes are seldom served mashed as they are too watery. Most persons relish them best when served with a cream sauce flavored with bits of parsley. Another favorite way of preparing new potatoes is to boil them whole and serve with drawn butter and parsley. They may also be boiled and then browned in the oven for just long enough to brown them.

BROCCOLI ON TOAST Very Appropriate And Wholesome Luncheon Service. Meeting the requests for recipes for cooking broccoli is one of the favorite ways the food expert has of responding to her spare moments. Being a comparatively newcomer to these shores, broccoli recipes are not included in many cook books, so the home cook, when she desires to serve this vegetable, must needs apply elsewhere for directions for preparing the vegetable.

Here is an appetizing way of serving it.

Broccoli on Toast. Pick over fresh berries. Do not stem or wash them, but arrange them in a shallow pan in one layer. Keep at refrigerator temperature. Good fresh berries will keep for a day or two if treated this way.

To Keep Berries Fresh. Sort over fresh berries. Do not stem or wash them, but arrange them in a shallow pan in one layer. Keep at refrigerator temperature. Good fresh berries will keep for a day or two if treated this way.

Many Varieties of Bread. Remember to use a variety of bread in planning meals. Wheat bread one meal, rye another, whole wheat or bran bread rolls, biscuits in a number of flavors, nut muffins, blueberry or cranberry muffins—all these are fine and none are hard to get or to make.

STUFFED BAKED PORK CHOPS AND PORK CHOPS AND RICE
American Are Credited With Eating More Pork Than Any Other Meat.
Each loin chop should be about two inches thick. Cut in through the center of the chop down to the bone.
Make a corn-bread dressing of one cup cornmeal, one cup sour milk, one egg, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon soda. Pour into a greased pan and bake 25 minutes, or until it is firm to the touch (350-degree oven). Cool the bread, add one tablespoon finely chopped onion, one raw egg and a few tablespoons of milk and make the dressing in flat patties.
Open the slits in the chops and slip a dressing patty in between the pork chops. Bake in a hot oven, 375 degrees Fahrenheit, for one hour. After the pork chops are seared well add salt and pepper. Add sufficient boiling water to keep the meat moist.
When the chops are tender remove and add boiling water to the rich liquor in the pan and thicken for gravy.
Pork Chops and Rice.
Brown the chops quickly in a pan, using butter. Have rice boiled until tender, and drain. Place the chops in the bottom of the casserole and cover with the boiled rice. Add salt and pepper to taste. Pour over this the can of tomato soup. Cover. Bake slowly one hour or more.

MAKE A LUSCIOUS FROZEN STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

Another Name for This Delectable Sweet Is Strawberry Icebox Cake.

Bake a sponge cake about one-half inch in thickness. Cut the cake to fit the deeper pan of the automatic refrigerator.

Sweeten one pint of whipped cream with four or five tablespoons of sugar and fold in the stiffly beaten white of an egg. Place a layer of this over the cake. Then crush and sweeten one cup of ripe strawberries. Do not use any little green tips of the berries. Add the remaining whipped cream and place in the refrigerator to freeze.

Serve in slices or squares with unfrozen whole berries on top. It takes from three and a half to four hours for the cream and berries to freeze. The cream is the only part of the dessert which is really frozen. The berries are partially frozen. The layer of cream placed on the cake before the berries are added keeps the berries from soaking the cake and giving a less attractive service. The frozen mousse or cream gives it just a little more body. The fruit freezes more slowly and the cake does not freeze at all.

ONE-DISH DINNER

Pork Tenderloin and String Beans Combine Well.

Place eight large pork patties in bottom of a deep pudding dish and fry on one side; then remove from fire and turn patties; place catsup over each patty and cover with one quart can of drained string beans; cover with a white sauce made by using the following: Four tablespoons shortening, one-third cup flour, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika and one and three-fourths cup milk. Cover with a biscuit dough crust. Bake in a moderately hot oven until the biscuit crust is thoroughly baked. This will take about one-half hour or more.

PLANNING MEALS FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

Seasonal Meats and Plenty of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables Are Suggested.

A roast of spring lamb may be selected for this week's Sunday dinner. Where there is a large family it will be more economical to buy the whole hind quarters rather than the leg alone. For a smaller family a small leg, a boned shoulder or a loin roast may be used. Now that fresh mint is in season in most places, mint sauce adds just the right flavor to the lamb, or if a sweeter sauce is liked try currant mint sauce, made by adding finely chopped mint leaves to softened currant jelly.

There should be enough lamb left over to serve the next night, as suggested, reheated in a cream sauce and accompanied by mounds of boiled rice. The sauce used for the reheated lamb must be well seasoned and savory to be enjoyable. A good one, for four servings, is made by adding one-half cup lamb gravy to one and one-half cups cream sauce, seasoning with one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, two tablespoons minced parsley, one-half teaspoon grated lemon rind, salt and pepper. Add two cups lamb cut in dice to this, heat over hot water and pour over boiled rice. Rice can be quickly and easily shaped in mounds after it is cooked and drained by packing it with a spoon into a small tea cup or a large egg cup, then turning out on a hot plate. Garnish with a sprig of parsley.

When eggs are cheap is a good time to indulge the family liking for angel and sponge cakes. This week angel cake is used with the ice cream on Sunday and sunshine or gold cake served at supper time. In making the angel cake, two of the left over egg yolks may well be used for an orange icing that will combine well in flavor with the pineapple sherbet.

Now that the weather is getting warmer thoughts turn to outdoor meals. In some sections May is not too early to plan for these, and this week a Sunday supper is suggested that can be served as a picnic meal, as a buffet supper indoors or in the regular manner. There may be enough vegetables left over from Sunday's supply to make a pot of vegetable soup for Monday's lunch, or it may be more convenient to open a can or two of prepared soup, using either milk or water to dilute it.

When cooking rhubarb for the tart for Monday night, cook enough to combine with rice (also cooked that night) and an egg to make the pudding for your day's lunch. Also plan to cook enough asparagus to have some to serve cold with vinaigrette sauce on Tuesday night. It takes almost no extra time to keep one meal ahead this way, and it makes meal planning less of a burden each day. In fact, it makes it lots more interesting.

Romaine lettuce, chicory, endive, young dandelion shoots, watercress, field salad and escarole are to be found in most large city markets and in many smaller ones. Plan to use as many varieties of salad greens as are in market. Some of them are delicious cooked also.

To a
business man:

Those breakfasts you hurry through—those lunches you think so hearty—maybe they are the reason you feel listless by afternoon. For it isn't how much but what you eat that counts.

You need each day a variety of mineral salts. You must get life-giving vitamins too. But many a hearty meal is sadly lacking.

Why not eat Kellogg's whole wheat Biscuits every day for a week? These delicious new whole-wheat biscuits are certified for food value by a prominent analytical laboratory. Two biscuits with milk or cream will supply more than a third of your daily mineral requirement... altogether 10 different mineral salts and 6 vitamins.

Deliciously flavored biscuit. Made of crunchy wheat shreds. Double toasted. Order them today. Eat them before going to bed. Delightful with fruits or honey. Notice the certified analysis of food value on every red-and-green package. Sold by grocers. Served by restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

—for instance, both romaine and chicory may be braised. By purchasing a large head of either, the smaller leaves may be used for salad one meal, and the rest braised for another meal. To do this, wash the leaves, leaving them whole or breaking in two or three pieces. Put a little butter in a heavy frying pan, add the greens and just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. A chopped scallion, or spring onion, may be added. Cover the pan and cook slowly for 20 to 25 minutes. Chop the greens, but do not drain, season with salt and pepper and serve hot. Spinach may be cooked in the same way.

A Culinary Hint.
Serve hot sauces very hot and cold sauces very cold.
Blend fat and flour and seasonings thoroughly before adding liquid.

TECHNIQUE OF EGG COOKERY

Why and Whereof of a Successful Egg Dish.

Certain technique is recommended for cooking certain foods in order that the finished dish be palatable and wholesome.

Since the principle of all egg cookery may be summed up as "long cooking at a low temperature," all the dishes that have eggs as a basis should be baked slowly in order to have a tender, fine textured, perfect product.

It is well to remember that a great deal depends on having a "light hand" when cutting and folding the stiffly beaten egg whites into a mixture. So if you want a light, fluffy soufflé or a dish that requires the folding of beaten egg whites, remember to cut and fold lightly and never beat them in. Otherwise you will beat out all the air you have carefully beaten in.

WELL WORTH READING

Explanations Frequently Smooth Things Out
The main difference between the culinary expert and the average home cook lies in "the knowing why." This is a little instance: Many housewives think that tomato and milk cannot be combined without adding baking soda to the tomato juice or soup. This is not necessary nor is it the correct thing to do. The vitamin content of tomato juice is destroyed when soda is added.

Milk will not curdle in tomato juice if both the milk and tomato are heated and if the tomato is added slowly to the milk. This means that the acid is added slowly to the milk. When the milk is added to the tomato it curdles because it comes in contact with the concentrated acid. The flavor of tomato and milk combination is better when soda is omitted.

HOW TO BROIL STEAK IS EASILY LEARNED

Lesson Supplied by a Member of the Masculine Sex With Culinary Ability.

Steak is a general favorite and true it is that in at least eight cases out of ten it is seldom cooked just right. Here is a chance for housewives to increase their knowledge on the subject.

There is nothing that gives the same flavor to broiled meat as cooking over red-hot coals, but since such a method can seldom be used in these modern days, a gas oven or electric grill has to be made to do.

In the words of the classic old recipe, "first catch your hare," or in other words first select the steak. A sirloin, good and thick, is first choice—and by thick is meant from one and a half to two inches. This will be a large steak and will probably weigh about three pounds or more. So if a smaller one is desired, use a porterhouse cut or a top round cut from prime beef.

Heat the broiler about 15 minutes before starting to cook the steak, as it must be sizzling hot to start right. Spread the steak out, trim off any superfluous fat, but leave a generous amount on as it adds flavor to the meat. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and rub a teaspoonful of vinegar into each side. Put the steak on the hot broiler, place the broiler so that the meat is about four inches below the gas flame and cook for two minutes to sear the surface. Turn the meat with a fork, and be careful to stick the fork into the rim of the meat rather than the center so that none of the precious juices may be lost.

Cook the meat from 8 to 10 minutes on each side if it is two inches thick, or 5 to 8 minutes on each side for a steak one and one-half inches thick. This makes a rare or a medium done steak. Have ready a large hot platter on which has been melted one tablespoon butter seasoned with paprika and a dash of lemon juice or Worcestershire sauce. Place the cooked meat on this, dot with two or three little pieces of butter over the top, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve as quickly as possible.

Onion Rings.
Baked or French fried potatoes are best with such a steak and, to many minds, absolute perfection comes if friend onion rings accompany it. For these cut sweet Bermuda onions across in thin slices not more than one-eighth inch thick. Soak in milk for half an hour, then drain, put in frying pan with two tablespoons melted butter to a large onion, cover and cook for 10 to 15 minutes, or until the onions are tender and golden brown. Season with salt and pepper. Or they may be drained from the milk, dipped in batter and fried until crisp in deep fat.

Serve a plain green salad or one of tomatoes and cucumbers with this combination and a favorite dessert with plenty of coffee—no better feast is possible.

SEVERAL Dainty SALADS FOR REFRESHMENT SERVICE Especially Adaptable for the Informal Bridge Luncheon or Party.

A simple salad called coconut salad is made by mixing three-fourths cup diced apple, three-fourths cup shredded heart celery, one-half cup freshly grated coconut and one tablespoon lemon juice. Beat four tablespoons salad oil with four tablespoons orange juice and season with paprika and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Pour over the coconut mixture. Mix lightly with a fork. Arrange on a bed of crisp lettuce. Garnish with cherries or bits of maraschino jelly.

Party Fruit Salad.
Drain and stone one cup canned white cherries. Add one cup diced peaches, one cup diced pears, one cup sliced red cherries, one cup sliced marshmallows, and one cup diced pineapple. Add one-half cup cream, beaten until stiff, to one cup well-seasoned mayonnaise. Combine with the drained mixed fruit. Let stand in icebox until thoroughly chilled. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Cheese Savory.
Slice one pound American cheese and put in top of double boiler with one small can of tomato soup. Season to taste with salt, pepper and butter. A few drops of Worcestershire sauce may be added. Add one well beaten egg and stir until egg is set. Serve on hot toast.

Kraft-Phenix Menu-ettes

QUICK TURNS TO DISTINCTIVE MENUS.....BY MARYE DAHNKE

When you're stumped for something new (and who isn't once in a while?) here's something that's guaranteed to pull you out of the rut. The Kraft-Phenix Cheeses! Try some of the rich, golden ones that melt like magic... in rarebits, broiled sandwiches, vegetable or fish combinations, soufflés. But they're just a starter. There are the delicious cream cheeses. And the unusual varieties that are the delight of epicures. Here are just a few of the delicious things you can make.

This sandwich gets rousing cheers from men!

Here's a sandwich that holds an undisputed place in a man's affections. Place slices of Kraft Velveeta on bread. Next, a slice of tomato. Then a slice of Bermuda onion. And finally another slice of Velveeta. Put the sandwich into the oven long enough to melt the Velveeta. Have no qualms about serving these at any hour. This cheese food is as digestible as milk itself!

Key for salad as well as sandwiches

Of course you know what a handy and delicious sandwich spread Kraft Key is. Try it in salads, too. Here, for instance, is a very easy and attractive one. On each plate place leaves of endive radiating from the center like spokes of a wheel. In the center put a spoonful of Key. Serve with Kraft French Dressing. That's all you need for the salad, for Key has chopped olives and pickles right in it.

Pimento Cheese Sauce is delicious with eggs

A sauce made with Kraft Pimento Cheese has just the right snappy flavor to go with hard cooked eggs. Blend 3 tablespoons of melted butter and 3 tablespoons of flour. Add 1 1/2 cups of milk, seasonings, and 1/2 lb. of Kraft Pimento Cheese, pressed through a coarse wire strainer. That's enough for six eggs. Arrange two halves of hard cooked eggs on each slice of toast, which you have covered generously with the sauce. Garnish with parsley.

Cream Cheese Loaf for parties!

This recipe is a trump card! Cut a loaf of fresh bread in lengthwise slices. Spread the first slice with Kraft Mayonnaise and sliced tomatoes. Cover with a slice spread with Mayonnaise. Top this second slice with Kraft Key and cover with another slice. Top the third slice with Mayonnaise and lettuce, and cover with a fourth slice spread with Mayonnaise. Frost the loaf with 2 packages of "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese softened with a little milk. It's snowy white and delicious! Place the loaf in the refrigerator for an hour before serving.

Free—a recipe book

We have made a booklet of Kraft Cheese recipes with detachable leaves to fit your filing cabinet. It's yours—free! Write to me for it at The Home Economics Kitchen, Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation, Dept. N., 400 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Kraft Mayonnaisse makes Hollandaise Sauce

Here's an easy way to make Hollandaise, the piquant sauce that's so good with fish and vegetables. Blend 1 tablespoon of flour with 1 tablespoon of melted butter, and add 1/2 cup of milk. Cook in a double boiler until thick. Season highly and add 1 beaten egg yolk. Cook one minute more stirring constantly. Beat in 1 tablespoon of lemon juice and four tablespoons of Kraft Mayonnaisse. Serve hot. You'll love both Kraft Mayonnaisse and Kraft French Dressing. The Mayonnaisse is golden and velvet-smooth... the French Dressing has a good spicy snap to it. And both of them come to you kitchen fresh!

LUNCHEON FOOD WITH A FOREIGN FLAVOR

Intriguing Dishes to Serve at Chinese, Italian and Mexican Luncheons.

A visit to the grocer will prove an inspiration for on his shelves are all the ingredients necessary for a Chinese meal; spaghetti with a real Italian flavor, crisp bread sticks, ready mixed salad dressings or olive oil from sunny Italy, and garlic to flavor it; or if your taste runs to more highly flavored foods, you can have a Mexican menu of chili con carne, or enchiladas, bean puree, rice or tortillas—all of which with the exception of the rice, may be bought ready to serve in cans. Chili powder for flavoring and tobasco sauce which is made from chili peppers is to be found in most stores, and should be used with these things at home.

Chinese Menu.
Take a Chinese menu first. Suppose the hostess wishes to serve chicken chow mein with fried noodles, or chop suey with boiled rice. Chinese tea, small almond cakes, and preserved cumquats, ginger, pineapple or a mixture of these fruits.

The chow mein, excellent in flavor, comes in a can with full directions for serving; the noodles all cooked and requiring only to be reheated, are bought in the same way. Chinese sauce, that is served with both chow mein and chop suey, will be found in bottles, and water chestnuts, bamboo shoots or bean sprouts, are there, too. Rice wafers, Chinese tea and preserved fruits can be generally found without a great deal of difficulty, and the almond cakes are not hard to make at home. A recipe for them will be found at the end of this article.

Chinese bowls, which are not expensive, add much to the meal if they can be used for the chow mein or chop suey; a tablecloth of Chinese linen or a cross stitched luncheon set makes an appropriate table covering; while place cards and prizes should consist of things that at least suggest the Orient. Most towns boast at least one Oriental shop where such things may be found.

Italian Menu.
An Italian luncheon might well start with a vegetable soup, be followed by a big dish of spaghetti, and end with a crisp green salad, toasted crackers and coffee. Spumoni makes an appropriate dessert if there is to be a sweet, and if you can get it; otherwise serve a compote of fruit. Serve bread sticks with the spaghetti and dress the salad at the table with oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Rub the inside of the salad bowl with a cut piece of garlic and be sure the greens are cold and crisp—lettuce, chicory or escarole are all good. A recipe for cooking the spaghetti will be found later. Use an Italian linen cloth or runners and an Italian pottery bowl of flowers for a centerpiece.

Mexican Menu.
The Mexican meal will also start with a thick soup, or concede a point and use a chilled fruit cup of diced pineapple, oranges and Maraschino cherries; follow this with chili con carne, or enchiladas with tomato sauce, or tortillas—all of which conveniently come sticks will be good with these, and a fruit desert.

Chinese almond cakes: Sift together two cups cake flour, two tablespoons cornstarch, one-half cup powdered sugar and one-quarter teaspoon salt. Add three-quarters cup butter or other fat and work it in with the tips of the fingers. Then add two beaten eggs and three or four tablespoons of milk—enough to make a stiff dough. Break off small pieces and shape into little balls about an inch in diameter. Press a blanched almond in the top of each one, place on a greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for about 15 minutes, or until delicately browned. Cool and store in a box or jar. Makes about four dozen little cakes.

Italian spaghetti: Boil one pound of spaghetti in salted water for 15 minutes or until tender. Drain and rinse with hot water. While the spaghetti is cooking make the sauce. Melt one-quarter cup butter, or heat one-quarter cup olive oil and add one-quarter cup minced onion, one green pepper cut in small pieces, and one stalk of celery, cut fine. Cook for five minutes, then add three cups thick, canned tomatoes, or a small can of tomato paste and two cups meat stock. Cover and cook for 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season to taste with salt and pepper and add to the drained spaghetti. Mix with a fork and serve very hot with grated cheese. A minced clove of garlic added to the sauce is a good addition.

PARSLEY IS RICH IN IRON
High Food Value of This Vegetable Should Commend It.
How many housewives use parsley as a garnish on a food simply to add to the dish's attractive appearance? As a matter of fact, this vegetable has high food value. It is very high in iron content, besides other worth-while minerals and vitamins. One tablespoon of finely chopped parsley is equivalent to an enormous serving of spinach, or has the same iron value as a serving of cooked liver. If one especially needs iron in his diet, as most everyone does, he should add the parsley in an edible form, with dishes where it is a pleasant seasoning to make it enjoyable as well as healthful.

Use parsley as a food or seasoning in the place of a garnish, as it has such a worth-while food value in its high per cent of iron.

Savory Macaroni.
To one cup of well seasoned beef broth add one teaspoon extract and one cup tomato water and drain well. Layer of macaroni in a shallow dish, sprinkle with grated Parmesan Swiss cheese and some of the prepared sauce. Put in another layer of macaroni, cheese and sauce continue until all the macaroni sauce have been used. Finish with a layer of macaroni, dot with butter and set in oven for five minutes.

Old Home Jumbo is baked like old-fashioned hearth bread of years ago.

That's why this old-time shaped loaf has the fine, rich hearth-flavor prized by those who know good bread.

Because it's an old-style loaf, oven heat from the sides, bottom and top penetrates every part during baking.

This gives Old Home Jumbo fine, even texture, with every morsel baked to the same uniform goodness. Buy a loaf at your grocer's today and treat your family to bread with the real hearth flavor.

STRAWBERRY GLAZE

Lilies Are Not Glazed, but Strawberries Are.

This year many of the strawberry pastries have a fascinating glaze covering the fruit. This forms an attractive garnish or trim for pies, tarts and gelatine desserts made with strawberries.

One way of making this glaze is to wash and hull one quart berries. Mash berries and add one cup sugar and one-half cup water. Let stand one hour. Drain. There should be one and one-half cups of juice. Heat juice to the boiling point. Pour over one-half package of strawberry flavored gelatin product and stir until the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Chill until it starts to set.

Heap ripe berries in pie or tart that has been baked and cooled. Glaze each berry with the chilled glaze, using enough to completely fill each tart. Chill until glaze is set. Remove from the tart form to paper cups and serve plain or piped with whipped cream.

COOKING VEGETABLES IN PARCHMENT PAPER

One Way to Simplify Work When There Are Only Two Persons to Cook For.

Cooking vegetables in parchment paper is another way of retaining a maximum of nutritive value and of flavor.

Wash and prepare the vegetables as usual, place in a sheet of cooking parchment, sprinkle lightly with salt and add whatever butter is necessary for seasoning. Fold over the paper to seal in the juices and cook in boiling water the usual length of time.

When done, lift the paper from the water, unfold and slip the vegetable and the juice into a hot dish.

In this way two or three different vegetables can be cooked in the same kettle without one affecting the flavor of the other.

Vegetables that are steamed by cooking over boiling water or in their own moisture keep a larger percentage of their mineral and protein value than when cooked in boiling water.

From the standpoint of flavor, all vegetables are not at their best when steamed—this is especially true of the strong juiced ones, such as cabbage, cauliflower, turnips and onions.

With this exception, though, either steam vegetables or cook them in as small amount of water as possible, retaining whatever water is left when done to serve with the vegetables or as a sauce.

By using the heavy waterless cooking pans, vegetables can be satisfactorily cooked in their own moisture.

FOR HUSBAND'S CARD PARTY

This Cheese Rarebit Provides a Savory Tidbit.

Cheese always makes an acceptable snack for the evening card party spread.

The hostess without a maid who desires to serve simple refreshments for husband's card party would make no mistake in serving this rarebit, which fulfills its name: Easy Rarebit.

Melt two tablespoons butter in top of double boiler and add one pound sliced cheese, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon mustard and a few grains pepper. Add one cup rich milk gradually, stirring constantly.

When cheese is melted, add two slightly beaten eggs and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until eggs are set and mixture has thickened.

Pour on rounds of bread, toasted on one side, rarebit being poured over untoasted side. Serve immediately.

An Economical Suggestion.

Second day vegetables may be cut in Julienne style or diced, mar-inated in a French dressing and served as a vegetable salad. Garnish with a colorful vegetable as pimento or green pepper.

UNUSUAL CONSERVES MADE WITH RHUBARB

Delicate, Appetizing, Inexpensive and Exceptionally Easy to Make.

Now that jams and marmalades are returning to the public table, it is reasonable to expect that they will again be the vogue on the family board.

The observant person noticed during the past few months that these sweets were very generally included in the menus of clubs, hotels, restaurants and tearooms. This year it is expected that jams, jellies, preserves and marmalades will be seen more often on the family tables of this country than they have been in the past few years.

In line with this thought, many housewives are planning to put up a supply of these condiments for next winter's use. This is a good time to begin by utilizing these recipes for rhubarb conserves.

English Rhubarb Jam.
One quart finely cut rhubarb, six oranges, and one-half pounds of sugar. Remove the pulp and chop the rinds of the oranges. Place the orange pulp in the preserving pan with the sugar, rhubarb and orange rind and bring slowly to boiling. Skin as it cooks and when the jam stiffens when tested on a plate, it is finished. Cover, seal with paraffin and store in a cool, dry place.

Rhubarb Fig Jam.

Two and one-half pounds rhubarb, one-half pound dried figs, one lemon, two pounds sugar. Cut rhubarb in small pieces and add figs chopped fine, the chopped rind and juice of the lemon and the sugar. Let stand all night. In the morning cook slowly for one hour and turn into glasses. (Nut meats may be added if desired).

Canned Rhubarb.
Select young pink stalks, wash and cut to height of quart jar neck. Pack closely into sterilized jars. Fill to overflowing with cold water (which has been boiled and cooled) adjust rubber and airtight cap. Store in a dark and cool place. When desired, open, pour off water and cook for use exactly like fresh rhubarb.

A Flavorful Appetizer.
Candied ginger, diced and combined with chilled fruits, makes a tasty cocktail.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS SERVED WITH BOILED RICE

This Combination Makes a Fine Basis for a Vegetable Plate.

Choose six green peppers of medium size and remove the tops and seeds. Cook in rapidly boiling water for 15 minutes.

Meantime cut six slices of bacon into bits and fry slowly with two medium-sized onions finely chopped, until they begin to brown. Add two cupfuls of canned tomatoes, half a cupful of bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of celery salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until well thickened. If the tomatoes are very watery more bread crumbs may be required.

Drain the peppers, fill with the mixture and place in a buttered baking dish small enough to hold them upright. Any extra filling may be placed about the base of the peppers.

Sprinkle the tops lightly with crumbs, dot with butter and bake for 20 minutes or until brown in a medium oven.
Serve from the same dish in which they were baked, accompanied by plain boiled rice.

A New Culinary Practice.
When making raised rolls, if you will bake them in a cake pan with a hollow tube center they will have a nice crust instead of the frequent soggy centers.

"PERFECT" KELLOGG FLAVOR!

TOMORROW morning, notice how wonderfully fresh and crisp your bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes tastes. That's because of the famous waxtite inner-seal bag that brings all Kellogg's Cereals oven-fresh to your table!

This special bag is different from other packages. Many foods are wax-paper wrapped—some inside, others outside. But only Kellogg's have a waxtite sealed inner bag. Sealed against moisture and contamination.

Constant improvements insure Kellogg's quality. And that's why it always pays to specify Kellogg's when buying corn flakes. Few other foods, indeed, offer you more in convenience and value.

Many servings from a single package costing but a few cents. Delicious with milk or cream. No trouble to prepare. Fine for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers, late snacks. With a "wonder" flavor that has never been duplicated.

Enjoy Kellogg's Corn Flakes often these warm days. So easy to digest, they help you feel cooler. Add fruits or honey for an extra treat. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FRUIT AND BERRIES MAKE LUSCIOUS PIE

Cherry Pie Vies With Lemon Pie in All Popularity Contests.

Now that the fruit season is with us again, it is well for the home cook to learn how to make nice pie crust as fruit and berry pies are counted the favorite desserts of the masculine population of this country.

To obtain the best results in any type of pastry, a few general rules should be observed.

Do not mix the fat too thoroughly with the flour—the coarser the mixture, the flakier the crust will be.

Add only enough water to hold the dry ingredients together in a lump, so that the mixture may be rolled out to a sheet. Excess water causes the crust to be tough besides involving difficulty in rolling.

Do not use too much flour on the board for rolling. A piece of canvas or a heavy towel spread out and well floured is more satisfactory for rolling the dough than a board of enameled surface. The meshes of the cloth hold just the right amount of flour to keep the dough from sticking. The cloth may be shaken out after each using and folded up for the next time—it does not have to be washed after every pie.

Roll only one crust at a time, using a gentle pressure and rolling from the center out. Lift up the edges of the crust occasionally to see whether it is sticking to the board. If necessary, sprinkle a little flour under the crust.

Fit the crust carefully into the curves of the pan, leaving no air spaces to bulge the crust up during baking. If the crust is to be baked before adding the filling, prick it generously with a fork—this will also help to eliminate "bubbles" in the crust.

Fasten two-crust pies well at the edges by brushing the lower edge with water and pressing the upper edge down with a fork or by folding into scallops with the finger tips. The juice may be further prevented from escaping, particularly in berry pies, by adding flour to the sugar used for sweetening.

The upper crust should always be pricked or slashed occasionally to allow the escape of steam. To prevent soaking of the lower crust, the surface may be sprinkled with flour or brushed with egg white before adding the filling.

LAMB AND RICE CASSEROLE

Tasty Way to Work Over Remnants From Yesterday's Dinner.

Leftover cooked lamb from yesterday's dinner makes a tempting casserole dish when combined with cooked rice.

Season two cups chopped cooked lamb with a few drops onion juice, a few grains pepper, one teaspoon salt and, if desired, a little minced parsley. Add three-eighths cup fine bread crumbs and one slightly beaten egg. Moisten with well-seasoned white stock.

Line a buttered mold with steamed rice. The average medium mold will require about three cups of rice. Fill with the lamb mixture. Cover with about one cup of steamed rice. Cover closely and steam about 45 minutes. Turn out and serve with well seasoned tomato sauce made with lamb stock.

DAINTY BANANA CUSTARD

This Dish Is Especially Nice for Small Boys and Girls.

Scald two cups of milk and add one cup of banana pulp. Run the banana through a coarse strainer, so the banana will be evenly broken. Add one-half cup of sugar and cook for ten minutes, stirring all the time.

Beat two egg yolks and pour a little of the milk mixture over them and then add the egg to the milk. Cook a couple of minutes and remove from the double boiler. After the custard is removed from the fire add one-half teaspoon of vanilla flavoring. Then cover the custard with the two beaten egg whites sweetened with one-fourth cup of sugar. The heat of the custard cooks the egg white sufficiently if it is added just after the custard is poured into a dish.

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Advisable to Make Angel and Sunshine Cakes When Eggs Are Plentiful.

Use canned peaches for the Dutch peach cake suggested for dessert Thursday night. To make it sift two cups flour with one-half cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Rub in one-half cup shortening and when well blended stir in one beaten egg mixed with three-fourths cup milk. The mixture should be a thick batter—if necessary add a little more milk. Spread in a greased shallow pan and cover the top with stewed or canned sliced peaches. Sprinkle with one-fourth cup sugar and a grating of nutmeg and bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—for 35 minutes. Serve warm with a sauce made from the peach juice thickened with a little cornstarch and flavored with lemon juice.

Fish Loaf.
Mix two cups boiled rice, hot or cold, with two cups flaked fish, either fresh cooked or canned, two tablespoons minced parsley, grated rind of one-fourth lemon, one tablespoon lemon juice, two beaten egg yolks, one-half cup milk and salt and pepper to season. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold in last. Mix thoroughly and shape into a loaf in a greased bread pan. Place the pan in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—for 40 to 50 minutes. Remove from the oven and let stand five minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and serve with drawn butter or parsley sauce.

Parsley Sauce.
Mince fresh parsley to make one-third cupful. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two and one-half tablespoons flour and when blended add gradually one and one-fourth cups milk. Stir over a slow fire until thickened and smooth, add the parsley, one teaspoon lemon juice and salt and pepper to season.

Caramel Custard.
Scald four cups milk and add one cup brown sugar. Stir until the sugar is dissolved. Soak three tablespoons gelatin in one-half cup cold milk for 10 minutes. Beat three eggs or five egg yolks until light and add the hot milk gradually. Return to the saucepan and add one-fourth teaspoon salt and cook, stirring constantly for five minutes. Add the soaked gelatin and remove from the fire. Cool, stir in two teaspoons vanilla extract and pour into individual dishes or one large one to chill and harden. Serve with a spoonful of whipped or plain cream.

Angel Cake (Medium Sized).
Measure three-quarter cup cake flour and sift four times. Beat the whites of six eggs until stiff enough to hold their shape, then add gradually three-quarters cup fine granulated sugar mixed with one-half teaspoon cream of tartar and continue beating until all the sugar is added. A wire whisk is the best and most convenient thing to use for this. Fold the sifted flour carefully into the mixture, turning the whisk over and over the flour until it is blended with the other ingredients. Do not stir or beat. Turn into a medium sized, ungreased angel cake pan and bake in a slow oven—325 degrees—for one hour. When done remove from the oven and invert the pan on a wire cooler until the cake is cold.

When cold loosen carefully around the edges with a thin knife. Ice if desired.

Place a piece of marshmallow inside each date. Decorate with pieces of candied cherries, candied ginger or nuts. Wrap each date in a square of waxed paper.

Melba Toast.
Cut bread in very thin slices. Place in upper part of the oven, with as low a fire as possible. If the bread is thin enough and the oven slow enough, the toast will be crisp and curled and a light brown color when done.

TASTY COMBINATIONS FOR FRUIT SALADS

A Fruit Salad Plate Is Suggested for a Hot Weather Home Luncheon.

Modern cookery features combinations of fresh and canned fruits in salads. Fruits are also combined with fresh vegetables. In recipes that call for fruits which are not seasonal, it is perfectly all right to use the canned article.

Oranges add a refreshing juicy element to summer salads. They bring out the flavor of other fruits and give their own delicious flavor element.

Summer fruit combination:

Four or five orange sections; three or four peach slices; three or four pear slices; one-half slice pineapple cut in three or four pieces. Arrange in circle on plate, alternating each slice with a thin crisp slice of cucumber. Serve with cheese dressing.

Ice Cream Service.
Serve ice cream in sherbet cups or tall stemmed glasses (not goblets) and serve whatever fruit desired over the ice cream. It may be canned preserved strawberries, raspberries, hot fudge or maple fudge sauce, canned grated pineapple or maple syrup.

Food Value Appreciated.
The average housewife who is far more food-conscious now than even 15 years ago, is given ample opportunity to profit by the findings of dietitians, chemists and doctors that help strengthen the vitality of the children of today and temper from one half. Fill center of

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts. Edited by Dr. Isaac Goldstein, for the New York Academy of Medicine.

Medical Terms

DR. CHARLES BOLDUAN, director of the Bureau of Health Education of the New York City Department of Health, has recently formed a glossary of current medical and public health terms.

This glossary should prove valuable to all who have occasion to consult medical literature, for it contains the definition of many terms frequently used erroneously. It is astonishing to find how many persons who would be embarrassed by the improper use of technical words in other realms will themselves use medical terms in a grossly erroneous manner.

Contagious, infectious and communicable are three terms which are used interchangeably.

Contagious, Dr. Bolduan maintains, is an unsatisfactory adjective. "It dates from a time when we knew nothing of bacteria and other micro-organisms, and when our conceptions regarding the transmission of communicable diseases were hazy and faulty."

"Contagious diseases were thought to be spread by emanations from the patient. We now prefer to speak of infectious diseases, meaning thereby a disease caused by a living germ or by its poisons."

"Furthermore, we speak of infectious diseases being more or less communicable. Measles, for example, is highly communicable. Leprosy is very slightly so—at least in this part of the country. Tuberculosis is very readily communicable to infants."

"In all of this, moreover, we have fairly clear ideas of the way most communicable diseases are spread. Fresh infected discharges of the mouth, nose, throat, or bowels receive chief consideration. In some diseases, yellow fever, malaria, typhus, etc., insects play an important role in transmission."

"The vague idea of emanations, or of miasmata, ideas connected by the term 'contagious' have been discarded. Some health officers still make use of the term 'contagious diseases' in speaking of smallpox, scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, chickenpox and typhus fever, but generally the term is falling into disfavor."

THE INCREDIBLE YEAR

WHO WROTE
"THE OFFICE WIFE"

CHAPTER FIVE.

THE boat was comfortable and slow. It was before the rush for home. Jack browsed around, finding friends, spending much time in the card rooms, and Hildreth and Montgomery paced the deck or sat in their steamer chairs and talked.

For the first time in his life Montgomery spoke intimately of his dead wife to an outsider. He made Hildreth, listening gravely, see her, her beauty and background, her courage in adventuring overseas, her uncomplaining acceptance of the exile, pioneer life. He showed Hildreth the photograph he always carried, held it in his hands as he talked.

"Now—Julie, I haven't made you see her, really, have I? Brought up like a boy. There isn't a thing she doesn't know about the woods. But she's not a thing beyond them. She's not anything broken . . . I've made a mistake, Hildreth."

"Yes," said Hildreth, "I think you have."

"Is it too late?" he pondered. "You see, when I—die . . ."

He hesitated, and Hildreth looked at him quickly. What was the nature of that recent "upset" he had spoken of? He did look ill.

"When I die," he repeated, firmly, "she'll have a lot of money—and she'll be alone. She'll want to live up there, carry on the work as best she can, spend a little money on books and mail order clothes. But—she mustn't. She's got to have her chance to get out of the woods and into life; to see the world and to marry happily. She won't be able to do so with less love than I've given her. And she's so inexperienced. I dread her meeting the sort of man who'd see her in a well-gilded daze—to whom the money would be the important thing. She's a great comrade on the trail, she's got the woodsman's sense, but she's quick on the trigger. Her instinct might, could say, 'gulf' her in judging character. But I don't know. If she were thrown without guidance into an entirely new life, her values would be bound to get confused, she'd be unsure of everything. I'm—I'm worried about her, Hildreth."

Hildreth said thoughtfully, "There must be some solution."

HE turned in the long steamer chair and looked at her. It was a golden day, and the water rippled blue. It was the stewards to amble about with cups of steaming bouillon. Hildreth was sipping hers, nibbling soda crackers. The salt wind had brought color into her pale cheeks, and her eyes were brilliant under the tight-fitting hat.

"You've no idea," said Montgomery slowly, "how much I want her to know you. You could do so much good—open vistas to her that she doesn't know exist."

Hildreth was becoming a little bored with the unknown Julie. Yet she was conscious of being pleased and moved that this big, simple man should confide in her—should make it so clear that he trusted her judgment.

He went on tentatively: "If you and Jack could get away? . . . And come north to us? I could promise you much . . . but the farmhouse is warm, and we have fires for the woods—in the way of baths and electric lights. And we could find winter sports for you both and some shooting. Would that tempt you?"

"It certainly would," she said warmly—and she meant it—adding on an impulse: "And if you can't come down again so soon, why don't you send Julie for a visit to us? You could join her later."

Montgomery's face was a study in clear happiness. "That would be wonderful," he said.

Hildreth knew some misgivings. "That's a hot idea," remarked Jack, depressed. "Are you pledged as her shopping agent, her social secretary, or her chaperon?"

"Oh, nothing may come of it. And if it does—well, he's been so good to us . . . and he doesn't make me feel under that tedious obligation. I get so tired of the round—being agreeable no matter how I feel. It's different with Dad—he makes me feel as if he were really doing him the biggest kind of favor when we take his places and he pays the bills. If he sends us the girl, we must take her and do our best for her. We owe him so much just because he doesn't even think so."

Jack nodded. "He was thinking of her words, 'tired of the round.' He was tired of it, too. But what else could he do?"

"Sometimes," he announced solemnly, "I wish we had the nerve to cut loose and get away by ourselves."

"Love in a cottage," she mocked him gently. "And you with a dinner-pail going to work?"

"Isn't he silly?" he retorted, rather irritated. "It could get something to do—it only we were free of the gang and didn't have the temptation constantly before us. It's so easy to say, 'Yes, we'll agreed slowly.'"

Advice for the Amateur Gardener

Experts Formulate Rules for Spring Planting in St. Louis

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

THIS is the time of year when the telephone at Shaw's Garden rings continuously. Every possessor or tenant of a foot of earth is feeling the annual spring-time urge to start a garden. They want information not available in horticulture publications as to what and how and when to plant things that will withstand our well-known smoke polluted atmosphere.

Many of the inquirers are those who in previous years have planted flower pots, only to be disappointed when plants purporting to be perennials haven't shown signs of life this year. Though we had a mild winter, too, Shaw's Garden which is known to have tested the effects of our peculiar atmosphere on all manner of growing things alone can be depended upon for this information and the answers are not always encouraging.

If under the best obtainable conditions and with infinite care the Garden has been unable to propagate in beds out of doors many of the plants which make country gardens attractive, there is small use in the amateur city gardener attempting it. The answer to these disappointed ones is that most plants which come up from the same roots year after year in the country, in the city have to be treated as annuals and replanted every year. They don't freeze; the same plants do not freeze in the country, but in the city are so weakened by soot deposit clogging their breathing cells that they cannot survive.

Don't depend upon your delphiniums, columbine, plumbago, coreopsis, hollyhocks or any of the more tender perennials, nor the biennials such as foxglove and sweet-william renewing themselves, but get to work right now if you have not already done so, planting seeds or setting out seedlings.

THE list of plants which may be grown from seeds is unlimited, so there is no reason why you should not in a single season have as gorgeous a garden as your means afford. And if you simply can't be bothered with replanting each year or are determined to leave something for posterity, following is a list of perennials which have been proved harder than others under city conditions: golden rod, sun flower, day lily, native penstemon, physostegia, tradescantia, sedum, veronica, iris, peony, pansy, achilla, gas plant, candytuft, native asters, marguerite, chrysanthemum, lily-of-the-valley, thalictrum, shooting star.

The greatest damage wrought by the smoke and frost combination at the garden is always to the roses, 75 per cent of the hybrids in the permanent rose garden having to be replaced each year. In certain outlying sections of the city where the smoke is not serious roses remain unaffected.

Soil also is affected by the sulphuric acid deposit, but not so deeply as to affect plants grown from bulbs. Certain of these, iris and narcissus and others which are presumed to multiply their roots, if transplanted and new roots separated after they have finished their season's growth can be depended upon to renew themselves. Although in the country tulips are known to be capable of reproducing themselves three successive years, even under most favorable conditions at the garden they seldom reappear in their original glory a second season, so in order to have only the best on display, new bulbs are set out each year.

Iris fanciers will have the opportunity of beholding next week at the garden the most varied collection ever displayed there from which they may make notes and order new specimens.

SHRUBS naturally are harder. Although even they are affected by the poisonous smoke. However, there is quite a long list of shrubs which have been tested and proved to a certain extent smoke-resistant. These produce more dead wood per season than they do outside the smoke zones and must be pruned carefully before or after they have put out blossoms or leaves.

Of large number of shrubs planted by the City Park Department around Municipal Courts and the Public Library, only ligustrum, rhus, lycium and aralia remain. It is to be presumed that if these shrubs will live in those congested areas they can be propagated anywhere. The garden's list of shrubs recommended as more or less reliable under prevailing conditions includes Hercules club, aralia, bladder senna, red dogwood, matrimony vine, smooth sumach, elders. This does not mean that some other familiar shrubs such as lilac, snowball, syringa, weigela, flowering currant, forsythia, rose of Sharon, hydrangea, Japanese quince, Chinese angelica tree cannot be grown.

Grasses also are sensitive to the killing effects of smoke. Permanent bluegrass lawns in the downtown districts are out of the question, say the Shaw's gardeners.

A green lawn in the early spring is the result of annual seeding with red-top, which before the season is over may reseed itself.

Limited also is the variety of trees which can be expected to survive for long our atmospheric condition. Evergreens are particularly sensitive to smoke. A glutinous soot-deposit results in the surfacinate from your scheme all hardwood and slow growing trees. Those which do survive within the smoke zone attained a hardy maturity before the smoke became so prevalent and under present conditions even their days are numbered.

The fastest growing, surest resistant to smoke is said by the Shaw's gardeners to be the allanarthus or tree of heaven, not always popular because of a peculiar odor of its seeds. But it can be depended upon to flourish where no other tree will. Next in order is the Chinese elm, a new tree here, in two varieties, the ulmus pumila being the most reliable.

AERICAN sycamore and soft maple trees are next in order as fast growers and smoke resistors. The ash is a fast grower but not recommended because of its attraction to borers. Lombardy poplar trees are fast growers and can be depended upon for about 10 years. They are especially adaptable to city planting, affording as they do effective border screens without casting too much shade on things growing beneath.

Other trees which appear to thrive in the more favored neighborhoods are the mulberry, varnish, black and honey locust, catalpa and umbrella trees, tulip and Chinese magnolia, hach hackberry, horse chestnut, ginkgo or maidenhair tree, American and European planes, lindens, occasionally elms and black walnut and in rare instances white birch and aspen.

Plant trees early in the fall or spring when they are leafless. Three varieties of hedges are recommended as capable of propagation in the downtown districts, the quickest grower is the California privet though it will freeze back in severe weather. More reliable is the Chinese Amur River privet. Barberry also is recommended for its hardiness.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Dear Little Caterpillars

JOHAN and Peggy went with the Monarch butterfly to a nearby milkweed plant, after the Little Black Clock, whose magic had made the visit possible, had asked the butterfly to be the children's host for awhile.

The Clock said that he would leave them for a little bit, but that he would return.

He had arranged to turn the time slowly forward so as to show how Monarch butterflies lived.

The Monarch butterfly flew along and the children walked as rapidly as they could after him.

On the milkweed plant were some little eggs and, as the Clock was turning the time forward, the eggs soon hatched out into little black and white caterpillars.

"Aren't they dear, perfect dears?" the mother Monarch asked. She didn't even wait for an answer. They saw the little caterpillars nibbling at the leaves of the milkweed plant and as they ate bits of the leaves disappeared.

Now the "dear little caterpillars" as the Monarch mother called them, were spinning silken threads for themselves and they all began to hang down from the plant.

"They know just how to do it," the Monarch mother said proudly. Now each little caterpillar was enclosed in its chrysalis jacket, but as the time was turned forward, the jacket was torn open and slowly came forth the baby Monarch butterflies.

At first they didn't have much strength and hung to the leaves while their legs straightened and wings grew.

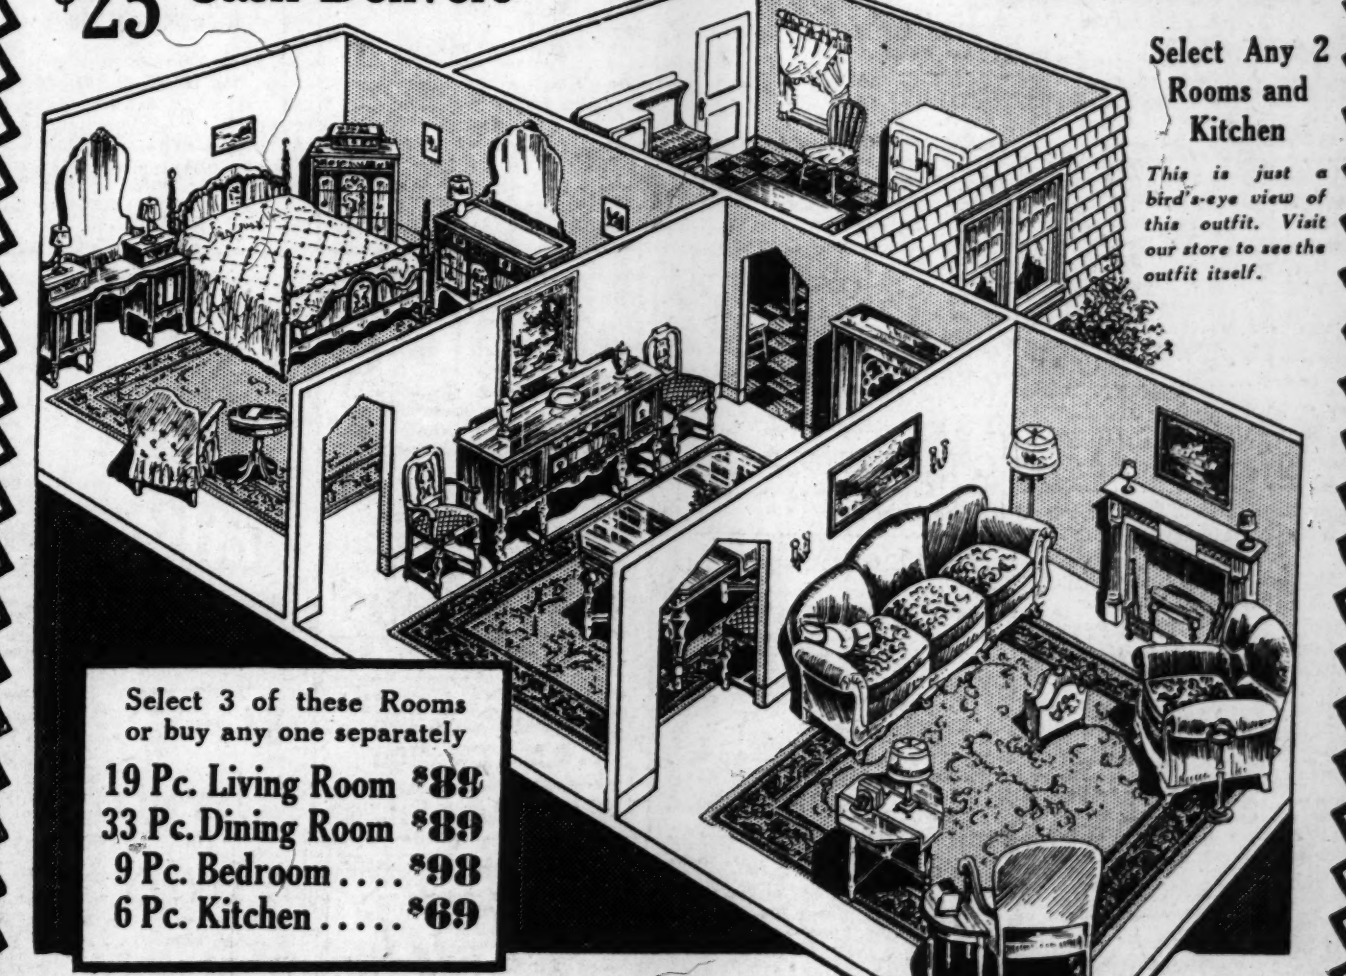

And then John and Peggy saw the little butterflies waiting with wings outstretched until finally they flew off.

"They're going on a long journey now," the Monarch mother said.

Soap combined with bluing will cause rust spots.

POST OFFICE INVESTIGATES COLLAPSE OF DERBY POOL

Phoenix, Ariz., Disabled Veterans' Association Said to Have Got Only $7000 From 500,000 Dollar "Memberships."

20,000 REPORTED SOLD IN ST. LOUIS

Kentucky Sweepstakes Was to Use Half of Funds for Hospital and Half for Paying the Awards.

Postoffice inspectors are investigating the operation and collapse of the Kentucky Derby Sweepstakes, organized by a promoter and sponsored by the Disabled Veterans' Association of Phoenix, Ariz., which is reported to have sold about 20,000 "associate memberships" in St. Louis at $1 each. Inquiry by the Post-Dispatch at Phoenix today disclosed that only $7000 had been received for 7000 membership tickets, whereas the promoters had distributed 200,000 tickets to agents in various parts of the country.

A spokesman for the Arizona association at Phoenix, who declined to permit the use of his name, said over the telephone that the promoters had no idea how many tickets were sold and presumed much of the money had been retained by ticket sellers.

Promoters Get Only $7000. The promoters originally visualized a pool of $500,000, possibly $1,000,000, half to be spent by the Veterans' Association for a hospital and half to be distributed as "awards" to "associate members." With only $7000 cash on hand when the promotion expired May 10, the first award will total about $2000, the second $800, and the third $500.

Promoters, ticket sellers and purchasers of "associate memberships" visualized a first prize of $200,000, and other relatively large sums to persons who held tickets on horses in the Kentucky race.

Plan of Distribution. Under the plan as originally conceived half the proceeds was to be distributed in prizes. Ninety per cent of this was to be distributed—60 per cent to the holder of the ticket on the winning horse, 25 per cent to the holder of the ticket on the second horse, and 15 per cent to the holder of the ticket on the third horse. Five per cent was to be distributed among holders of tickets on eligible horses that did not start, and 5 per cent to holders of tickets on horses that did start but did not finish "in the money."

When the books were closed May 10, the spokesman said, $7000 in cash and as many numbered tickets had been received by the association. Several thousand dollars more had been received by mail but not accepted to avoid violation of the postal regulations. The 7000 eligible tickets, in a barrel, were taken across the Mexican border where the awards were made.

Three St. Louisans are among the holders of tickets on horses in the race. Mrs. August A. Busch of Grant Farm has "Equipoise," A. L. Goldberg, who gave his address as Hotel Jefferson, and E. V. Lassat, who gave his address merely as St. Louis, has "Lad."

50,000 Demands for Receipts. "The town is full of postoffice inspectors and everybody is excited," said the Phoenix spokesman. "We have no idea how many tickets were sold or what became of the money. We have received about 50,000 letters from persons who said they bought tickets and wanted receipts for their money. We intend to distribute all the money we received and forget about the hospital."

The Postoffice inspectors are active because of the possible violation of the postal regulations. In the sale of a lottery ticket is considered by police a violation of Section 4285 of the Revised Statutes which governs bookmakers and others dealing in bets or pool the result of any trial or contest of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast.

The tickets of the Arizona Veterans' sweepstakes bear the legend: "This certificate certifies that the bearer has purchased an associated membership in this association and is entitled to all privileges until June 1, 1931." The reverse side bears the signature, C. M. Andrews, auditor, and an additional explanation: "The allotment of prizes for all associate members will be made May 10, 1931, and distribution made May 15, 1931. No memberships will be recorded that are secured later than April 30, 1931."
